3079. PATENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1870(a) The Natl. Sci. Found. Act of 1950, as amended; 35 USC 200 et seq The Bayh-Dole Act, as amended

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 650

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bayh-Dole Act (34 USC 200 et seq) was amended by Title V of PL 98-620 (98 Stat. 3364, 3368). The Department of Commerce has prepared a Government-wide implementing regulation. The Foundation's Patents regulation (45 CFR 650) conform to it. Because the revision to the NSF Patents regulation will merely echo a Government-wide regulation on which the public will have had an opportunity to comment, the Foundation expects that the revision will be published as a final rule. No additional costs will be imposed on the public as a result of the revision.

Additional Information: The notable changes to be made in the revision of the NSF Patents regulation will be: elimination of restrictions on the licensing of NSF-supported inventions by nonprofit organizations, including universities; modification of the criteria and procedures for determining that "exceptional circumstances" warrant restricting a grantee's right to retain principal patent rights to its employees' NSF-supported inventions; and elimination of the Foundation's authority to waive the Government license and "march-in" rights in awards not subject to the Bayh-Dole Act. All these changes are required by amendments to the Bayh-Dole Act.

3081. ● UNIFORM ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS FOR GRANTS AND COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS TO STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1870(a)

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 602

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This regulation implements a common rule, OMB Circular A-102, "Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Cooperative Agreements to State and Local Governments," has been revised and is being published as a common rule by 23 Federal agencies which award grants to State and local governments. This regulation provides uniform fiscal and administrative requirements for proposals submitted by, and grants and cooperative agreements awarded to, State and local governments. This common rule establishes consistency and uniformity among the various Federal agencies in the management of grants and cooperative agreements to State and local governments. Potential costs are not known. The State and local government entities which receive grants from Federal agencies will benefit from the common rule in pre-award, post-award, and after-the-grant phases by having a consistent uniform set of requirements.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET (OMB)

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

5 CFR Ch. III

Federal Regulations; OMB Directives Included in the Semiannual Agenda of Upcoming Activities AGENCY: Office of Management and Budget.

ACTION: Publication of semiannual agenda.

SUMMARY: The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) is publishing its semiannual agenda of upcoming activities on OMB Circulars and Office of Federal Procurement Policy Letters (OFPP Policy Letters). This action is in accordance with OMB's internal procedures for implementing Executive Order No. 12291. OMB directives are issued under authority derived from several sources including: Subtitles I, II, and V of Title 31, United States Code, Executive Order No. 11541, and other specific authority as cited. The agenda includes actions on issuances which are not regulations, but which are of public interest.

OMB Circulars and OFPP Policy Letters are directives that communicate significant government-wide policy of a continuing nature. For purposes of this agenda, we have included Circulars and Policy Letters which are designed to implement, interpret, or prescribe law or policy, or describe the procedure or practice requirements of an agency. Excluded are directives that outline procedures to be followed in connection with the President's budget and legislative programs, and directives that affect only the internal functions, management, or personnel of Federal agencies.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: See agency person listed for each entry in the agenda, c/o Office of Management and Budget, Washington, DC 20503. On the overall agenda, contact Darrell A. Johnson (202/395-7250) at the above address.

Darrell A. Johnson,

Assistant Director for Administration.

3104. PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM; RECORDKEEPING

Legal Authority: 5 USC 552; 5 USC 4302a; 5 USC 4312; EO 12107; 5 USC 1103; 5 USC 1104; 5 USC 1302; 5 CFR 7.2; EO 9830; 5 USC 4302

CFR Citation: 5 CFR 293

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This section establishes requirements for the Performance Management System on filing and transfer of performance records. The proposed regulation is a technical change that would bring the OPF subpart into conformance with the EPF subpart, indicating that performance ratings of records, and the performance plans on which they are based, may be filed in either the OPF or the EPF.

Abstract: Clarification of the policy and appeal procedures used in developing and implementing employment practices in the recruitment, measurement and selection of individuals for appointments and promotion within the competitive service. The proposed amendments would remove a non-statutory appeal procedure which was created to provide a simple, streamlined administrative review procedure but which has, instead, become a time-consuming, convoluted process. Additionally, the proposed changes would avoid a duplicative enforcement procedure currently subject to review by OPM and MSPB, which is, more properly, within the sole jurisdiction of the EEOC.

Abstract: Proposed regulations to add a new subpart to implement Pub. L. 97-35, August 13, 1981, as amended by Pub.L. 97-346, October 15, 1982, and Pub. L. 98-615, November 8, 1984, which added provisions to Title 5 to govern SES reduction-in-force actions affecting career executives. Regulations are needed to cover certain areas not in the law, such as notification to employees and retention of records, and to implement the provisions in the law dealing with OPM's responsibility to help place career executives identified for reduction in force and with "fallback" rights following a RIF.

Panama Canal Commission

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

PANAMA CANAL COMMISSION (PANAMA)

PANAMA CANAL COMMISSION

35 CFR Ch. I

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Panama Canal Commission.

ACTION: Publication of semiannual agenda of regulations.

SUMMARY: The purpose of this agenda is to report the proposed rulemaking activities of the Panama Canal Commission. This information will allow the public to participate in the rulemaking process.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For information about a particular regulatory project, contact the person listed in the subheading "Agency Contact" for that project. For general information, contact Michael Rhode, Jr., Secretary, Panama Canal Commission, 2000 L Street, NW., Suite 550, Washington, DC 20036-4996, (202) 634-6441 TDD; or John L. Haines, Jr., Esquire, General Counsel, Panama Canal Commission, APO Miami 34011-5000.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulation, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq. require that executive agencies publish in the Federal Register a semiannual notice of regulations which are under development or review or for which action has been completed. The Panama Canal Commission agenda contains certain regulations which are limited in public impact, but they are included to increase public awareness of Commission activities and to allow for increased public participation in the agency's regulatory review and development process. This agenda was prepared under the guidelines established by OMB Bulletin No. 88-1.

Dated: February 25, 1988.

Michael Rhode, Jr.,

Secretary, Panama Canal Commission.

Prerule Stage

3189. TOLLS FOR USE OF CANAL

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: PL 96-70, Sec 1601

CFR Citation: 35 CFR 133, (Revision)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Due to operating cost increases, including inflation, since the last toll rate increase (March 1983), the Panama Canal Commission is currently considering increasing the rates of tolls charged vessels transiting the Canal. An approximate 9% increase may be proposed effective in FY 1989 to achieve the Commission's regulatory requirement to recover from users all costs of operating and maintaining the waterway.

3190. ● TOLLS FOR USE OF CANAL RULES FOR MEASUREMENT OF VESSELS

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: PL 96-70, Sec 1601

CFR Citation: 35 CFR 133.32; 35 CFR 133.34; 35 CFR 135.285(a); 35 CFR 135.352

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The proposed changes correct authority to issue Panama Canal Tonnage Certificate (no financial impact); eliminate the "125 percent of engine room as measured" limitation for ballast rate (negligible negative impact on canal revenues); increase size limitation on manholes to water ballast spaces from 30 to 34 inch diameter, to align our rules with I.M.O's (small negative impact on canal revenues); allow deductible items located in the engine room to be deducted as part of engine room rather than separately, to streamline the method by which propulsion power deduction is determined (negligible impact on canal revenues).

These changes will not impact on most vessels already measured for Panama Canal tonnages. Vessels that qualify for increased deductions may choose to be remeasured.

PEACE CORPS (PEACE)

PEACE CORPS

22 CFR Ch. III

Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulations, Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Peace Corps.

ACTION: Publication of semiannual agenda.

SUMMARY: This agenda announces the regulations the Peace Corps will have under development during the 12-month period from April 1, 1988 through March 31, 1989. The purpose for publishing this agenda is to give notice of any regulatory activity by the Agency in order to allow the public an opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: The public is encouraged to contact the Agency official listed for the particular agenda item. For other information concerning Peace Corps' regulations or this semiannual agenda, contact Robert Martin, Associate General Counsel, Peace Corps, 806 Connecticut Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20526, (202) 254-3114.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In accordance with Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulations, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605) executive agencies are required to publish in the Federal Register semiannual regulatory agendas in April and October of each year.

The regulations being considered by Peace Corps are not "major" rules within the meaning of E.O. 12291 and no Regulatory Impact Analysis is required. Peace Corps has determined that the regulations under consideration will not impose compliance costs or reporting burdens on the public; and that the regulations will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, no Regulatory Analysis is required under 5 U.S.C. 602.

Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

PENSION BENEFIT GUARANTY CORPORATION (PBGC)

PENSION BENEFIT GUARANTY CORPORATION

29 CFR Ch. XXVI

Agenda of Regulations Under Development

AGENCY: Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation.

ACTION: Agenda of regulations.

SUMMARY: This document sets forth the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation's regulatory agenda issued under Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The agenda lists regulations that are currently under development or that PBGC expects to have under development during the next twelve months. The effect of this agenda is to advise the public of PBGC's current and future regulatory activities.

ADDRESS: Office of the General Counsel, Code 22500, Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation, 2020 K Street, NW., Washington, DC 20006.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information on the agenda in general, contact J. Ronald Goldstein, Attorney, Office of the General Counsel, 202-778-8850. For information about a specific regulation project listed on the agenda, contact the person designated in the agenda for that regulation.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the President's Order on Federal Regulation, Executive Order 12291, 46 FR 13193, each agency is required to publish in April and October an agenda of regulations currently or soon to be under development. The Executive Order requires that the agenda also include those currently effective regulations that are being reviewed by the agency pursuant to the Executive Order. The Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 98-354, 5 U.S.C. 601, has a similar agenda requirement. Under that law, the agenda must list any regulation that is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

The Office of Management and Budget has issued guidelines (OMB Bulletin No. 88-1) prescribing the form and content of the regulatory agenda. Under those guidelines, the agenda must list all regulatory activities being conducted or reviewed in the next twelve months and provide certain specified information on each regulation. All of the items on this agenda are current or projected rulemakings.

Executive Director, Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation.

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1412; 29 USC 1414

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2678

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Sections 4232 and 4234 of ERISA prescribe rules governing the transfer of liabilities and assets from a multiemployer plan to a single-employer plan and prohibit certain transfers unless approved by PBGC. The regulation will establish procedures for requesting and criteria for PBGC approval of transfers which require approval and guidelines for satisfying the statutory requirements pertaining to other transfers. The regulation will also establish standards for the PBGC's waiver of a multiemployer plan's contingent liability arising from the transfer of unfunded vested benefits to a single-employer plan.

3207. PLAN RULES FOR REDUCTION OR WAIVER OF COMPLETE WITHDRAWAL LIABILITY

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1387(b)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2647 (Amendment)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Under section 4207(a) of ERISA, the PBGC has issued a regulation (29 CFR Part 2647) providing for the reduction or waiver of an employer's liability for complete withdrawal upon the employer's resumption of participation under the plan from which it withdrew. The statute also requires the PBGC to prescribe procedures and standards under which multiemployer plans may adopt their own rules abating complete withdrawal liability upon an employer's return to the plan (section 4207(b)).

The purpose of letting plans adopt their own abatement rules is obvious: a specific rule adopted by a plan may well work better under the facts and circumstances of that particular plan than the broad rules adopted by the PBGC. This regulation will permit a plan to fashion the rules it needs to encourage the return of withdrawn employers, while at the same time protecting the plan from the loss of withdrawal liability payments without a compensating resumption of contributions to the plan by a formerly withdrawn employer. The PBGC is unable to (cont)

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1341(c)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2642

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: In a notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on December 31, 1986 (51 FR 47342), the PBGC issued its interpretation that ERISA section 4211 does not permit the assessment of withdrawal liability against an employer by a multiemployer plan that had no unfunded vested benefits as of the end of the plan year preceding the employer's withdrawal. This interpretation raises certain questions as to the proper manner of applying the allocation methods prescribed in section 4211(b) and (c)(2) by a plan that at one time was fully funded, but is no longer. The PBGC plans to issue a proposed amendment to its regulation on allocating unfunded vested benefits dealing with this issue.

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1322; 29 USC 1342

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: When the PBGC assumes trusteeship of a terminated pension plan pursuant to sections 4041 and 4042 of ERISA, it pays benefits to participants pursuant to plan provisions and section 4022 of ERISA. This regulation will contain rules and policies relating to the payment of such benefits. The regulation will enable the PBGC to process and administer PBGC-trusteed plans more efficiently with resultant cost savings. It also will reduce costs to the public and the PBGC by providing payment rules, thereby reducing the number of requests for administrative review.

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b); 29 USC 1362 to 1364; 29 USC 1367 to 1368

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2622

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The PBGC's employer liability regulation incorporates by reference the interest rate charged under section 6601 of the Internal Revenue Code as the interest rate charged, or credited, on late payments, or overpayments, of employer liability. The Tax Reform Act of 1986 significantly changed the way in which the section 6601 rate is established and creates two interest rates: one for underpayments and another, lower rate for overpayments. Because of these changes, the PBGC plans to conduct a new rulemaking proceeding to determine whether it should continue to use the section 6601 interest rates under the employer liability regulation or whether it should adopt a new rate(s) for this purpose.

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2675

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Section 4041A of ERISA provides rules with respect to the termination of multiemployer plans and the payment of benefits under those plans. Under section 4041A(f)(2), PBGC is authorized to prescribe rules for the administration of those plans that are appropriate to protect the interests of plan participants and beneficiaries or to prevent unreasonable loss to the insurance system. Under section 4281(b), the plan sponsor of a plan that has terminated by mass withdrawal is required annually to determine the value of the plan's nonforfeitable benefits and assets. If the value of the benefits exceeds the value of the assets, the sponsor must amend the plan to eliminate benefits not eligible for PBGC's guarantee under section 4022A(b), to the extent necessary to insure that the plan assets are sufficient to pay all nonforfeitable benefits. This determination of sufficiency is to be made in accordance with rules prescribed by PBGC. This regulation would establish the rules for administering plans that have terminated by mass withdrawal, including the rules for determining sufficiency in the circumstances described above. 3212. REDUCTION OR WAIVER OF PARTIAL WITHDRAWAL LIABILITY

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1388(e)(3)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2646

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Section 4208 of ERISA provides for the reduction or elimination under certain circumstances of an employer's partial withdrawal liability arising from a 70 percent reduction in contribution base units. That section also authorizes the PBGC to prescribe rules for the reduction or elimination of partial withdrawal liability under other conditions. The regulation will provide for the abatement of partial withdrawal liability arising from the cessation of the obligation to contribute under a collective bargaining agreement or with respect to a facility. Section 4208 also requires the PBGC to issue a regulation under which a multiemployer plan may adopt rules for the reduction or elimination of partial withdrawal liability. This regulation will allow plans to ease the statutory partial withdrawal liability rules where, for example, the rules are harmful to the plan because they discourage an employer from increasing its participation under the plan, or where the statutory rules create administrative burdens which outweigh the protections afforded by the rules.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1386(b)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2649

Abstract: Under section 4206(b) of ERISA, if an employer partially or completely withdraws from a multiemployer plan subsequent to an earlier partial withdrawal from that plan, the employer's liability for the second withdrawal must be reduced by the amount of its liability for the earlier partial withdrawal. The purpose of this credit is to avoid plans double-charging employers for the same unfunded liabilities. Section 4206(b) also requires the PBGC to prescribe regulations adjusting this credit to ensure that the employer's liability for its second withdrawal properly reflects the employer's share of liability with respect to the plan. The need for this adjustment to the credit can be seen from the following example. In a plan that uses the rolling-5 allocation method, an employer's withdrawal liability is based on its last five years' participation in the plan. If an employer's second withdrawal occurs more than five years after its partial withdrawal, the liability for the second withdrawal is based solely on plan participation subsequent to the partial (cont)

Thus, there is no double-charging with respect to the old liabilities and no reason to give the employer a credit against its liability for the second withdrawal. However, without this regulation, the employer would get that credit under the statute. There are many other possible situations in which the employer's credit should similarly be reduced in order to ensure equitable treatment of the withdrawing employer vis-a-vis the other employers still contributing to the plan.

This regulation will result in some shifting of liabilities among employers contributing to a multiemployer plan. An employer that has another withdrawal following a partial withdrawal may incur greater liability for the second withdrawal because of the reduction in the credit for the prior partial withdrawal. However, this increase in liability would reduce the unfunded vested benefits allocable to other employers that withdraw thereafter. In the aggregate, the regulation will impose no new costs.

3214. DETERMINATION OF WITHDRAWAL LIABILITY FOLLOWING A MERGER

Significance: Regulatory Program

PBGC

Final Rule Stage

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1391(f)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2642 (Amendment)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The merger of two multiemployer plans creates a problem as to how the successor plan's unfunded vested benefits are to be allocated in order to determine withdrawal liability for post-merger withdrawals. Frequently, the two plans will have been using different allocation methods prior to the merger. Even if they were using the same method, if they had different plan years, that would create different allocations.

For this reason, section 4211(f) of ERISA requires the PBGC to issue regulations prescribing rules for the post-merger allocation of unfunded vested benefits. The PBGC proposes to establish rules that parallel the statutory allocation methods: i.e., there would be a presumptive allocation method that would apply to plans unless they chose otherwise, and plans would be permitted to adopt certain modifications to this presumptive method without the PBGC's approval and other more significant modifications with the PBGC's approval. Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: This regulation will remove a significant impediment to multiemployer plan mergers by eliminating employers' concern and confusion over how their withdrawal liability would be calculated after a merger. Plan mergers are generally to be encouraged since a larger plan is typically a stronger plan because of its broader contribution base, and because portability of benefits is increased. This regulation will impose no new costs.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1306; 29 USC 1307; PL 100-203, Sec 9331

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2610

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Pension Protection Act substantially altered the rules pertaining to single-employer plan premiums that are paid to the PBGC. Under the Act, there is a flat per capita charge (increased from that under prior law) plus a new variable rate charge tied to the value of a plan's unfunded vested benefits. The new premium rules are effective for plan years beginning after December 31, 1987.

The PBGC's premium payment regulation establishes the procedures, including the due dates, for the payment of premiums. In order to reduce the costs associated with paying the variable rate assessment, the PBGC plans to adjust the premium due dates so that plans can use the data used for preparing Form 5500 and Schedule B in order to compute unfunded vested benefits for premium purposes. The regulation must also be revised to reflect the new premium rates ($16 per participant plus the variable rate amount) and to prescribe rules for determining a plan's unfunded vested benefits. (The calculation of unfunded vested benefits for premium purposes is not the same as for funding purposes.) (CONT)

3216. ● RETIREMENT EQUITY ACT AMENDMENTS - VALUATION OF PLAN BENEFITS

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1341

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2619

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Retirement Equity Act of 1984 ("REA") requires plans to provide certain benefits, prohibits the elimination of benefit options and certain early retirement benefits and retirement- type subsidies, and mandates the range of interest rates that may be used in calculating the amount of a non-consensual lump sum benefit. The Tax Reform Act of 1986 ("TRA '86") slightly modified the interest rate restrictions and extended them to the calculation of all lump sum benefits.

These rules necessitate several amendments to the PBGC's valuation of benefits regulation (29 CFR Part 2619). The major changes will address the rules on determining the form of benefit to be valued on plan termination and the interest rate rules for lump sum payments in standard terminations.

Because the valuation of benefits is an essential part of the plan termination process, the PBGC plans to issue these amendments both as a notice of proposed rulemaking and as an interim final rule at or about the same time it issues the final distress termination and standard termination regulations. PBGC Final Rule Stage

This project reflects the merger of two items carried in previous agendas: Retirement Equity Act Amendments, RIN 1212-AA36, and Valuation of Plan Benefits (lump sum payments in standard terminations), RIN 1212-AA26. Because of delays in the lump sum amendments, the PBGC determined that it would be more efficient to combine those amendments with the valuation amendments included in the REA project. The portion of the REA project dealing with amendments to the PBGC's Guaranteed Benefits and Allocation of Assets regulations (29 CFR Parts 2613 and 2618) has been deferred, because the need for those amendments was reduced by the enactment of the Pension Protection Act.

Abstract: The Single-Employer Pension Plan Amendments Act of 1986 substantially revised ERISA section 4041 dealing with the voluntary termination of single-employer pension plans. Under amended section 4041, a plan may voluntarily terminate only if the termination satisfies the statutory conditions for a standard or distress termination. These rules were further modified by the 1987 Pension Protection Act, which increased the benefits that must be provided, or for which the employer maintaining the plan is liable, upon plan termination. Thus, under current law, unless a plan has sufficient assets to satisfy all plan benefit liabilities, it may voluntarily terminate only in a "distress" termination; i.e., a termination in which the plan sponsor and all members of its controlled group are able to demonstrate either such financial hardship or unduly burdensome pension costs that, as a practical matter, they are unable to continue to maintain the plan. Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT:

The statutory rules and procedures for distress terminations are substantially different from the prior rules and procedures for terminating insufficient plans. Therefore, it is necessary to revise the PBGC's plan termination regulations to reflect these new rules and procedures. This regulation covering distress terminations and a companion rule covering standard terminations (to be codified in Part 2617) will replace the PBGC's principal termination regulations on notices of intent to terminate and termination of sufficient plans (existing Parts 2616 and 2617).

Although the notice of proposed rulemaking for this regulation was issued prior to enactment of the Pension Protection Act, the final rule will reflect the relevant statutory changes from that Act.

Abstract: Under ERISA Section 4041, as amended by the Single-Employer Pension Plan Amendments Act of 1986 and the Pension Protection Act, absent a showing of financial hardship or unduly burdensome pension costs that would satisfy the requirements for a distress termination, a single-employer plan may be voluntarily terminated only if it is sufficient for all benefit liabilities (i.e., all benefits provided under the plan on the termination date, whether or not vested). This is referred to as a "standard" termination. SEPPAA also modified many of the termination rules and procedures that applied under prior law, both to increase the protections afforded plan participants and beneficiaries and to simplify and expedite the PBGC's processing of these sufficient plan terminations. It is, therefore, necessary to promulgate this new regulation implementing the new rules and procedures for standard terminations. This regulation and its companion regulation covering distress terminations (to be codified in Part 2616) will replace the PBGC's principal termination regulations on notices of intent to terminate and termination of sufficient plans (existing Parts 2616 and 2617) (CONT)

Abstract: The Single-Employer Pension Plan Amendments Act of 1986

PBGC

Final Rule Stage

("SEPPAA") and the Pension Protection Act ("PPA") made several changes in Title IV rules and procedures that affect and, in some cases, override portions of several PBGC regulations. For this reason, these regulations - administrative review of agency decisions, benefit reductions in terminated plans, reportable events and employer liability - must be amended to conform them to the current law. For example, because SEPPAA altered the determinations that the PBGC may make with respect to voluntary plan terminations, the list in 29 CFR 2606.1(b) of determinations subject to agency review must be amended.

Similarly, SEPPAA contained, for distress terminations, specific benefit cutback rules. These rules differ somewhat from those set forth in 29 CFR Part 2623 and, therefore, conforming amendments to Part 2623 are required. SEPPAA and the PPA significantly changed the rules on employer liability to the PBGC in distress and involuntary terminations. Now, an employer is liable to the PBGC for the total plan underfunding, (CONT)

Further, the 30 percent of net worth limitation is now relevant only in determining the amount subject to PBGC's statutory lien and the status of PBGC's claim in bankruptcy. Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1391(c)

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2642

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On January 19, 1981, PBGC issued an interim regulation dealing with alternative methods for allocating unfunded vested benefits in multiemployer pension plans. PBGC now plans to re-promulgate that regulation in order to correct ambiguities that have arisen under it, to conform the procedures contained in it to other PBGC regulations, and to reduce the information reporting requirements in the regulation. The regulation will impose no new costs on the public and may reduce costs for plans adopting certain alternative allocation rules by reducing the reporting requirements.

3221. VALUATION OF PLAN BENEFITS IN SINGLE-EMPLOYER PLANS

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302; 29 USC 1341; 29 USC 1344; 29 USC 1362

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2619

Abstract: This rule would amend PBGC's regulation on Valuation of Plan Benefits in Single-Employer Plans, 29 CFR Part 2619. That regulation sets forth the rules for valuing benefits in terminating plans that are covered by the insurance program under ERISA, which valuation is needed to determine if plan assets are sufficient to provide for plan benefits and to properly allocate assets to those benefits. After review of this regulation pursuant to Executive Order 12291, the PBGC is amending the rules for valuing benefits payable as lump sums upon termination. The effect of this amendment is to prescribe a new standard for the interest rates used to value lump sums that are paid in lieu of annuities, and to require that in valuing involuntary lump sums, pre-retirement mortality is to be disregarded. The amendment is needed to protect recipients of lump sum distributions from loss of benefit value resulting from the use of inappropriate valuation methods.

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 29 USC 1302(b)(3); 29 USC 1322; 29 USC 1341; 29 USC 1344

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Part 2613 of the PBGC's regulations defines "nonforfeitable" and "guaranteed" benefits for the purposes of Title IV of ERISA. Part 2618 implements the statutory rules for allocating plan assets to pay benefits upon plan termination. Part 2619 prescribes rules for valuing plan benefits, including rules for determining the form of benefit to be valued. Each of these regulations is effected by the Retirement Equity Act of 1984 ("REA").

REA provides that certain early retirement benefits and retirement-type subsidies and optional benefit forms will be treated as accrued benefits, and that their elimination will be treated as an impermissible reduction in accrued benefits. These amendments will conform PBGC's regulations to the provisions of REA. The amendments will impose no new costs on plans and may alleviate administrative burdens by providing definitive rules.

3223. THE RETIREMENT EQUITY ACT AMENDMENTS: CASH-OUT LIMITATION

CFR Citation: 29 CFR 2613; 29 CFR 2617; 29 CFR 2619

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The PBGC's guaranteed benefits regulation (29 CFR Part 2613) provides that the PBGC will not pay lump sum benefits under insufficient plans unless the value of the benefit is $1,750 or less. Similarly, the plan sufficiency and valuation of benefits regulations (29 CFR Parts 2617 and 2619) permit plan administrators of terminating sufficient plans to pay lump sum benefits without a participant's consent if the value of the benefit is $1,750 or less. This $1,750 limit corresponds to the "cash-out" provisions in ERISA section 204(d) and Internal Revenue Code section 411(b)(7)(B). These provisions were amended by the Retirement Equity Act of 1984 to raise the cash-out limit to $3,500, in recognition of the effects of inflation on the value of small pension benefits. The PBGC believes that the same consideration supports its raising the lump sum limitation in these several regulations.

Additional Information: This amendment had previously been included in RIN 1212-AA36, "Retirement Equity Act Amendments". However, that project is large and complex, and therefore, those amendments will not be issued for some time. The PBGC believes that the interest of plan participants is best served by splitting out this one amendment so that it may be issued more quickly.

Small Business Administration

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (SBA)

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

13 CFR Ch. I

Improving Government Regulations; Semiannual Agenda

AGENCY: Small Business Administration.

ACTION: Publication of the semiannual agenda of regulations under review or development by the Small Business Administration.

SUMMARY: This is SBA's 18th semiannual agenda of regulations. Although not a regulatory Agency, SBA has attempted to draft agendas that met both the criteria and the spirit of the regulatory review process. This agenda is published pursuant to Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., Pub. L. 96-354, effective January 1, 1981.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information on agenda items, the public is encouraged to contact the individual Agency official listed for the particular item.

For information concerning SBA overall Regulatory Review and Development Program or general semiannual agenda questions, contact Martin D. Teckler, Deputy General Counsel, Small Business Administration, 1441 L Street, NW., Washington, DC 20416, 202/653-6644.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The SBA agenda will contain many regulations which are limited in public impact, but they are included to increase public knowledge of all SBA regulatory activities and allow for increased public participation in the review and development process.

Public comments on SBA's previous agendas have been general, and all were positive. None were directed at specific contents, nor were any changes suggested or recommended.

The agenda format has four parts. Part I, Pre-Rulemakings, includes investigations and reviews to be conducted prior to deciding whether or not to propose a rule or rule change. Part II, Proposed Rules, includes rulemaking which will be proposed during the six-month period covered by the agenda. Part III, Final Rules, includes proposed rules which will be finalized during the period covered by the agenda. Part IV, Completed Actions, includes regulations completed or withdrawn, and reviews completed since the preceding agenda.

Publication of this agenda does not impose any binding obligation on SBA with regard to any specific item in the agenda. Additional regulatory action not listed on the agenda is not precluded.

Dated: March 3, 1988.

James Abdnor,

Administrator.

3253. DEFINITION OF SMALL BUSINESS FOR DREDGING

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 15 USC 632(a); 15 USC 634(b)(6)

CFR Citation: 13 CFR 121

Legal Deadline: Judicial, November 3, 1986. This change is in response to an order from the District Court for the District of Columbia which set aside the current dredging size standard ($13.5 million) but left in place the previous size standard ($9.5 million).

Abstract: To clarify for the public and others who use SBA size standards that as of November 3, 1986, the applicable size standard for the dredging industry will be $9.5 million average annual receipts.

TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY

18 CFR Ch. XIII

Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA).

ACTION: Regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: As a nonregulatory agency, TVA originates very few regulations. However, TVA has two regulations under development and has published final rules with regard to four other regulations. TVA has also published a notice of intent with regard to a seventh regulation. TVA is therefore publishing a regulatory agenda in voluntary compliance with Executive Order No. 12291.

3309. PROTECTION OF ARCHAEOLOGICAL RESOURCES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 470aa to 470ll

CFR Citation: 18 CFR 1312

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The planned regulations will implement provisions of the Archaeological Resources Protection Act of 1979 by providing protection of archaeological resources on public lands in TVA custody and control. TVA will seek to protect such resources through permits authorizing excavation or removal of resources, through civil penalties for unauthorized excavation or removal, through preservation of archaeological resource collections and data, and through assuring confidentiality of information about resources when disclosure would threaten the resources. The planned regulations will supplement existing uniform regulations by assigning specific responsibilities within TVA.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 831 to 831dd; 31 USC 9701

CFR Citation: 18 CFR 1310.2(c); 18 CFR 1310.3(d)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Hunters at the Tennessee Valley Authority's (TVA) Land Between The Lakes (LBL) are required to hold a State hunting license for the State in which they are hunting (Kentucky or Tennessee) and a hunter use permit from TVA for which TVA charges a fee. Because of the large number of people desiring to hunt turkey at LBL, TVA has decided to limit participation in the turkey hunts during peak use days of the hunting season by random selection of applicants for special quota turkey hunt permits. The $2 application fee for LBL quota turkey hunt permits will recover administrative costs associated with processing forms, conducting a drawing, and notifying applicants of rejection or selection.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION (VA)

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

38 CFR Ch. I

Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Veterans Administration.

ACTION: Publication of agenda of regulations.

SUMMARY: This agenda announces the regulations that the Veterans Administration will have under review, development, or revision during the 12-month period from April 1988 to April 1989. The purpose in publishing this Agency's regulatory development activities is to allow all interested persons the opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process.

ADDRESSES: Interested persons are invited to comment on the regulations listed in the agenda by contacting the individual agency contact listed for each regulation, or by writing to: Paperwork Management and Regulations Service (731), Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20420.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: 38 CFR: M'Liz McLendon, (202) 233-3770; 48 CFR, Chapter 8: Sunny Huff, (202) 233-4240.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulation, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354) require that executive agencies publish in the Federal Register in April and October of each year an agenda of regulations under development and review.

The Veterans Administration has no regulations considered major under the terms of Executive Order 12291; however, all of this Agency's proposed rules and current rules under review, except those considered to be internal agency policy management or routine regulations, have been listed in accordance with section 5(a) of the Executive Order.

This agenda incorporates those categories of information required pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 602(a) and 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

This agenda has been prepared in accordance with OMB Bulletin 88-1.

Dated: February 25, 1988.
By direction of the Administrator.
David A. Cox,
Associate Deputy Administrator for Management.

Proposed Rule Stage

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY

3316. COMMUNITY RESIDENTIAL CARE

Legal Authority: 38 USC 630

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 17.51h to 17.51q

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: These regulations will clarify the legal status of the Community Residential Care program, setting standards and criteria for health and safety, facility resources, guidelines for costs of care, conditions under which the agency may cease referrals to non-complying facilities.

3317. DISPOSITION OF VETERAN'S PERSONAL FUNDS AND EFFECTS ON FACILITY UPON DEATH, OR DISCHARGE, OR UNAUTHORIZED ABSENCE, AND OF FUNDS AND EFFECTS FOUND ON FACILITY

Legal Authority: 38 USC 210c

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 12.0 to 12.24

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Section 208 of Public Law 94-581 provides that unclaimed property or funds and effects left by a dependent or survivor of a veteran receiving medical care at a VA facility as a CHAMPVA beneficiary will be disposed of in the same or similar manner as such property left by a veteran. Also, estates of dependents or survivors of a veteran who dies intestate and without legal heirs while a patient in any VA facility or any hospital, while being furnished care or treatment therein by the VA will escheat to the U.S. Government. Some of these regulations have not been updated since 1948, therefore, editorial changes will be made which will not affect policy.

3318. CONFIDENTIAL QUALITY ASSURANCE PROGRAM RECORDS AND DOCUMENTS

Legal Authority: 38 USC 3305; 38 USC 4151; 38 USC 4152

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 17.500 to 17.540

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Final regulations implementing 38 USC 3305 were made effective Oct. 22, 1982. Those regulations govern the VA's QA (quality assurance) program activities and records and documents which are made confidential and privileged. Sec. 3305 prohibits the VA from designating any QA program activity, for the purpose of confidentiality, unless such activity has been specified in regulation. PL 99-166 amends 38 USC 4151 and 4152 to require that QA program activities include an evaluation of the quality of surgical care in DM&S, as evidenced by outcome measures of mortality and morbidity; a report to Congress indicating deficiencies in the quality of care is required. 38 USC 3305 was amended to clarify that aggregate statistical data is not to be made confidential provided individuals are not identified. The existing regulations do not include a description of the VA Medical District Initiated Peer Review Organization (MEDIPRO) program which is an integral element of the quality assurance program. No alternatives are being considered. There are no potential costs to the action. The benefits would be in the form of programmatic improvements.

3319. VETERANS ADMINISTRATION HEALTH PROFESSIONAL SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: 38 USC 4141 to 4146

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 17.600

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Current regulations set forth requirements for awarding scholarships to students receiving academic training in the disciplines of medicine, osteopathy, and nursing, and if needed by the VA, students in other specified health care disciplines. Regulations are being amended to include requirements for awarding scholarships to students in disciplines currently specified as well as to students in all title 38 health care disciplines. Proposed regulations also revise the method for determining length of service obligation for part-time student participants.

3320. CONTRACT MEDICAL CARE

Significance: Regulatory Program

Legal Authority: PL 99-576

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 17.50b; 38 CFR 17.87

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The VA and the Department of Health and Human Services will be proposing to amend applicable regulations to permit the VA to pay for authorized or private hospital care in amounts based on the rates allowed by Medicare under the prospective payment system. This step will help ensure that payments made by the VA are consistent with those made by the largest Federal health care program for similar services in the community.

Legal Authority: 38 USC 1901; 38 USC 1902; 38 USC 1903; 38 USC 617(b)

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 3.807; 38 CFR 3.808; 38 CFR 17.115d; 38 CFR 17.119

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This proposal would amend the VA adjudication and medical regulations concerning the automobile allowance and adaptive equipment eligibility for certain severely disabled individuals. These amendments are necessary to implement provisions of law and to properly divide regulatory responsibility for these programs consistent with agency organizational and functional alignments. The effect of these amendments will be to extend automobile adaptive equipment eligibility for certain severely disabled persons, more clearly define program responsibility, and more accurately describe prerequisites for obtaining devices for assisting in overcoming the handicap of deafness (including telecaptioning television decoders).

Legal Authority: 38 USC 5031 to 5037

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 17.177; 38 CFR 17.171, App A

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The existing regulation contains construction standards which need updating. Construction standards in 38 CFR 17.177 have not been revised in 20 years and contain obsolete information. Construction standards are being revised to place more emphasis on the use of State and local codes and regulations. Also, the veteran population in 38 CFR 17.171 Appendix A needs updating to reflect the current veteran population.

3329. PROVIDING AN INITIAL EVALUATION FOR A VETERAN NOT RESIDING IN A STATE

Legal Authority: 38 USC 111; 38 USC 1506

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 21.100; 38 CFR 21.376

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: An initial evaluation is provided each veteran requesting assistance under the vocational rehabilitation program. The purpose of the initial evaluation is to determine eligibility and entitlement to vocational rehabilitation and plan a program of vocational rehabilitation for eligible veterans. The initial evaluation is provided by VA counseling psychologists in the United States. Since interpersonal discussion is the essence of counseling, providing an initial evaluation to a veteran residing overseas by a VA counselor located in this country poses logistical and other problems. We are proposing that current regulations be amended to allow for greater flexibility in providing initial evaluations to veterans not residing in a state, including those veterans residing overseas. The alternatives to the present system include, but are not limited to contracting with qualified counseling staff located in the area in which the veteran resides, to conduct a part of the evaluation. All decisions as to eligibility for services would continue to be made by VA staff.

Abstract: The VA is proposing to rescind several regulations. These regulations concern the implementation of Title VI, Civil Rights Act of 1964 in the education programs which the VA administers. The regulations either conflict with or repeat unnecessarily other regulations which deal with the implementation of that Act. Rescinding these regulations will eliminate any confusion in the public's perception of the way the VA is implementing this Act.

Abstract: The program of independent living services has been extended through FY 89. The current rules governing this program are amended to incorporate the statutory extension of the program, and make other changes to simplify and improve program administration. These proposed changes reflect, in part, reductions in reporting requirements previously required under the law.

Abstract: A number of regulatory changes will be proposed for the VA manufactured home loan program. VA would conform to HUD's practices on certifications, invoicing and volume rebates. Lenders would be permitted to file claims upon receipt of VA's resale price and thereafter retain the profit or loss which results from subsequent sale of the home. Broader insurance coverage would be required to cover missing items at repossession. Actual freight costs would be allowed in the invoice, and the amounts and items which could be included in the loan would be revised.

Abstract: Under current provisions, use of the Vocational Rehabilitation Panel is required in certain instances. The role of the Panel is to assist in helping seriously disabled veterans successfully pursue a rehabilitation program. The requirement for consultation was a sound policy when the vocational rehabilitation program was substantially revised and broadened in 1980. As staff have gained experience with the new policies which resulted from the revision of the rehabilitation program in 1980, the need for consultation in every case has decreased. Current field experience indicates that placing use of the Panel on a discretionary basis is in the interest of the veteran and the government.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Regulations will be amended to implement the new requirements for payment of claims. Under the new formulas, VA will exclude from theguaranty claim payment the interest which accrues during periods of forbearance granted at VA's request, and when the veteran files for bankruptcy. As a result, we expect that a number of cases which would result in the lender being required to dispose of the property will instead result in VA acquiring the property and paying a smaller claim. The adjustment in a VA-requested forbearance or bankruptcy situation will only be made if doing so will result in VA offering to acquire the property when the property would otherwise not be acquired by the VA. In cases where VA is at fault for the delay in foreclosure, for example, a failure to provide bidding instructions in a timely manner, VA will also exclude from the calculation as to whether or not VA will acquire the property interest which accrues during the period of delay, but will allow such interest in the computation of the guaranty claim.

Legal Authority: 20 USC 1681 et seq; 38 USC 210(a); EO 12250; EO 12067

Abstract: To establish standards and procedures for enforcing Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 in educational programs and activities receiving Federal financial assistance from the VA. Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex. There are no alternatives to the issuance of the regulations. Participants, potential participants and the public in general will benefit from Federally assisted programs provided free from prohibited discrimination based on sex.

This originally appeared as a proposed rule in the Federal Register of April 25, 1979 (44 FR 24320). Because of the extended time frame due to internal agency consultation with the Department of Justice, the VA is planning to repropose these regulations.

Abstract: To incorporate a reference to the Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards (UFAS) and update the list of Federal financial assistance programs administered by the VA. The existing regulations require that new construction and alteration of facilities be made in an accessible manner. The regulations provide that new construction or alteration of facilities in conformance with the American National Standard Specifications for Making Building and Facilities Accessible to, and Usable by, the Physically Handicapped (ANSI A117.1-1961 (B 1971)) shall constitute compliance with the accessibility requirements for new construction and alteration of facilities. The proposed revision will replace the current standard with the UFAS, published under the Architectural Barriers Act of 1968. Because some facilities subject to the accessibility requirements of section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 are also subject to the accessibility requirements of the Architectural Barriers Act, this proposal would eliminate any potential conflict between standards enforced under the two statutes.

Abstract: The Veterans' Benefits Improvement and Health-Care Authorization Act of 1986, Pub. L. 99-576, Sec. 223, Parking Facilities, amends 38 U.S.C. 5009, and provides for the establishment and collection of parking fees at certain VA medical facilities, with the deposit of fees collected into a Revolving Fund. The law provides that fees shall not be charged for the accommodation of any vehicle used to transport, to or from a medical facility a veteran or eligible person seeking examination or treatment, or, a volunteer worker in connection with such worker performing services for the benefit of veterans or eligible persons receiving care at a medical facility. The proposed regulation will provide definitions to be used in implementing the law, including a definition of the term "volunteer worker;" provide for the terms and conditions under which such parking will be provided; and establish a methodology for determining reasonable parking charges to be established by the Administrator at affected medical facilities.

Abstract: Public Law 97-253, the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1982 (38 U.S.C. 1829) establishes that a funding fee will be collected on VA loans but the law does not establish any time limits within which it must be paid to the VA. Current VA Loan Guaranty procedures allow lenders up to 60 days from the loan closing date to remit loan funding fees and this delay in their collection and deposit has resulted in a significant amount of potential interest lost to the Federal government. The proposed regulation would require lenders to submit the fees to the VA within a 15 day period from the loan closing date and would implement penalty charges and interest assessments on delinquent submissions. Adoption of this regulation should improve collection timeliness and result in the collection of the interest income that is currently being lost as well as income from interest and penalty charges.

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: 38 CFR 13.70 defines the conditions under which the Veterans Services Officer may recommend an apportionment of benefits to dependents. The proposed amendment will clarify these conditions. The amendment will also remove a reference to mental illness as the sole criteria for a rating of incompetency.

38 CFR 13.71 is to be amended to make clear that the signing of an institutional award agreement does not waive an institution's right to claim payments under 38 USC 641. This action is the result of an unpublished General Counsel opinion.

38 CFR 13.74 is based on the provisions of 38 USC Sec. 3203(b) (1)(A); however, where the law refers to more than one type of institutional care, the regulation refers only to instances of hospitalization. This would seem to preclude application of the regulation when veterans are in State run nursing homes or other institutions operated by the United States or a political subdivision. The VA, therefore, proposes to correct this defect by substituting the terms "institution" and "institutionalization" where appropriate.

Abstract: OMB Circular A-129 requires agencies managing Federal credit programs to obtain credit reports for all new applicants, when refinancing, and when loans are rescheduled in order to verify the information presented in the application. The circular further provides that rescheduling or reamortization shall be permitted only when it is in the best interest of the Government and where the agency has determined that recovery of all or a portion of the amount owed is reasonably assured. Credit reports must also be required in connection with claims on defaulted guaranteed loans to facilitate agency determinations of the next collection steps to be pursued. These revisions will enable VA to better determine whether a proposed loan reamortization is in the best interest of the government and will facilitate improvements in debt collection practices.

Abstract: The VA reviews all cases in which findings of infeasibility for vocational rehabilitation or termination of rehabilitation programs is being considered for seriously disabled veterans. These reviews are currently conducted by the Vocational Rehabilitation Panel, a multidisciplinary advisory group. The Panel forwards its recommendations to the counseling psychologist who may accept or reject these recommendations. The VA proposes to reassign this review responsibility to the Vocational Rehabilitation and Counseling Officer, the counseling psychologist's immediate supervisor. Program experience indicates that this change will improve program administration and maintain quality of service for seriously disabled veterans.

Legal Authority: 38 USC 3012; 38 USC 3013

Abstract: The law provides that the VA will not create an overpayment against the account of a veteran or eligible person if the overpayment is created as a result of an erroneous award of benefits based solely upon administrative error or error in judgment. Increasingly, users of the regulations have relieved veterans of overpayments when the overpayments resulted from administrative errors by third parties such as school officials rather than from such errors in the award of benefits by the VA. This is contrary to the way in which the law has been implemented for several decades. Accordingly, the VA is amending the regulation which implements this provision of law for the education programs which the VA administers.

Abstract: The law requires that the VA not pay a veteran for a course from which he or she withdraws without mitigating circumstances. When he or she withdraws with mitigating circumstances, the veteran is paid through the date of withdrawal. In the course of administering the various veterans' education programs the VA has established a policy of considering the circumstances surrounding a withdrawal during a drop-add period to have been mitigating. The VA is considering stating this policy explicitly in the appropriate regulations.

3389. STANDARDS IMPLEMENTING THE PROGRAM FRAUD CIVIL REMEDIES ACT

Legal Authority: PL 99-509 6101-6104, 100 Stat. 1874

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 42

Legal Deadline: Statutory, April 21, 1987.

Abstract: These regulations would implement the Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act, which the Veterans Administration must promulgate by April 21, 1987. The regulations would permit the VA to bring administrative proceedings against persons who knowingly make, present, or submit false claims or statements against the Agency under $150,000 in value. The VA could, under the regulations, recover up to twice the amount of the false claims or statements plus impose a civil penalty or up to $5,000 for each separate false claim. The regulations would proscribe specific procedures when the VA receives allegations of a false claim: an investigation by the VA Inspector General, a review of the investigation by the General Counsel or designee, referral to the Attorney General, and action by the reviewing official if approved by the Attorney General. The person found liable could request a hearing before an Administrative Law Judge with all the due process protections under the Administrative Procedure Act. The person could appeal to the VA Administrator and then to the U.S. District Court. All penalties could be set off (contd)

3390. NONPROCUREMENT DEBARMENT AND SUSPENSION

Legal Authority: EO 12549; 38 USC 210

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 44.100 to 44.505

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: There has been a system in place for governmentwide debarment and suspension of contractors (procurement) that defraud the Federal government or otherwise fail to meet their contractual obligations. No similar system exists for grantees or other entities that participate in government programs. The VA is participating in a governmentwide implementation of EO 12549 by issuing regulations on Nonprocurement Debarment and Suspension, consistent with OMB guidelines published on February 21, 1986 (51 FR 6372).

3391. ● UNIFORM RELOCATION ASSISTANCE ACT FOR REAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION AND FEDERALLY ASSISTED PROGRAMS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 4601; PL 100-17

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 25

Legal Deadline: Statutory, April 2, 1989.

Abstract: The Uniform Relocation Assistance Act Amendments of 1987, established a governmentwide single rule to be published at a single location in the Code of Federal Regulations. The VA is one of 17 Federal agencies that has its own rule currently located in 38 CFR Part 25. The VA is taking part in the common rule to provide for the single rule goal. On December 17, 1987, an interim final rule was published to provide a transition from the existing governmentwide rule and to provide a means for Federal programs to implement the explicit, nondiscretionary provisions of the 1987 amendments.

3392. RELEASE OF VA LISTS OF NAMES AND ADDRESSES AND PENALTY PROCEDURES FOR UNAUTHORIZED USE

Legal Authority: 38 USC 3301(f)

CFR Citation: 38 CFR 1.519

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The VA is amending the existing regulations concerning VA lists of names and addresses and is also proposing administrative procedures to use when these lists are used for purposes not authorized by law. This action results from the need to amend the regulations to reflect current procedures, organizational changes, and concern expressed by veterans and some service organizations regarding unsolicited mail. The proposed regulatory amendments will allow the VA to enforce its statutory duty to protect the privacy of information concerning veterans and their dependents, establish procedures to suspend recipients who misuse VA name and address lists of veterans/ dependents, and give advance notice to recipients of what constitutes an authorized/unauthorized use of veterans/ dependents names and address lists, thereby protecting the due process rights of any recipient before penalties are enforced.

Abstract: The Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act of 1987 contains provisions which extend the deadline for a veteran to apply for training under the Veterans' Job Training Act, and which extend the deadline for beginning the job training program to June 30, 1988. The regulation which states these two deadlines should be amended to reflect these new provisions of law.

Abstract: There are several regulations dealing with approval and withdrawal of approval of training programs under the Veterans Job Training Act. These have provided that only the Director of the VA's Vocational Rehabilitation and Education Service may review a decision concerning approval or withdrawal of approval made by the Director of a VA field station. Such a decision made by the Director of the Vocational Rehabilitation and Education Service could only be reviewed by the Deputy Chief Benefits Director for Program Management. Some employers have sought additional administrative review of decisions not to approve training programs. Some have also sought review of decisions concerning payments made to them under the Act. The appropriate regulations are amended to provide employers with the same case review as that provided to veterans, namely, appeal to the Board of Veterans Appeals.

Semiannual Agenda

AGENCIES: Department of Defense (DOD), General Services Administration (GSA), and National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

ACTION: Semiannual agenda.

SUMMARY: This agenda provides summary descriptions of regulations being developed by the Civilian Agency Acquisition Council and the Defense Acquisition Regulatory Council, in compliance with Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulation. This agenda is being published to allow interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process.

The FAR Secretariat has attempted to list all regulations pending at the time of publication, except for minor and routine or repetitive actions, however, unanticipated requirements may result in the issuance of regulations that are not included in this agenda. There is no legal significance to the omission of an item from this listing. Also, the dates shown for the steps of each action are estimated and are not commitments to act on or by the dates shown.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Margaret A. Willis, FAR Secretariat, (202) 523-4755.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: DOD, GSA, and NASA, under their several statutory authorities, jointly issue and maintain the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and prescribe the FAR system. Revisions to the FAR are made through periodic issuance of Federal Acquisition Circulars (FAC's). None of the regulations listed in this agenda are considered major under Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulation.

Dated: March 8, 1988.

Harry S. Rosinski,

Acting Director, Office of Federal Acquisition and Regulatory Policy.

Abstract: (1) Implement Sec. 1213 of Pub. L. 98-525 and Sec. 201 of Pub. L. 98-577 by (a) requiring that the contracting officer, prior to contracting, review the acquisition history of the supplies or services and the description of the supplies, and (b) specifying new requirements applicable to planning for the solicitation of a major system production contract; (2) Implement Sec. 1245 of Pub. L. 98-525 and Sec. 501 of Pub. L. 98-577 by specifying that offerors/contractors (a) are required to distribute costs within contracts on a basis that ensures that unit prices of supplies are in proportion to the item's base cost, (b) may be required to identify supplies that they will not manufacture or to which they will not contribute significant value, and (c) are required to flow the requirement down to subcontractors; (3) Implement Sec. 1216 of Pub. L. 98-525 and Sec. 204 of Pub. L. 98-577 by requiring offerors/contractors in certain acquisitions to certify that the prices offered for those items of supply that the contractor offers for sale to the public are no higher than any lower price charged to any other customer during the preceding 60 days, or submit a written justification for any (cont)

Commodity Futures Trading Commission

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION (CFTC)

COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION

17 CFR Ch. I

Regulatory Flexibility Agenda

AGENCY: Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

ACTION: Publication of regulatory flexibility agenda.

SUMMARY: The Commodity Futures Trading Commission, in accordance with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, is publishing a semiannual agenda of significant rules which the Commission expects to propose or promulgate over the next year. The Commission welcomes comments from small entities and others on the agenda.

ADDRESS: Comments should be sent to: Commodity Futures Trading Commission, 2033 K Street, NW., Washington, DC 20581 (202) 254-7360.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq. ("RFA"), sets forth a number of requirements for agency rulemaking. Among other things, the RFA requires that:

(a) During the months of October and April of each year, each agency shall publish in the Federal Register a regulatory flexibility agenda which shall contain:

(1) A brief description of the subject area of any rule which the agency expects to propose or promulgate which is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities;

(2) A summary of the nature of any such rule under consideration for each subject area listed in the agenda pursuant to paragraph (1), the objectives and legal basis for the issuance of the rule, and an approximate schedule for completing action on any rule for which the agency has issued a general notice of proposed rulemaking; and

(3) The name and telephone number of an agency official knowledgeable concerning the items listed in paragraph (1).

5 U.S.C. 602(a). Accordingly, the Commission has prepared an agenda of significant rules which it presently expects may be considered during the course of the next year, irrespective of their potential impact on small entities.[1] In addition, the agenda lists rulemaking actions which have been completed since the October 1987 agenda was prepared.

The Commission's agenda represents its best estimate of significant rules which will be considered over the next twelve months.[2] In this regard, section 602(d) of the RFA, 5 U.S.C. 602(d), provides: "Nothing in [section 602] precludes an agency from considering or acting on any matter not included in a regulatory flexibility agenda or requires an agency to consider or act on any matter listed in such agenda."

The Commission is publishing its April 1988 Regulatory Flexibility Agenda as part of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations. The Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations is coordinated by the Office of Management and Budget pursuant to Executive Order 12291. While participation by executive agencies in the Agenda is mandatory, independent agencies, such as the Commission, participate in the Unified Agenda on a voluntary basis.

The Commission's April 1988 Regulatory Flexibility Agenda is set forth below.

Issued in Washington, DC on February 25, 1988, by the Commission.

Jean A. Webb,

Secretary of the Commission.

[1] The Commission has published its definition of small entity to be used by the Commission in connection with rulemaking proceedings. 47 FR 18618 (April 30, 1982). Pursuant to those definitions, the Commission is not required to list many of the agenda items contained in this regulatory flexibility agenda. See 5 U.S.C. 602(a)(1). Moreover, the Commission has previously certified, pursuant to section 605 of the RFA, 5 U.S.C. 605, that certain items contained in this agenda will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, listing of an event in this regulatory flexibility agenda should not, in any event, be taken as a determination that a rule, when proposed or promulgated, will in fact require a regulatory flexibility analysis. However, the Commission hopes that the publication of an agenda which includes significant rules, regardless of their potential impact on small entities, may serve the public generally by providing an early and meaningful opportunity to participate in and comment on the formulation of new or revised regulations.

[2] In addition to publishing the regulatory flexibility agenda, the Commission also makes available to the public, on a monthly basis, a calendar listing rules that the Commission intends to consider that month.

3494. ● REGULATION OF HYBRID AND RELATED INSTRUMENTS

Legal Authority: 17 USC 2; 17 USC 6c; 17 USC 12a

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 34

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Commodity Futures Trading Commission staff has received inquiries concerning the applicability of the Commodity Exchange Act and Commission regulations to instruments that appear to possess, in varying combinations, characteristics of forward contracts, futures contracts, option contracts, debt instruments, bank deposits, and other interests. The Commission is seeking comments concerning a proposed regulatory framework that would clarify the status of such instruments and permit, by exemption and subject to certain conditions, specified hybrid option instruments to be traded other than on a designated contract market. The Commission is also seeking comments concerning a proposed no-action position with respect to certain commercial commodity contracts.

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 1; 17 CFR 3; 17 CFR 32

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Congress has directed the Commission to issue regulations permitting grantors and futures commission merchants to grant, offer and sell so-called "dealer options" on certain physical commodities subject to certain conditions specified by statute and such other uniform and reasonable requirements as the Commission may prescribe. At present, the only persons who may lawfully grant dealer options are United States domiciles who, on May 1, 1978, were in the business of buying, selling, producing or otherwise using that commodity. The Commission has reproposed rules, principally concerning registration of dealer option grantors, requirements for the segregation of customer funds, disclosure to customers and prospective customers, and minimum financial requirements. The Commission intends to re-evaluate the proposed rules in light of regulatory changes that have occurred since 1980.

in its entirety by the deposit of new funds. The second amendment is an enhancement of the financial early warning system which requires an FCM to notify its designated self-regulatory organization and the Commission immediately when it determines that an account it is carrying is undermargined by an amount which exceeds its adjusted net capital. The Commission also reproposed a rule to clarify the requirements for and treatment of a guaranteed account.

Abstract: The Commission has statutory authority to review the actions of registered futures associations such as the National Futures Association. Such actions include registration decisions, membership decisions and decisions in disciplinary actions. The Commission currently reviews registration decisions by the National Futures Association pursuant to Subpart F of 17 CFR Part 3. Section 107 of the Futures Trading Act of 1986 mandates that the Commission develop regulations relating to notice of membership decisions and decisions in disciplinary actions made by registered futures associations and to expedited consideration by the Commission of a motion to stay the effect of a decision by a registered futures association pending the Commission review of the decision. The Commission intends to propose rules to govern its review of actions by self regulatory organizations in light of this Congressional mandate and the need to assure that review by the Commission is fair, expeditious and consistent with the policies of self-regulation.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION (CPSC)

CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION

16 CFR Ch. II

Regulatory Flexibility Act; Semiannual Regulatory Flexibility and Unified Agendas

AGENCY: Consumer Product Safety Commission.

ACTION: Publication of regulatory flexibility and unified agendas.

SUMMARY: The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) requires each Federal agency to publish twice each year a regulatory flexibility agenda listing the rules expected to be proposed or promulgated which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, including small businesses, small organizations, and small governmental units. In this document, the Commission publishes its semiannual regulatory flexibility agenda.

Additionally, although not required to do so, the Commission has elected to comply voluntarily with those provisions of Executive Order 12291 which require executive agencies to publish an agenda of regulatory actions expected to be under development or review by the agency during the succeeding 12 months and which further provide that such an agenda may be combined with an agency's regulatory flexibility agenda published in accordance with the RFA.

DATE: The Commission welcomes comments on each subject area of the agenda, particularly from small entities. Written comments concerning the agenda should be received in the Office of the Secretary by June 30, 1988.

ADDRESS: Comments on the regulatory flexibility agenda should be sent to the Office of the Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, DC 20207, telephone (301) 492-6800, and should be titled "Regulatory Flexibility Agenda."

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information on the agenda in general, contact: Allen F. Brauninger, Office of the General Counsel, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, DC 20207, telephone (301) 492-6980. For further information regarding a particular item on the agenda, consult the individual listed in the column headed "Contact" for that particular item.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601-612, contains several provisions intended to reduce unnecessary and disproportionate regulatory requirements on small businesses, small governmental organizations, and other small entities. Section 602 of the Act, 5 U.S.C. 602, requires each agency to publish twice each year a regulatory flexibility agenda containing a brief description of the subject area of any rule expected to be proposed or promulgated which is likely to have a "significant economic impact" on a "substantial number" of small entities. The agency must also provide a summary of the nature of the rule, the objectives and legal basis for the rule, and a schedule for acting on each rule for which the agency has issued a notice of proposed rulemaking. The Regulatory Flexibility Agenda shall also contain the name and address of the agency official knowledgeable about the items listed. Further, agencies are required to provide notice of their agendas to small entities and to solicit their comments by direct notification or by inclusion in publications likely to be obtained by such entities.

In addition, President Reagan's Executive Order 12291 requires executive agencies to publish, twice each year, a regulatory agenda of proposed regulations under development or current regulations under review and further states that such an agenda may be combined with an agenda published under the RFA. While the Commission, as an independent regulatory agency, is not required to follow Executive Order 12291, the Commission is complying voluntarily with those provisions concerning publication of a regulatory agenda.

The regulatory flexibility agenda published below lists, for a 12-month period, the regulatory activities expected to be under development or review. These include all such activities, not only those which may have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

The agenda contains a brief description and summary of each regulatory activity, including the objectives and legal basis for each; an approximate schedule of target dates, subject to revision, for the development or completion of each activity; and the name and telephone number of a knowledgeable agency official concerning particular items on the agenda. All agency contacts have the same address: Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, DC 20207.

Dated: March 24, 1988.

Sadye E. Dunn,

Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission.

Legal Deadline: Statutory, December 31, 1990.

Abstract: On February 2, 1984, the Commission published a Federal Register notice listing eight (8) rules and standards issued under the Flammable Fabrics Act and soliciting comments on those rules. The Commission will review these rules under the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act to determine if the rules should be revoked, amended, or continued in effect without change. The staff expects to submit a draft report on the economic impact of these rules on small businesses by August 31, 1988, for consideration by the Commission.

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 1700.20

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On January 19, 1983, the Commission published an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking soliciting comments on ways to amend the existing requirements for child-resistant packaging to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of these requirements. In June, 1985, the Commission staff completed testing to determine the feasibility of using some of the alternate procedures for evaluation of child-resistant packaging described in the ANPR. In August 1987, the Commission considered the comments received in response to the ANPR and the staff's recommendations regarding revision of existing requirements for child-resistant packaging. The Commission directed the staff to prepare draft proposals to amend the test protocols used to evaluate the effectiveness of child-resistant packaging. The staff is preparing a briefing package concerning specific revisions to the child test protocol and the adult test protocol. The staff anticipates that it will transmit the briefing package to the Commission in May 1988.

Abstract: On May 31, 1985, the Commission published an advance notice of proposed rulemaking (ANPR) to announce its preliminary determination that an unreasonable risk of injury may be associated with all-terrain vehicles. An all-terrain vehicle (ATV) is a three- or four-wheeled motorized machine, designed for off-road use, and intended to be ridden by one person. On December 18, 1986, the Commission directed its staff to: (1) continue to work with the industry to develop voluntary performance standards and do the technical work required to issue a NPRM, (2) prepare a letter to state governors, the Department of the Interior, and other appropriate federal agencies stressing the importance of ATV safety, (3) update the ATV safety alert and conduct Clearinghouse activities on ATV safety, (4) develop a program to provide all warnings necessary to advise consumers of the risks associated with ATVs and how to minimize them, (5) prepare a letter advising the Specialty Vehicle Institute of America (SVIA) of the Commission's displeasure at the progress to date in developing voluntary standards, and (6) prepare a letter asking that (cont.)

Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT. ATV manufacturers voluntarily cease marketing ATVs intended for use by children under 12 years of age. Letters were sent to the Governors of the fifty states on January 28, 1987, and to Federal agencies on February 26, 1987. A letter setting forth the Commission's concern about progress in developing voluntary standards for ATVs was sent to SVIA on March 30, 1987. The Consumer Alert on ATVs was updated and made available to the public on May 7, 1987. In accordance with a preliminary consent decree filed on December 30, 1987, with the U.S. District Court of the District of Columbia in U.S. v. American Honda Motor Co. et al. (Civil Action No. 87-3525 SS), the Commission has provided a draft of a proposed safety standard for ATVs to manufacturers. The preliminary consent decree provides that manufacturers will attempt in good faith to reach agreement on a voluntary standard for ATVs acceptable to the Commission within four months of the Court's approval of a final consent decree.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1261(q)(1)(B) Federal Hazardous Substances Act; 5 USC 553(e) Administrative Procedure Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 1500

Abstract: On October 14, 1986, Mr. Mark Germine petitioned the Commission to ban: consumer products that contain limestone, including lawn and garden limestones, both granular and pulverized; sand products, including play sand; and consumer gravel products; if such products contain more than 0.01 percent of tremolite. Mr. Germine bases his request for a ban on a concern that tremolite in these products is carcinogenic and causes mesothelioma. The staff will prepare a briefing package for consideration by the Commission in deciding whether to grant or deny the petition. If the Commission grants the petition, it will begin a rulemaking proceeding under the Federal Hazardous Substances Act.

Abstract: On September 19, 1986, the Commission received a petition from the National Kerosene Heater Association (NKHA). The association requested that the Commission initiate proceeding under the Consumer Product Safety Act to develop a kerosene heater rule containing requirements to limit nitrogen dioxide emissions of kerosene heaters and all of the requirements for kerosene heaters now contained in UL Standard 647. At about the same time, the International Association of Fire Chiefs (IAFC) requested the Commission to require the kerosene heater industry to provide notice and warning labels on all kerosene heaters sold in the United States alerting the consumer that unvented portable kerosene heaters are subject to spontaneous and uncontrollable flare-up with flames extending outside the cabinet. The staff is preparing a briefing package on these requests for consideration by the Commission. Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Commission has been considering options to address deaths and injuries to children which have resulted from children playing with lawn darts. Lawn darts intended for use by children are banned by a regulation issued under the Federal Hazardous Substances Act. However, an exemption to this rule allows the sale of lawn darts which are labeled with warnings that the articles are not toys and should not be used by children, are accompanied with instructions for safe use, and are not sold in toy stores or store departments which deal primarily in toys or other children's articles. On October 20, 1987, the Commission published an ANPR describing regulatory alternatives under consideration to address risks of death and injury to children associated with lawn darts. These alternatives included: (1) issuing additional mandatory requirements for labeling of lawn darts, instructions to accompany those articles, and marketing practices which the Commission had previously asked the industry to adopt on a voluntary basis; or (2) banning all lawn darts. The ANPR stated that before selecting any regulatory option, the Commission would consider the extent to which the lawn (cont)

Abstract: On March 3, 1988, the Commission published an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (ANPRM) to announce its preliminary determination that unreasonable risks of death and injury may be associated with cigarette lighters because they are not sufficiently resistant to operation by children. The ANPRM summarized information currently available to the Commission about the various types of lighters sold to consumers, risks of death and injury associated with fires started by children playing with lighters, and a voluntary standard applicable to lighters. The ANPRM discussed regulatory alternatives under consideration by the Commission and solicited information from the public about the product, risks of injury, and regulatory alternatives described in the Notice. The Commission also invited interested persons to submit an existing standard or an offer to develop or modify a voluntary standard to address the risks of injury identified in the ANPRM.

3514. ● POISON PREVENTION PACKAGING ACT REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTAIN CONJUGATED ESTROGENS, PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF EXEMPTION

Legal Authority: 5 USC 553 Administrative Procedure Act; 15 USC 1471 et seq Poison Prevention Packaging Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 1700.14

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On December 22, 1987, the Commission proposed to amend a regulation which exempts conjugated estrogen tablets in certain mnemonic packages from requirements for child-resistant packaging. The proposed amendment would increase the amount of the drug allowed in each non-child-resistant package from 26.5 milligrams to 32 milligrams.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 2056 Consumer Product Safety Act; 15 USC 2076 Consumer Product Safety Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 1200; 16 CFR 1400

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On August 6, 1987, the Greater St. Louis Lead Poisoning Prevention Council petitioned the Commission to require manufacturers of all hot air paint removal tools to place a warning label on the tool that specifically warns the users of the dangers of lead fumes and lead dust when removing paint with this tool. The Council bases its request on reports of high blood lead levels in children and adults associated with the use of air paint removal tools in the rehabilitation of residences which have paint with high lead levels. The staff will prepare a briefing package for consideration by the Commission deciding whether to grant or deny the petition. If the Commission grants the petition, it will begin rulemaking under the Consumer Product Safety Act.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1261 to 1262 Federal Hazardous Substance Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 1501

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Commission has a regulation applicable to toys and other articles intended for children under three years old that prescribes a test cylinder to determine if articles, or detachable parts of such articles, present a choking hazard to young children. Articles or components which fit within the test cylinder are banned. Although this regulation has been in effect for several years, choking incidents involving young children continue to occur. The Commission has established a project to gather information about the nature and causes of these incidents and to make recommendations for any additional measures needed to reduce injuries and deaths from such incidents, including modification of the small parts test cylinder. The Commission expects to publish an ANPRM in May 1988 to solicit comment on ways to address choking hazards to young children, including specific modifications of the test cylinder requested in a petition from the Consumer Federation of America and the New York Attorney General's Office.

3517. PETITION HP 85-1. PETITION REQUESTING BAN OF HOUSEHOLD PRODUCTS CONTAINING METHYLENE CHLORIDE

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1261(q)(1)(B) Federal Hazardous Substances Act; 15 USC 1262(a) Federal Hazardous Substances Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 1500

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On September 3, 1985, the Consumer Federation of America (CFA) petitioned the Commission to begin a proceeding for issuance of a rule under provisions of section 3(a) of the Federal Hazardous Substances Act (FHSA) to declare that household products containing methylene chloride are hazardous substances. By letter dated December 20, 1985, CFA amended the petition to also request that a proceeding be initiated to declare household products containing methylene chloride to be "banned hazardous substances" under provisions of section 2(q)(1)(B) of the FHSA upon issuance of the rule to classify such products as hazardous substances. Methylene chloride is a solvent used in paint strippers, spray paints, and other consumer products. On August 20, 1986, the Commission proposed a rule to declare household products containing methylene chloride to be hazardous substances. This had the effect of granting CFA's first request. In August 1987, the Commission determined that there was insufficient controversy to warrant a rulemaking proceeding and issued a statement of enforcement policy stating the Commission's view that (cont.)

Abstract: On August 20, 1986, the Commission proposed a rule to declare that household products containing methylene chloride are hazardous substances under the Federal Hazardous Substances Act. These products include some paint strippers and spray paints. The Commission's concern arises from animal tests showing that methylene chloride is a carcinogen by inhalation and studies indicating a significant human exposure as a result of reasonably foreseeable use of products containing methylene chloride. The initiation of this rulemaking proceeding granted one part of a petition (HP 85-1) from the Consumer Federation of America. The staff provided an analysis of the comments on the proposed rule to the Commission in June 1987. In August 1987, the Commission determined that there was insufficient controversy over the status of methylene chloride as a hazardous substance; therefore, the Commission suspended the rulemaking and issued a statement of enforcement policy stating the Commission's view that household products that contain methylene chloride and that expose consumers to significant levels of methylene chloride are (cont.)

CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION (CPSC) — Final Rule Stage

3519. PETITION CP 86-2 REQUESTING A CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY STANDARD FOR BUNK BEDS

Legal Authority: 5 USC 553(e) Administrative Procedure Act; 15 USC 1261 Federal Hazardous Substances Act; 15 USC 1262 Federal Hazardous Substances Act; 15 USC 2056 Consumer Product Safety Act; 15 USC 2058 Consumer Product Safety Act; 15 USC 2079(d) Consumer Product Safety Act

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: In correspondence dated August 26, 1986, the Consumer Federation of America petitioned the Commission to begin a proceeding to issue a consumer product safety standard for bunk beds. The petition alleges that unreasonable risks of death or injury to children are associated with bunk beds in that (1) supporting structures for mattresses can be inadequate to prevent the mattress from falling on children, (2) guardrails can be positioned far enough above the upper surface of the mattress to allow a child's body to slip between the guardrail and the mattress, resulting in head entrapment and strangulation, and (3) the absence of a guardrail on the side of the bed next to a wall can result in entrapment of a child's head or chest between the mattress and the wall, causing strangulation. If the petition is granted, the Commission will begin a rulemaking proceeding under either the Consumer Product Safety Act or the Federal Hazardous Substances Act. The staff briefed the Commission on this petition on November 5, 1987.

FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION (FCA)

FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

12 CFR Ch. VI

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Farm Credit Administration.

ACTION: Department Unified Agenda of Regulations and review list.

SUMMARY: The Farm Credit Administration (FCA), as an independent regulatory agency in voluntary compliance with Executive Order 12291, sets forth the following agenda of regulations which it will have under development and review during the period of April 1988 through October 1988.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Cindy R. Nicholson, Office of General Counsel, Farm Credit Administration, 1501 Farm Credit Drive, McLean, Virginia 22102-5090, (703-883-4020).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601, et seq.), contains several provisions intended to reduce unnecessary and disproportionate regulatory requirements on small entities. Farm Credit Administration regulations which apply to Farm Credit System banks and associations do not and will not have a substantial impact on small entities. None of the entities regulated by the FCA fall within the definition of small entities in the Regulatory Flexibility Act. While many associations through which banks lend are smaller in size than their banks, they are not independently operated, as they are closely supervised by the banks, which must approve most of their operating policies. The associations rely exclusively on their supervising banks for their source of funds. Furthermore, the associations do not compete with each other since, as with their supervising banks, each serves only a particular geographic area.

While FCA is an independent agency exempt from Executive Order 12291, we believe that participating in this joint publication will further the public interest by including FCA in a single source of information concerning current and projected rulemaking and reviews of existing regulations.

Dated: February 25, 1988.

David A. Hill,

Secretary, Farm Credit Administration Board.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION (FCC)

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

47 CFR Ch. I

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations; April 1988

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Publication of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: Twice a year, the Commission publishes a list in the Unified Agenda of those major items and other significant proceedings under development or review that pertain to the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The agenda also provides the CFR Citations and Legal Authorities which govern these proceedings. The Regulatory Flexibility Act (94 Stat. 1167: 5 U.S.C. 605) includes notations on the applicability of the Regulatory Flexibility Act to each item.

The Unified Agenda is published in the Federal Register in April and October of each year.

ADDRESS: Federal Communications Commission, 1919 M Street, NW., Washington, DC 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Tenecia Moncrief, Office of Managing Director, (202) 632-3906.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Unified Agenda of Major and Other Significant Proceedings.

The Commission encourages public participation in the FCC rulemaking process. To help keep the public informed of significant rulemaking proceedings, the Commission has prepared an agenda of important proceedings now in progress. OMB publishes the Unified Agenda in the Federal Register in April and October of each year.

The following terms may be helpful in understanding the status of the proceedings included in this report:

A Docket Number - is assigned to a proceeding if the Commission has issued either a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking or a Notice of Inquiry in regard to the matter under consideration. Since January 1, 1978, the Commission has used docket numbers which consist of the last two digits of the calendar year in which the docket was established plus a sequential number which begins at 1 with the first docket initiated during a calendar year (e.g., Docket 80-1 or Docket 83-1). The abbreviation for the responsible Bureau usually precedes the docket number, as in "Docket 79-164." When a docket number consists of only five digits (e.g., Docket 29622), this indicates that the docket was established before January 1, 1978.

Notice of Inquiry (NOI) - issued by the Commission when it is seeking information on a broad subject or trying to generate ideas on a given topic. A comment period is specified during which all interested parties may submit comments.

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) - issued by the Commission when it is proposing a specific change to the FCC Rules and Regulations. Before any changes are actually made, interested parties may submit written comments on the proposals.

Memorandum Opinion and Order (MO&O) - issued by the Commission to deny a petition for rulemaking, conclude an inquiry, modify a decision, or deny a petition for reconsideration of a decision.

Rulemaking (RM) Number - assigned to a proceeding after the appropriate Bureau/Office has reviewed a petition for rulemaking, but before the Commission has taken action on the petition.

Report & Order (R&O) - issued by the Commission to state a new or amended rule or state that the FCC Rules will not be changed.

H. Walker Feaster,

Acting Secretary, Federal Communications Commission.

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 21

Abstract: Make licensing procedure as efficient as possible for carriers and FCC staff, update and simplify the rules to reflect recent changes in the industry and the introduction of new communication services; and to eliminate those requirements that appear to be no longer necessary. By replacing a two-step licensing process with a one-step licensing process and eliminating unnecessary regulations, the burden on small businesses (applicants) will be substantially reduced, delays in implementing services will be minimized and service will be provided to the public in the most efficient and expeditious manner possible.

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 47 USC 303; 47 USC 553

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 25

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Commission seeks to develop a record & to solicit comments on the proposed rules. These proposed rules are designed to implement recommendations made by the joint industry/government Advisory Committee on 2 degree satellite spacing; and they will codify basic applications requirements for satellite services. The proposed rules would apply to all entities including small entities who seek authorization under Part 25 of the Commission's rules to construct and operate Fixed-Satellite communications facilities. The proposed rules would establish operational and technical procedures designed to alleviate adjacent satellite interference and may increase the reporting and cost burdens on all satellite licensees. The rules codifying basic applications requirements are codifications of existing policies. Will impose no additional burdens, and may, in fact, reduce the burden by eliminating several current requirements. In order to be effective, these rules must apply to all licensees and thus there is no significant alternative.

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 47 USC 154; 47 USC 303

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 73.211; 47 CFR 73.206; 47 CFR 73.207; 47 CFR 73.213

Abstract: On September 10, 1987, the FCC amended its rules to provide a specific method for classifying FM stations according to effective transmitting power and antenna height, and increased the accuracy in the procedures for predicting FM station coverage and calculating distances between FM stations. Also, Section 73.213 was simplified to only permit modifications that do not increase the potential for interference. Reconsideration has been requested.

3594. RADIO MULTIPLE OWNERSHIP & CROSS OWNERSHIP RULES

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 47 USC 154; 47 USC 303

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 73.3555

Abstract: The Commission has proposed to relax a portion of the "duoploy" rule as it applies to AM and FM station ownership. The Commission also has proposed to relax a section of the one-to-a-market" rule to permit combinations of AM, FM, and UHF television stations in the top fifty markets. Under the proposed rule, common ownership of radio-television combinations would be considered on a case-by-case basis.

3595. SATELLITE TELEVISION STATIONS

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 47 USC 154; 47 USC 303

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 73.614

Abstract: The FCC proposes to: (1) eliminate authorization of satellites in urban areas of larger markets, allowing them only in rural areas that cannot economically support a full service operation; and (2) either remove restrictions limiting locally originated programming or, in the alternative, establishing a cap on the amount of programming originated once satellite operation has been justified. Also, the FCC seeks comment as to how urban and rural areas should be defined.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION (FDIC)

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

12 CFR Ch. III

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

ACTION: Publication of semiannual agenda of regulations.

SUMMARY: The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") is hereby publishing items for the April 1988 Regulatory Agenda. The agenda contains information about FDIC's current and projected rulemakings, existing regulations under review, and completed rulemakings.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Persons identified under regulations listed in the agenda. The address for all FDIC staff identified in the agenda is Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th Street, NW., Washington, DC 20429.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Twice each year, the FDIC publishes an agenda of regulations to inform the public of its regulatory actions and to enhance public participation in the rulemaking process. Publication of the agenda is in accordance with both the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and the FDIC statement of policy entitled "Development and Review of FDIC Rules and Regulations" (44 FR 31007, May 30, 1979; 44 FR 32353, June 6, 1979; 44 FR 76858, December 28, 1979; 49 FR 7288, February 28, 1984).

The FDIC amends its regulations under the general rulemaking authority prescribed in section 9 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1819) and under specific authority granted by the Act and other statutes.

Interested persons may petition the FDIC for the issuance, amendment or repeal of any regulation by submitting a written petition to the Executive Secretary, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Washington, DC 20429. Petitioners should include complete and concise statements of their interest in the subject matter and reasons why the petitions should be granted.

Dated: February 10, 1988.

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Hoyle L. Robinson,

Executive Secretary.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1817; 12 USC 1818; 12 USC 1819

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 344

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The FDIC expects to propose an amendment to 12 CFR Part 344, which governs an insured nonmember bank's recordkeeping and confirmation requirements for securities transactions. The proposed amendment would expand an existing exception under Part 344 for low activity. The exception would be increased to allow banks which effect an average of fewer than 1,000 securities transactions per year to be exempt from certain recordkeeping and written policymaking requirements. The current "low-activity" threshold is 200 transactions per year. The amendment is needed to eliminate unnecessary paperwork burden and is intended to reduce the impact of FDIC's regulation on insured nonmember banks that engage in a low number of securities transactions per year.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1819 Federal Deposit Insurance Act; 15 USC 78l(i) Securities Exchange Act of 1934

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 335

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the FDIC to issue regulations substantially similar to regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, or publish reasons for not doing so. The staff is currently preparing such conforming amendments for public comment based on recent rulemaking actions by the Commission.

Abstract: The FDIC is preparing for public comment amendments to section 303.4 of Part 303 of its regulations to implement certain amendments to the Change in Bank Control Act of 1986. Under the planned proposal, the FDIC may waive the newspaper publication or comment solicitation requirements of the regulation, or may act on a proposed change in control prior to the expiration of the comment period. The planned proposal also provides that the FDIC may shorten the public comment period to a period of not less than 10 days.

FDIC — Proposed Rule Stage

Abstract: The FDIC approved an interim rule which establishes eligibility requirements and application procedures for FDIC-insured state nonmember banks in distressed agricultural regions of the country that are interested in amortizing farm loan losses. The FDIC is requesting comments from the public prior to adopting a final regulation.

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 338

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The FDIC is preparing final amendments to its fair housing regulation, 12 CFR Part 338, which applies to insured state nonmember banks. The amendments would eliminate home-equity loans, as well as home improvement, maintenance and repair loans from the data-gathering requirement. Accordingly, the data-gathering requirement would then only apply to home purchase, construction and refinancing loans. The FDIC believes that the amendments would reduce the paperwork burden on the banking industry without impairing enforcement of fair housing lending laws.

Abstract: The FDIC amended its capital regulation by revising the definitions of the terms "assets classified loss," "subordinated note or debenture" and "total assets." The amendments also allow the FDIC to include in primary and secondary capital any capital instrument or account that has the characteristics of capital. Also included is a safety and soundness test regarding the terms and conditions affecting capital instruments. Finally, limits are set on when the FDIC may deny mergers solely because a capital deficiency would exist in the resulting entity.

CFR Citation: 18 CFR 38; 18 CFR 385

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Commission is proposing to streamline regulation of a class of non-traditional utility suppliers, called independent power producers (IPPS). The proposed regulations would: (1) authorize rates for IPPS to be determined through competition or rate negotiation subject to a price cap, thereby freeing IPPS from cost-based ratemaking while ensuring rates fall within the zone of reasonableness; (2) authorize IPPS to file rate schedules without having to provide extensive cost support; (3) exempt IPPS from cost-related accounting, reporting and recordkeeping requirements; (4) streamline the corporate and financial regulation of IPPS; (5) provide the blanket prior authorizations to engage in certain corporate activities; and (6) adopt and advance certification procedure to qualify as an IPP. 3642. CALCULATION OF CASH WORKING CAPITAL ALLOWANCE FOR PUBLIC UTILITIES

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 16 USC 791a to 828c

CFR Citation: 18 CFR 35

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The proposed rule would provide that the cash working capital requirements of a public utility that files an electric rate schedule will be presumed to be zero dollars, and thus will not affect the utility's rate base, unless the utility shows there is a significant difference between the time it pays certain current operating expenses and the time it receives revenues from ratepayers. The proposed rule would establish a threshold standard that must be met to support a cash working capital adjustment to a utility's rate base, the expense elements to be considered in calculating cash working capital adjustments to rate base, and criteria applicable to studies submitted in support of a request for an adjustment to rate base. Legal Authority: 16 USC 791a to 825r (1982) Federal Power Act; 16 USC 2601 to 2645 (1982) Pub. Utility Reg. Pol. Act of 1978; 42 USC 7101 to 7352 (1982) Dept. of Energy Organization Act; EO 12009, 3 CFR 142 (1978)

CFR Citation: 18 CFR 4; 18 CFR 292; 18 CFR 375

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: This interim rule prescribes the form in which a petition alleging commitment of substantial monetary resources prior to the enactment of the Electric Consumers Protection Act of 1986 (ECPA) will be filed and processed. This petition, if granted, would except from some of the provisions of section 8 of ECPA a hydroelectric project that impounds or diverts the water of a natural watercourse by means of a new dam or diversion, for which benefits under section 210 of the Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act of 1978 (PURPA) are sought, if application for license or exemption for the project is filed between October 16, 1986 and April 16, 1988. This interim rule will be merged into a final rule in Docket No. RM87-13-000. This docket number (RM87-8-000) will be terminated. Docket No. RM87-8-000.

3645. INQUIRY INTO ALLEGED ANTICOMPETITIVE PRACTICES RELATING TO MARKETING AFFILIATES OF INTERSTATE PIPELINES

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 15 USC 717 to 717w (1982) Natural Gas Act; 15 USC 3301 to 3432 (1982) Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978

CFR Citation: Not applicable

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The notice of inquiry seeks information about allegations of anticompetitive activity related to the relationship between interstate pipelines and their marketing affiliates. The notice of inquiry also seeks information on how to ensure competitive business practices by pipelines and their marketing affiliates in the natural gas sales and transportation markets. The notice of proposed rulemaking, issued June 2, 1987, proposed standards of conduct and reporting requirements to prevent undue discrimination by a pipeline in favor of its marketing affiliate. A draft final rule was discussed by the Commission on January 27, 1988. Docket No. RM87-5-000.

3646. NATURAL GAS DATA COLLECTION SYSTEM

Significance: Agency Priority

Legal Authority: 42 USC 7102 to 7352, (1982); EO 12009, 3 CFR 142 (1978); 5 USC 551 to 557, (1982); 15 USC 717 to 717w, (1982); 16 USC 791 to 828c, (1982); 15 USC 3301 to 3402, (1982); 16 USC 2601 to 2645, (1982)

CFR Citation: 18 CFR 154; 18 CFR 157; 18 CFR 260; 18 CFR 284

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The rule proposes to amend the Commission's regulations to establish the Natural Gas Data Collection System through the adoption of FERC Form No. 591. FERC Form No. 591 requires natural gas pipelines to submit various data, rate filings and certificate applications to the Commission on 9-track magnetic tape. In addition, FERC Form No. 591 revises the data presently submitted by natural gas pipelines to reflect the Commission's current regulatory responsibilities. This revision results in the filing of much of the same data at the same time as presently, eliminates data presently filed and requires the submission of data in more detail or more frequently than presently filed. 3665. CONSERVATORS AND RECEIVERS

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1464; 12 USC 1724(d); 12 USC 1729; PL 99-120, Sec 6

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 547; 12 CFR 548; 12 CFR 549; 12 CFR 563.8-3, (proposed new section); 12 CFR 563.39(a); 12 CFR 569a; 12 CFR 569b, (proposed new Part); 12 CFR 569c, (proposed new Part)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Board is proposing extensive revisions to its regulations governing the conservatorship and receivership of associations chartered by the Board or the accounts of which that are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. The Board will unify the appointment of receiver procedures for state and federal institutions; adopt procedures for appointment of receivers under section 406(c)(1)(B) of the National Housing Act; and address the priorities in liquidation and participation interests in liquidation, which are absent from or inadequately covered in the present regulations. The Board is also proposing that its regulations cover topics such as the effect of the receivership appointment on executory contracts, employment agreements, certain "Golden Parachute" agreements, participation agreements, repurchase agreements, and on agreements relating to secured and unsecured borrowings by an insured institution, including agreements providing for prepayment or default penalties. The proposed regulations provide for new rules of general applicability in the areas previously mentioned, clarify existing provisions, and reorganize and recodify all the (cont)

Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: regulations governing conservatorships and receiverships.

There are no alternatives being considered by the Board in lieu of the proposed regulation that would have less impact on small institutions, consistent with the intended result, than the concerns expressed in the supplementary information to the proposed rule and the existing statutory requirements concerning receiverships and conservatorships.

The potential costs and benefits of the proposed regulation on the industry have not been quantified.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1421 to 1429; 12 USC 1464(c); 12 USC 1724 to 1730

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 563.9-3

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board proposes to amend its regulation pertaining to loans to one borrower in a number of ways, most significantly to reduce the amount of aggregate loans to one borrower that may be made by an institution the accounts of which are insured by the FSLIC. The proposal is intended to reduce risk to insured institutions and the FSLIC without depriving institutions of appropriate operational flexibility. To this end, the Board invites comment on all aspects of the proposal.

The Bank Board is soliciting comment on possible alternatives to the rule as proposed in addressing the concerns expressed above.

The potential costs and benefits of the proposed regulation on the industry have not been quantified.

The proposed rule would apply equally to all insured institutions.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1726

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 563.3-10; 12 CFR 563.13

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board is proposing to amend its regulation setting the regulatory capital requirements for institutions insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation by changing the method of computing the annual calculation of industry profits; by deleting the provision concerning the effect upon base liabilities of acquisitions and sales of less than substantially all of the liabilities of an insured institution (branch sales); and by amending the earnings-based accounts regulation to conform that regulation's provisions establishing regulatory capital thresholds to the current regulatory capital requirements. The proposed rule would apply equally to all insured institutions.

There are no alternatives that would be less burdensome than the proposal in addressing the concerns expressed above.

The potential costs and benefits of the proposed regulation on the industry have not been quantified.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1724 to 1730g

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 564.2; 12 CFR 564.9

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board is proposing to amend its regulations pertaining to the settlement of insurance on accounts held jointly. The Bank Board proposes to delete the current requirement that each co-owner of a joint account must personally execute a signature card for the account in order for the account to be separately insured. The Bank Board believes the current rule may have caused hardship to depositors and added to the recordkeeping burden on institutions without appreciably reducing the risks of fraudulent claims of entitlement to separate joint account insurance coverage. The Bank Board also is proposing to consolidate provisions of its regulations governing joint accounts and to clarify the provisions affecting joint accounts established by intermediaries.

There are no alternatives that would be less burdensome than the rule in addressing the concerns expressed above.

The potential costs and benefits of the proposed regulation on the industry have not been quantified.

Legal Deadline: Statutory, April 27, 1987. Section 1359 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986, Pub.L.No. 99-570, required establishment of a Bank Secrecy Act compliance program by April 27, 1987.

Abstract: The Bank Board is proposing to amend for purposes of clarification, its recently adopted regulation which requires insured institutions to establish and maintain procedures to assure and monitor compliance with the requirements of the Bank Secrecy Act ("BSA"), including the Currency and Foreign Transactions Reporting Act and the implementing regulations of the U.S. Department of the Treasury, 31 CFR Part 103. The proposed rule sets forth in greater detail the elements required to be in a BSA compliance program, in particular, the requirements of BSA compliance testing and continuing education. The proposed rule would apply equally to all insured institutions.

The proposed rule for BSA compliance programs establishes a minimum system for verifying and encouraging compliance with the BSA in accordance with Congressional concern. Alternatively, the Bank Board could have required an in-depth audit of insured institutions' compliance by independent auditors. The Bank Board believes that such an alternative would have been less flexible and more restrictive for insured institutions. (cont)

parts, issued separately for public comment. The proposed regulations would reorganize portions of Subchapter C (the regulations for federally chartered associations) and amend and add sections to provide a more cohesive and complete body of rules for the corporate governance of Federal associations. Part I, previously proposed, would provide definitions and rules for the organization and incorporation of Federal associations. Part II, also previously proposed, would contain provisions regarding the corporate structure and governing processes for Federal stock associations and Federal mutual associations. Part III proposes revisions to the rules governing operations of and charter conversion from and to Federal associations. Part IV proposes provisions regarding conservatorships, receiverships, trust powers, miscellaneous provisions, Board rulings, and statements of policy. The (cont)

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 545.33; 12 CFR 563.9-9

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board proposed to amend its regulations regarding the disclosures and notices that lenders must give to borrowers concerning adjustable-rate mortgage ("ARM") home loans. The proposed rule would retain the Bank Board's current regulations concerning the timing for disclosures and continue to allow the use of the ARMs Handbook, but would require additional disclosure of specific information concerning the ARM program being offered to the consumer. The revision would clarify the Bank Board's regulation and would implement the uniform disclosure of ARMs recommended by the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council on August 12, 1986. In addition, the proposal would consolidate and clarify existing Bank Board regulations on disclosures and notices for all loans. The proposed rule would apply equally to all insured institutions.

There are no alternatives that would be less burdensome than the proposed rule in addressing the concerns expressed above.

The potential costs and benefits of the proposed regulation on the industry have not been quantified.

Legal Authority: Notice to Practitioners on ADC Loans, CPA Letter, Feb 10, 1986

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 571.17

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board proposed to amend its statement of accounting policy relating to acquisition, development and construction ("ADC") loans used by all institutions the accounts of which are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation ("FSLIC") or affiliates thereof when preparing reports or financial statements for filing with the Bank Board or the FSLIC. The amendments relate to the recent "Notice to Practitioners" issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, which superseded two prior notices issued in November 1983 and November 1984, and to the public position regarding the effective date of the recent notice taken by the Chief Accountant of the Securities and Exchange Commission. By proposing this amendment to its statement of policy, the Bank Board is adhering to its policy that insured institutions are expected to apply the guidance of the accounting profession for determining whether a transaction characterized as an ADC loan is in fact a loan or whether, in substance, it is a real estate investment or a joint venture. The proposed rule would apply equally to all insured institutions. (cont)

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1464; 12 USC 1727; 12 USC 1730

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 565

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board is reviewing a number of issues relating to the extent to which institutions insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation ("FSLIC") that terminate their insured status in connection with transfers by operation of law must pay a final insurance premium to the FSLIC. As part of its review, the Bank Board is soliciting public comment to ascertain whether to issue a proposal in this area. On October 7, 1986, the Bank Board adopted a clarifying amendment to the definition of "transfers" set forth in its statement of policy regarding mergers and transfers of assets. (12 CFR 571.5(a)). However, as the clarification indicates, the interpretation did not specifically address the separate issues of whether an insured institution undertaking a transfer of assets and liabilities by operation of law in which the surviving entity is not FSLIC-insured must pay a final insurance premium to the FSLIC, and if so, the amount of such payment. The Bank Board has been reviewing this so-called "exit premium" issue on an ongoing basis and as yet has made no final determination with respect to this matter.

3674. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES OF FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANKS

Legal Authority: 5 USC 553

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 522.72

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board is proposing to amend its regulations governing the indemnification of directors, officers, and employees of the Federal Home Loan Banks ("FHL Banks"). This amendment would clarify that expenses incurred by FHL Bank directors, officers, and employees in connection with litigation are to be reimbursed as they are incurred, but that, by majority vote of its board of directors, a FHL Bank could require repayment of expenses that it finds to have been beyond the scope of the Bank Board's indemnification regulation. The proposal applies only to directors, officers, and employees of the FHL Banks, none of which falls within the definition of a "small financial institution" given by the Small Business Administration.

There are no alternatives that would be less burdensome than the proposal in addressing the concerns expressed above.

The potential costs and benefits of the proposal on the industry have not been quantified.

3675. ● ISSUANCE AND FORM OF STOCK IN FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANKS

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1426

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 522.10

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Bank Board proposed to amend its regulations to authorize the capital stock of a Federal Home Loan Bank ("Bank") to be put in uncertificated or book entry form. Currently, the Bank Board's regulations provide for Bank stock to be issued in certificated form only, but on the basis of an earlier legal opinion by the Bank Board's Office of General Counsel some Banks are now using uncertificated stock. The amendment would clarify a Bank's authority both to issue uncertificated stock and to convert certificated stock to book entry form. Any member, however, would be entitled to stock in certificated form upon written request.

Other than the current rule relating to issuance of certificated stock, which would be amended by the proposal, the Bank Board has no rules prescribing the manner in which the existence of Bank stock may be evidenced.

The potential costs and benefits of the proposed regulation on the industry have not been quantified.

Abstract:

The Bank Board proposed to amend its public access to information regulations on fees and fee waivers in order to comply with the Freedom of Information Reform Act of 1986 ("FOI Reform Act"). The Bank Board's regulations are issued in conformance with Office of Management and Budget ("OMB") guidelines and schedule of fees. Pursuant to the FOI Reform Act and the final OMB guidelines, the Bank Board proposes to set fees to recover the full direct costs incurred by the Bank Board in searching for, reviewing, and duplicating documents in response to FOIA requests. New fees are established for manual search, computer search, and review of records. In compliance with the FOI Reform Act, requesters are classified into four categories for the purposes of making fee assessments; commercial use requesters; educational and noncommercial scientific institution requesters; representatives of the news media; and all other requesters.

Abstract:

The Bank Board amended its regulations in May 1987, to require that all financial statements issued by insured institutions, including statements of condition required pursuant to 12 CFR 545.115, and all financial reports filed with the Bank Board shall be prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The rule also substituted the term "regulatory capital" for "regulatory net worth" and defined "regulatory capital" to mean the sum of equity capital as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles plus certain other items as determined appropriate by the Bank Board based on risk analysis reporting. The Bank Board has delayed the effective date of this final rule until January 1, 1989.

The potential costs and benefits of this delay of the effective date of the final rule on the industry have not been quantified.

Abstract: The Bank Board is proposing to adopt a rule and a statement of policy pertaining to appraisal policies and practices of insured institutions and service corporations of such institutions. The proposed rule is intended to codify the standards to be used by insured institutions and service corporations, as well as examiners and supervisory staff, in determining compliance with the appraisal requirements of 12 CFR 563.17-1 and 563.17-2. The proposed rule and policy statement address the same four components of the Bank Board's appraisal standards and reporting requirements addressed in R-41c as clarified: management policies, appraisal management, appraisal content, and related considerations. This proposed rule, however, has been designed to clarify and simplify the R-41c guidelines. The proposed rule would apply equally to all insured institutions.

Legal Deadline: Statutory, January 7, 1988. The Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987, Pub. L. No. 100-86, 101 Stat. 552, requires the Bank Board to promulgate final regulations regarding classification of assets by January 7, 1988.

Abstract:

The Bank Board amended its regulations governing the classification of assets of insured institutions pursuant to the mandate of the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 ("CEBA"). CEBA requires the Bank Board to establish an asset classification system consistent with the asset classification practices of the Federal banking agencies. The final rule broadens the scope of the existing rule and ensures the use of broader, but judicious, examiner discretion in the classification of assets, consistent with the asset classification practices of the bank regulatory agencies. Specifically, the final rule employs the existing classification categories of Substandard, Doubtful, and Loss, but alters the consequences of these classifications with respect to valuation allowance requirements and their effect on capital. Assets classified Substandard are no longer to be treated as scheduled items. Moreover, under this final rule, the Bank Board no longer requires institutions to establish specific valuation allowances for assets classified Doubtful. With respect to assets classified Substandard or Doubtful, if the examiner concludes that the valuation allowances established by the

For the portion of assets classified Loss, the Bank Board will continue to require institutions either to establish specific allowances for losses of 100 percent of the amount classified, or charge off such amount. The final rule also requires insured institutions to classify their own assets and to establish prudent general valuation allowances. Consistent with CEBA, the final rule deletes the Bank Board's scheduled item regulation, thus broadening the scope of the classification of assets regulation to encompass those assets formerly deemed scheduled items.

Abstract: The Bank Board issued a rulemaking to inform the public of its intention to promulgate regulations required by the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 ("CEBA"). Within 2 to 6 months of the date of CEBA's enactment, the Bank Board was required to issue regulations or guidelines in the following areas: qualified thrift lender test; classification of assets; appraisals; uniform generally accepted accounting principles; gain and loss deferrals; capital forebearance; minimum capital requirements; procedures setting time limits for approval or disapproval of applications submitted to Bank Board; and asset disposition. The Bank Board requested comment on these areas and others to assist in implementing the requirements of the CEBA. Additionally, the Bank Board solicited comment on the possible promulgation of other regulations not covered by this notice as well as amendments to existing regulations that may be necessary to implement the provisions of the CEBA the most effective way.

Abstract:

The Bank Board amended and consolidated its regulations on officers as agents by delegating to the Principal Supervisory Agents ("PSA") at each Federal Home Loan Bank, authority to designate Supervisory Agents ("SA") to assist in the performance of duties delegated by the Bank Board and the FSLIC. This change is being implemented to increase administrative efficiency and relieve the Bank Board of a time-consuming, routine procedure. The designation of a SA by a PSA will be immediately communicated, in writing, accompanied by the individual's resume and statement of qualifications, to the Secretary of the Board, the Director of the Office of Regulatory Policy, Oversight and Supervision and the Director of the Office of District Banks. The designation of the PSA and Director of Agency Functions, or equivalent position, at each Federal Home Loan Bank remains the responsibility of the Bank Board.

Legal Deadline: Statutory, January 7, 1988. The Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987, PL 100-86, 101 Stat. 552, requires the Bank Board to promulgate final regulations no later than January 7, 1988.

Abstract: The Bank Board adopted a final rule and a statement of policy pertaining to appraisal policies and practices of institutions insured by the FSLIC and their service corporations consistent with the requirements of the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 ("CEBA"). This rule requires the management of insured institutions and service corporations to develop and implement prudent appraisal policies and procedures. The Bank Board also adopted a statement of policy to accompany the rule. The statement of policy sets forth certain appraisal standards that the Bank Board recommends to management for consideration in the development of the appraisal policies and procedures required by the rule.

There are no alternatives that would be less burdensome than the rule in addressing the concerns expressed above.

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 574.6

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract:

The Bank Board revised the procedural requirements applicable to applications, notices, and rebuttal filings filed pursuant to 12 CFR Part 574 by changing certain filing procedures, modifying the time frames for public notification, and revising the time frames that apply to the FSLIC's determination that an application or notice is sufficient. The amendments are intended to expedite the processing of filings under 12 CFR Part 574 and to simplify the calculation of critical dates in the processing of applications and notices. In particular, the amendments are intended to conform various time frames employed in 12 CFR Part 574 as closely as practicable to the FSLIC's recently adopted general guidelines for processing applications. See 52 FR 39064 (Oct. 20, 1987), to be codified at, 12 CFR 571.12. These guidelines address such issues as multiple filings, automatic approval time frames, and the exclusion of FSLIC- assisted cases from automatic approval time frames.

Abstract:

On August 10, 1987, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation Recapitalization Act of 1987 (the "Recapitalization Act") was enacted into law as part of the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987. The Recapitalization Act created a new advisory committee, to be called the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation Industry Advisory Committee ("Advisory Committee") by which means the savings and loan industry will become involved in the efforts to strengthen the FSLIC. The Bank Board adopted regulations that established the minimum procedures defining the responsibilities of its members. These regulations also established the method of operation and administration of the Advisory Committee. Although these regulations were effective immediately, the Bank Board solicited post-promulgation comment on these regulations for possible subsequent amendment.

The potential costs and benefits of the regulation on the industry have not been quantified.

Abstract:

The Bank Board amended its regulations governing institutions insured by the FSLIC by adopting a rule and statement of policy to clarify that insured institutions have been permitted and may continue to account for troubled debt restructurings ("TDRs") in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The rule states that the Bank Board may permit institutions to restructure troubled loans in compliance with Statements 5 and 15 of the Financial Accounting Standards Board and to account for the effects of such restructurings as provided in those statements. The policy statement summarizes the accounting principles applicable to TDRs and sets forth reporting requirements for institutions that engage in such restructuring.

Abstract:

The Bank Board adopted rules to implement its authority to set and enforce regulatory capital requirements for all institutions the accounts of which are insured by the FSLIC. The Bank Board adopted these regulations pursuant to the authority granted it by section 406 of the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 ("CEBA") and pursuant to the Bank Board's general authority to promulgate regulations under 12 USC 1437, 1725, and 1736. These regulations implement the authority granted the Bank Board and the FSLIC by section 406 of CEBA to vary the minimum regulatory capital requirements of an individual insured institution as may be necessary or appropriate in light of the particular circumstances of the insured institution. The regulations also establish procedures for implementing the authority granted by section 406 to issue a directive and enforce a plan for increasing an individual insured institution's capital level.

Abstract:

The Bank Board amended its regulations governing savings and loan holding companies to implement the qualified thrift lender test enacted in the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 ("CEBA"). The CEBA amended section 408 of the National Housing Act, 12 USC 1730a, also commonly known as the Savings and Loan Holding Company Act, to provide that the current exemption from the nonthrift activity restrictions for unitary savings and loan holding companies will be available only where the subsidiary institution meets the new qualified thrift lender test. The CEBA also amended section 10 of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, 12 USC 1430, to reduce the eligibility for advances from the Federal Home Loan Banks of member institutions that do not meet the qualified thrift lender ("QTL") test. This regulation sets forth the new QTL test, which requires that an insured institution must maintain 60 percent of its tangible assets in housing and housing related investments in order for the institution to have QTL status. The regulation also implements new statutory limitations on eligibility for advances and permissible holding company

Abstract:

On August 10, 1987, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation Recapitalization Act of 1987 ("Recapitalization Act") was enacted into law. The Recapitalization Act authorizes the Bank Board to charter a corporation known as the Financing Corporation. The Financing Corporation will issue debt securities in the capital markets, and with the net proceeds thereof, it will purchase capital instruments to be issued by the FSLIC. The Bank Board adopted regulations to clarify the manner in which the Financing Corporation will exercise its assessment authority and to make minor conforming technical amendments to the regulations concerning FSLIC insurance premiums. Additionally, the Bank Board adopted rules regarding book-entry procedure for Financing Corporation securities. Finally, the Bank Board amended a procedural rule governing the responsibilities of the Office of Finance of the Federal Home Loan Bank System so as to reflect the responsibilities of that office with regard to the Financing Corporation's activities.

Legal Deadline: Statutory, December 31, 1987. The Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987, PL 100-86, 101 Stat. 552, requires the Bank Board to promulgate final regulations regarding uniform accounting standards by December 31, 1987.

Abstract:

The Bank Board amended its regulations applicable to all institutions the accounts of which are insured by the FSLIC pertaining to the definition of regulatory capital. First, the final rule delays the effective date of the definition of regulatory capital regulation ("DRC Regulation"), from January 1, 1988 to January 1, 1989 in order to implement a phase-in of uniform accounting standards. Second, the rule revises the DRC regulation by eliminating treatment of certain items under risk analysis reporting and substituting treatment under generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The DRC regulation, as amended by this rule, would begin the phase-in to GAAP on January 1, 1989; such phase-in would end on December 31, 1993, at which time insured institutions would be required to report virtually all components of regulatory capital in accordance with GAAP or the regulatory accounting practices employed by commercial banks.

The Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 required the Bank Board to issue regulations prescribing "uniformly applicable accounting standards to be used by all insured institutions

Unified Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Federal Maritime Commission.

ACTION: Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to section 5 of E.O. 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Commission anticipates having under consideration during the period from April 1, 1988 to March 31, 1989 actions in the areas listed below.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information concerning Commission rulemaking proceedings or the status of any matter listed below, contact: Joseph C. Polking, Secretary, 1100 L Street, NW., Washington, DC 20573, (202) 523-5725.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 602) requires the publication of an agenda of items for which regulatory agencies may propose or promulgate a rule which is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Section 5 of Executive Order 12291 also requires executive agencies to publish a regulatory agenda; the Commission voluntarily complies with this section. The agendas include information on regulatory activities being conducted or reviewed during the succeeding 12 months by the Commission.

The following is the Commission's Unified Regulatory Agenda. The agenda does not necessarily include all petitions for rulemakings which are under staff review.

In addition, the Commission is publishing a compilation of the status of pending rulemaking proceedings and a listing of rules that have become final since the publication of the most recent regulatory agenda (October, 1987). This list will be made available to the press and interested groups.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM (FRS)

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

12 CFR Ch. II

Notice of Semiannual Regulatory Flexibility Agenda

AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

ACTION: Semiannual agenda.

SUMMARY: The Board is issuing this Agenda under the Regulatory Flexibility Act and the Board's Statement of Policy Regarding Expanded Rulemaking Procedures. The Board anticipates having under consideration regulatory matters as indicated below during the period from April 1 through October 1, 1988. The next Semiannual Agenda will be published in October 1988.

DATE: Comments about the form or content of the Agenda may be submitted any time during the next six months.

ADDRESS: Comments should be addressed to William W. Wiles, Secretary of the Board, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, DC 20551.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: A staff contact for each item is indicated with the regulatory description below.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Board is publishing its April 1988 Agenda as part of the April 1988 Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations, which is coordinated by the Office of Management and Budget under Executive Order 12291. Participation by the Board in the Unified Agenda is on a voluntary basis.

The Board's Agenda is divided into three sections. The first, Proposed Rule Stage, reports on matters the Board may consider for public comment during the next six months. The second section, Final Rule Stage, reports on matters that have been proposed and are under Board consideration. A third section, Completed Actions, reports on regulatory matters the Board has completed or is not expected to consider further.

A dot (●) preceding an entry indicates a new matter that was not a part of the Board's previous Agenda, and which the Board has not completed.

Barbara R. Lowrey,

Associate Secretary of the Board.

3723. ● REGULATION: C - HOME MORTGAGE DISCLOSURE

Legal Authority: 12 USC 2804, Home Mortgage Disclosure Act of 1975

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 203

Abstract: During the next month the Board will consider proposing amendments to Regulation C to implement Title V, section 565 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987. Section 565 amends the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act to bring within its coverage mortgage banking subsidiaries of bank holding companies and savings and loan holding companies, as well as savings and loan service corporations. The proposed regulatory amendments would implement this expansion in coverage and clarify and simplify the regulation where necessary. It is not anticipated that the proposal will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small institutions.

3724. REGULATION: E - ELECTRONIC FUND TRANSFERS

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1693 et seq Electronic Fund Transfer Act

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 205

Abstract: During the next six months, the Board will conduct a review of Regulation E, which implements the Electronic Fund Transfer Act, and establishes the basic rights, liabilities, and responsibilities of consumers who use electronic fund transfer services and of financial institutions that offer these services (whether or not these institutions hold the consumer's account). The review will consider whether any provisions of the regulation are in need of updating and whether any substantive changes are necessary because of technological developments. The Board will also consider whether to make any legislative recommendations for statutory changes.

Public comment will be requested on any regulatory proposals that may be developed following the review. It is not anticipated that revisions would have significant impact on a substantial number of small banks.

3725. REGULATION: H - MEMBERSHIP OF STATE BANKING INSTITUTIONS IN THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Legal Authority: 12 USC 321

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 208.8(e)

Abstract: The Board will consider issuing for comment an amendment to Regulation H designed to provide a decrease of approximately 20,000 burden hours in paperwork, as requested by the Office of Management and Budget. The regulation would be amended to raise the exemption from various record-keeping requirements in Regulation H for securities transactions, conducted by banks, from 200 to 1,000 transactions per year for customers over the prior three-calendar-year period, exclusive of transactions in U.S. government and federal agency obligations. This action would diminish burdens on smaller state member banks; therefore, the amendment would have no adverse effect on small banks.

This issue will be presented to the Board upon promulgation by the Department of the Treasury of final regulations concerning government securities transactions.

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 208.17

Abstract: The Board will consider issuing for comment an amendment to Regulation H designed to facilitate the fullest possible dissemination of publicly available information regarding the condition of state member banks. The amendment would require such banks to make available upon request their year-end reports of condition or other suitable documents describing their condition. The proposal is not likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small banks since it would impose no new reporting requirements, but simply require banks to make existing documents available to members of the public.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 601 et seq

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 211

Abstract: The Board will consider an amendment to its regulation governing the establishment of foreign operating subsidiaries by member banks. The amendment would eliminate the requirement in section 211.3(b)(9) of Regulation K that a member bank's operating subsidiary be established only where required by local law or regulation. The revision is intended to promote the efficiency of member banks' foreign operations. Because the revision would remove a restriction, it is not anticipated that comment will be requested.

The proposal would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small businesses because it affects only U.S. banks operating abroad.

Abstract: During the next six months, the Board will conduct a zero-based review of Regulation P, which implements the Bank Protection Act of 1968, and establishes minimum security standards for Federal Reserve banks and for state member banks. The review will consider whether any provisions of the regulation are outdated and whether any substantive changes are necessary because of new technological developments. The regulation will also be reorganized and revised for simplicity and clarity. Public comment will be requested following the zero-based review. Legal Authority: 12 USC 1843 Bank Holding Company Act; 12 USC 1844(b) Bank Holding Company Act

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 225

Abstract: A provision of Regulation Y permits a state bank subsidiary of a bank holding company to engage through a nonbank subsidiary in any activity that is permissible under state law for the bank subsidiary itself, subject to the same limits as if the bank engages in the activity directly. (A similar rule applies to national bank subsidiaries regarding activities permissible for such banks under federal law.) The Board received comments on this provision in connection with its general request for comments in May 1983 regarding the proposed revision of Regulation Y. Some of the commenters challenged the Board's authority to issue this provision, although it has been part of Regulation Y since 1971. In taking final action on the revision of Regulation Y, the Board deferred consideration of the comments on this provision and allowed the existing rule to remain in effect in the interim (49 FR 794, January 5, 1984).

The Board plans to review this provision of the regulation in the near future in connection with the Board's rulemaking regarding real estate investment activities (see Docket Number R-0537 and R-0616). A determination to reverse the rule (CONT)

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1843

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 225

Abstract: In the near future, the Board will consider proposing for comment amendments to Regulation Y to implement the limitations on grandfathered nonbank banks and industrial banks set forth in the Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987 (CEBA). The limitations in CEBA on nonbank banks include restrictions on new activities, joint-marketing with affiliates, annual growth, and overdrafts. Only the overdraft restriction applies to industrial banks.

The overdraft restriction requires nonbank banks and industrial banks to keep records of their affiliates' transactions in order to measure overdrafts. Because the overdraft restriction is required by CEBA, small entities cannot be exempted from this recordkeeping requirement.

3733. REGULATION: D - RESERVE REQUIREMENTS OF DEPOSITORY INSTITUTIONS (DOCKET NUMBER: R-0571)

Legal Authority: 12 USC 248(k); 12 USC 461(a)

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 204

Abstract: In May 1986, the Board issued for comment rules to clarify the definition of "deposit" in Regulation D to include the interest or liability associated with a borrowing in the form of certain sales of assets and related transactions by a depository institution (51 FR 16855, May 7, 1986). These transactions include a sale of assets that involves a full guarantee by the institution that, in effect, substitutes the institution's credit standing for that of the ultimate borrower and in which the institution retains the risk of borrower default after the asset is sold.

Further, the regulation currently treats obligations of an affiliate as deposits of the depository institution to the extent the proceeds are provided to the depository institution. The Board proposes to exclude proceeds received from a sale of assets without recourse to the affiliate. The proposal also would clarify the application of Regulation D to certain of these transactions involving organizations effectively controlled by the depository institution even though not formally affiliated. 3734. REGULATION: K - INTERNATIONAL BANKING OPERATIONS (DOCKET NUMBER: R-0550)

Legal Authority: 12 USC 611 et seq

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 211

Abstract: In August 1985, the Board published for comment proposed regulations that would restrict lending by an Edge Corporation to its affiliates where the Edge Corporation is not subject to the restrictions of section 23A of the Federal Reserve Act (12 USC 371c) because it is not owned by a U.S. insured bank (50 FR 35238, August 30, 1985). In taking this action, the Board noted the increasing number of owners of Edge Corporations that are not subject to federal banking supervision and the potential adverse effects that might result from such affiliations, such as the impairment of the Edge's ability to act as an impartial arbiter of credit. The Board requested comment on the effect of the proposal on existing Edge Corporations, especially those owned by foreign banks and whether any exemptions from the restrictions are appropriate.

It is not expected that the proposal would have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small businesses, because it applies only to organizations involved in international banking. (CONT)

The proposed limits are designed to ensure that conduct of the activity does not result in unsafe or unsound practices, unfair competition, conflicts of interest or other adverse effects.

The Board requested public comment on a number of specific items, including whether real estate investment activities may be deemed to be closely related to banking and a proper incident thereto for purposes of section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act; whether the proposed limits on the size, scope and manner in which the activity would be conducted are appropriate; whether nonbank companies owned by holding company banks should be permitted or prohibited from conducting these activities; and whether the Board should establish special capital requirements for bank holding companies that control banks directly engaged in these activities.

Abstract: In September 1987, the Board requested public comment regarding whether the Board should authorize bank holding companies to acquire thrift institutions as a general matter under section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act (52 FR 36041, September 25, 1987). The Board currently permits bank holding companies to acquire thrift institutions only if the thrift is failing or has failed, and the acquisition is likely to result in revitalization of the thrift. The Board has requested comment regarding whether changes in the economic and regulatory environment, in particular, the expansion of the powers of thrifts and the growth in state initiatives authorizing interstate banking, justify revisions of the Board's policy and the authorization of thrift acquisitions by bank holding companies. The Board also requested comment on what, if any, conditions the Board should impose on bank holding companies seeking to acquire thrifts in order to assure that the public benefits of the acquisition do not outweigh the adverse effects.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 3907; 12 USC 3901 International Lending Supervision Act of 1983

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 225, Appendix A

Abstract: In January 1986, the Board proposed to amend its Capital Adequacy Guidelines by adding a risk-based capital measure to supplement existing ratios of primary and total capital to total assets. Based in part on comments received in response to that earlier proposal the Board, in conjunction with the other federal bank regulatory agencies and the Bank of England, published a revised capital proposal in February 1987, which would have established minimum risk-based capital standards applicable to commercial banking organizations in the United States and the United Kingdom. Implementation of the U.S./U.K. proposal was deferred to enlist the participation of additional countries in the development of a broader international risk-based capital framework.

On January 27, 1987, the Board requested public comment on a revised capital guidelines proposal, in lieu of the U.S./U.K. measure, that is based upon a risk-based capital framework developed jointly during the past year by supervisory authorities from 12 major industrial countries. The proposal also provides for transitional arrangements and a phase-in period to facilitate adoption and implementation of the measure. This proposal has been designed to take account of those practices which have been engaged in primarily by larger banking organizations. Moreover, the major parts of the proposal have been structured to apply generally only to bank holding companies with assets of $150 million or more. Consequently, the proposal is not likely to have a significant economic impact on smaller banking organizations.

The Board will review the comments on its revised proposal and will coordinate with other federal banking agencies with respect to the issuance of parallel guidelines or regulations implementing the proposal. Further action is expected by year-end 1988.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1604, as amended, Truth in Lending Act

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 226

Abstract: In December 1987, the Board proposed amending Regulation Z to require more disclosures about home equity lines secured by a consumer's principal dwelling much earlier in the credit process and in a standard format (52 FR 48702, December 24, 1987). Creditors would have to give additional information about the terms and conditions of a home equity plan. In the case of variable-rate loans, creditors would have to give more information about the variable-rate feature, as well as an historical table showing the effects of index changes on interest rates over a fifteen-year period. In cases where the interest rate has been adjusted, creditors also would have to provide more variable-rate information on or with the first periodic statement that is sent to consumers. Finally, creditors would have to provide consumers with a brochure that describes home equity loans. Most home equity plans contain complex terms and conditions and are riskier than the typical open-end credit plan because of the risk to the consumer's home in the event of default. The Board is concerned that consumers are not receiving sufficient information about the terms and conditions of (CONT)

Legal Authority: 12 USC 4001 et seq

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 229; 12 CFR 210

Abstract: In December 1987, the Board proposed for public comment a new rule, Regulation CC, to implement the Expedited Funds Availability Act (52 FR 47112, December 11, 1987). The proposal sets out the requirements that banks and other depository institutions make funds deposited into accounts available according to specified time schedules and that institutions disclose their funds availability policies to their customers. The proposed regulation also establishes rules to speed the return of unpaid checks. The Board proposed to amend its existing Regulation J, which governs the collection of checks by Federal Reserve Banks, to conform to the new regulation. The proposed Regulation CC and the amendments to Regulation J would apply to all depository institutions, regardless of size, except that small institutions that do not hold transaction accounts would be exempt from the availability, disclosure, and payment of interest requirements.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 221 et seq

CFR Citation: 00 CFR None

Abstract: In December 1986, the Board requested comment on several proposals that would refine its policy statement on payment system risk (51 FR 45042, December 16, 1986). The proposals included modifying automated clearing house transactions to reduce risks (R-0591) and various proposals to charge a fee for daylight overdrafts as a way of reducing risks associated with them (R-0592). It is not expected that these actions will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, because small entities do not usually participate in large-dollar wire transfer systems. In December 1987, following review of public comments, the Board approved changes in the automated clearing house mechanism to reduce risk (52 FR 49086, December 29, 1987). Action on pricing of daylight overdrafts (Docket No. R-0592) is expected in the Fall of 1988.

Further, the Board will be conducting a zero-based review of its risk reduction policy during 1988.

3744. REGULATION: F - SECURITIES OF STATE MEMBER BANKS (DOCKET NUMBER: R-0609)

Legal Authority: 15 USC 78g Securities Exchange of 1934

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 206; 12 CFR 208

Abstract: In August 1987, the Board issued for comment a proposal to amend Regulation F to require publicly held state member banks to file information with the Board on the forms nonbanking entities use to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") (52 FR 30690, August 17, 1987). Pursuant to section 12(i) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Board is mandated to issue disclosure regulations that are substantially identical to the SEC's disclosure regulations under that Act, or to publish reasons why the Board's rules are not substantially identical to those of the SEC.

In December 1987, following review of public comments the Board rescinded Regulation F and amended Regulation H (Membership of State Banking Institutions in the Federal Reserve System) to require the above information. The amendment also permits state member banks with no foreign offices and total assets of $150 million or less to substitute financial statements from quarterly reports of condition filed with the Board for the financial statements normally required on SEC Form 10-Q.

Adoption of the proposal is not expected to have a (CONT)

Legal Authority: 15 USC 78g Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; 15 USC 78w Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 220

Abstract: In August 1987, the Board requested comment on a proposed amendment to Regulation T that would permit broker-dealers to facilitate the exercise of valuable employee stock options by employees. In lieu of the securities to be received upon exercise of the option, the proposed amendment would allow the broker-dealer to accept a fully-endorsed employee stock option and instructions to the employer to deliver the securities to the broker-dealer. In December 1987, following review of public comments, the Board approved the amendment with a slight change in wording (52 FR 48804, December 18, 1987).

It is not anticipated that this proposal will affect a significant portion of the overall lending activities of a substantial number of small firms.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 78g Securities Exchange of 1934, as amended; 15 USC 78w Securities Exchange of 1934, as amended

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 221

Abstract: In August 1987, the Board requested comment on a proposed amendment to Regulation U that would exempt banks making loans of $100,000 or under from the requirement that Form FR U-1 must be executed, and amend the form to reflect this change (52 FR 29701, August 11, 1987). The purpose is to reduce the paperwork burden associated with the preparation of Form FR U-1 which is currently required whenever a bank makes a loan secured by "margin stock."

Following review of public comments, the Board approved the amendment in substantially the form proposed (52 FR 35683, September 23, 1987).

It is anticipated that this proposal will reduce paperwork burden on small banks and, therefore, will have no adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1841 et seq Bank Holding Company Act

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 225

Abstract: In January 1985, the Board requested comment as to whether it should permit bank holding companies that own nonbank banks to provide them with internal administrative services and to establish management interlocks with them (50 FR 2057, January 15, 1985). ("Nonbank banks" are institutions that are chartered as banks but either do not accept demand deposits or do not make commercial loans.) The Board took this action to resolve a number of questions that had been raised regarding the appropriate scope of relationships between nonbank banks and their affiliates. It is likely that any action the Board might take would primarily affect larger bank holding systems and would relax a requirement or prohibition. Therefore, it is expected that any Board action would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

The Board suspended further consideration of nonbank bank applications by bank holding companies, pending a definitive resolution, through pending litigation, of the status of nonbank banks. However, in view of the redefinition of the term "bank" in the recently enacted Competitive Equality Banking Act of (CONT)

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1604, as amended, Truth in Lending Act

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 226

Abstract: In November 1986, the Board proposed that creditors make more extensive disclosure of the variable rate feature in transactions secured by a consumer's home. The proposal called for disclosure about variable rate loans early in the credit shopping process and at subsequent times prior to payment adjustments. Following the review of public comments and further analysis, the Board adopted a final rule in December 1987 (52 FR 48665, December 18, 1987). The amendments require that creditors provide consumers general descriptive material about adjustable rate mortgages as well as provide a disclosure describing the adjustable rate mortgage programs in which the consumer expresses an interest. This disclosure would include an example showing the effect of historical change in a creditor's index over a 15-year period on the payments and balance on a $10,000 loan. The initial and maximum interest rates and payments for a $10,000 loan also would be stated. Finally, the amendments require annual notice of interest rate adjustments and prior notice of payment adjustments.

3749. REGULATION: Z - TRUTH IN LENDING (DOCKET NUMBER: R-0613)

Legal Authority: PL 100-86 Competitive Equality Banking Act of 1987

CFR Citation: 12 CFR 226

Abstract: In September 1987, the Board published for comment a proposal to amend Regulation Z to implement section 1204 of the Competitive Equality Banking Act (CEBA), which requires creditors to include a maximum interest rate ceiling in adjustable rate mortgage loans that are secured by a dwelling. Section 1204 of CEBA became effective on December 9, 1987.

In November 1987, following the review of public comments and further analysis, the Board adopted a final rule (52 FR 43178, November 9, 1987). The regulatory amendment -- section 226.30 of Regulation Z -- requires creditors to include a maximum interest rate ceiling in all dwelling-secured consumer credit obligations entered into on or after December 9, 1987 that are subject to the Truth in Lending Act -- both open and closed end credit -- and that contractually allow for interest rate adjustments during the term of the obligation.

The proposal is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small banks.

3750. PROPOSED GUIDELINES REGARDING THE BANK BRIBERY ACT (DOCKET NUMBER: R-0603)

Legal Authority: 18 USC 215(d) Bank Bribery Amendments Act of 1985

CFR Citation: 00 CFR None

Abstract: As required by the Bank Bribery Amendments Act of 1985, the Board, in May 1987, issued for public comment proposed guidelines that encourage all state member banks and bank holding companies to adopt internal codes of conduct of written policies or amend their present codes of conduct or policies to describe the prohibitions contained in the Bank Bribery Act. The Bank Bribery Act prohibits anyone, including a financial institution's employees, officers, directors, agents or attorneys, from corruptly soliciting or accepting anything of value in connection with the business of the financial institution. The Board's guidelines also identify situations that, in the opinion of the Board, may not constitute violations of the Bank Bribery Act. The proposed guidelines are not expected to have a significant impact on small banking entities.

In October 1987 following review of the public comments, the Board adopted the guidelines without any significant change (52 FR 39277, October 21, 1987).

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Federal Trade Commission.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The following agenda of Commission proceedings is published in accordance with section 22(d)(1) of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. 57b-3(d)(1), and section 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 610(c). Each projected event reflects the FTC staff's assessment of events that it expects will occur in the listed proceedings during the coming year. No Commission determination on the need for or the substance of a trade regulation rule or any other procedural option should be inferred from the projected events included in this agenda.

Several agenda items concern proceedings that may affect a substantial number of small businesses as that term is used in the Regulatory Flexibility Act. Whether any such proceeding will result in a rule which is likely to have a significant economic impact on such entities depends upon final Commission determinations on the need for and the substance of a trade regulation rule.

Except for notice of completed actions, the information in this agenda represents the judgment of Commission staff, based upon information now available. These views should not be regarded as a final staff position, nor should they be attributed to the Commission itself. The Commission will address the issues presented on the rulemaking record in the final consideration of each proceeding.

Agenda items include the projected timing of certain future actions. In most instances the dates of future events are listed by month, not a specific day. Further details may be obtained from the agency contact responsible for a particular proceeding. Discovery of new information, change of circumstances, or changes in the law may alter the information set forth in this agenda.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Further details may be obtained from the agency contact responsible for a particular proceeding.

By direction of the Commission.

3751. COOLING-OFF PERIOD FOR DOOR-TO-DOOR SALES

Legal Authority: 15 USC 41 et seq Federal Trade Commission Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 429

Abstract: The rule states that sellers of consumer goods or services with a purchase price of $25.00 or more who sell away from their place of business must furnish to the buyer certain information regarding the buyer's right to cancel sales within three business days and must give the buyer a full refund of any down payment upon the buyer's cancellation. The rule requires a seller to furnish the buyer with a complete receipt or copy of a contract, along with a notice informing the buyer of the right to cancel the transaction, and to furnish the buyer with a completed Notice of Cancellation. The rule is intended to benefit consumers by permitting them to reflect on their purchase and the terms of any contract, to compare the purchase with offerings of other sellers, and to ascertain the accuracy of any representations made. The resulting costs to sellers include the costs associated with cancellation (processing cancelled orders, returning downpayments, retrieving delivered goods, and returning traded-in merchandise) and the additional cost of printing the required cancellation notices. 3752. MAIL ORDER MERCHANDISE

Legal Authority: 15 USC 41 et seq Federal Trade Commission Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 435

Abstract: The Commission's rule concerning mail order merchandise was promulgated on October 22, 1975. The rule requires mail order sellers to possess a reasonable basis for any claims made concerning shipping date or, in the absence of any specifically stated date, to ship the ordered merchandise within thirty (30) days of receipt of an order. In the event of delays in shipment, the rule establishes notification procedures whereby buyers have the option either to agree to the delay or to cancel the order and receive a prompt refund. The Commission's rule is designed to address a number of significant consumer problems described on the record of the rulemaking proceeding, including failure to deliver ordered merchandise, unexplained delays in delivery, failure to make prompt (or any) refunds upon cancellation of an order, and inability to obtain responses to inquiries about pending orders. The rule enables consumers to obtain ordered merchandise within a reasonable time period or, if delays occur, to cancel the order and obtain a prompt refund, so that losses due to undelivered merchandise, delays, and inadequate or nonexistent refunds can be avoided. By subjecting sellers (cont)

Pursuant to Sec. 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Commission has reviewed this rule and determined that it has not had a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. In addition, the staff is considering whether the rule should be amended to cover orders placed by telephone or other electronic means. Whether changes to the rule will be proposed will not be determined until the staff's review has been completed.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 2309; 15 USC 2310(a)(2) Magnuson-Moss Warranty--FTC Improvements Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 703

Abstract: The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, enacted on January 4, 1975, requires that the Federal Trade Commission promulgate a rule prescribing the minimum requirements for any informal dispute settlement procedure which is incorporated into the terms of a written warranty subject to the Act. Because warrantors are not required to incorporate such procedures into warranties, the rule applies only to warrantors who choose to do so. The

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1333

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 300

Abstract: The Fair Packaging and Labeling Act, 15 USC 1453-1455, was passed in 1968 to eliminate consumer confusion and deception and to enable consumers to obtain accurate information as to the quantity of package contents and to facilitate value comparisons. The FTC has enforcement responsibility over package disclosures placed on "consumer commodities" as defined in the FPLA. The Commission has begun a review of its rules implementing the FPLA in accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The purpose of this review is limited to determining whether the FPLA rules should be continued without change, or should be amended or rescinded in order to minimize any significant economic impact the rules may have on a substantial number of small entities.

3755. REVIEW OF THE FUNERAL INDUSTRY PRACTICES RULE

Legal Authority: 15 USC 45; 15 USC 46(g); 15 USC 57(a)

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 453

Abstract: The funeral industry practices rule, which became effective on April 30, 1984, seeks to increase consumer access to accurate information about prices and legal requirements prior to and at the time of purchase of funeral goods and services. The Rule: (1) requires funeral directors to provide consumers with itemized pre-sale disclosures; (2) prohibits misrepresentation of legal and cemetery requirements and the preservative or protective value of embalming, caskets, and vaults; (3) prohibits funeral directors from requiring a casket for cremations, or any other tie-in arrangements; (4) prohibits funeral directors from charging for goods and services not specifically ordered, such as embalming, unless required by law; and (5) requires funeral directors to give, on request, price information over the telephone. The Rule provides that no later than four years after its effective date, the Commission will begin a rulemaking to determine whether the Rule should be amended or terminated. Legal Authority: 15 USC 45 Federal Trade Commission Act; 15 USC 57(a) Federal Trade Commission Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 433

Abstract: The objective of the proposed amendment is to ensure that a purchaser's duty to pay is not separated from sellers' duty to perform when consumer sales are financed by third party creditors or purchase money lenders. The original rule requires sellers to ensure that credit contracts used in consumer installment sales and purchase money loans contain a provision that makes any holder of the contract subject to all legal claims and defenses related to the sale transaction which the buyer may have against the seller. The proposed amendment would extend to creditors the obligation to ensure that credit contracts contain the required provision. Benefits from the proposed amendments may include improvement in the retail market due to increased scrutiny by creditors of the sellers with whom they do business and availability to consumers of additional claims and defenses against creditors. Some creditors may have increased costs associated with screening contracts and monitoring the reputations of retailers with whom they deal. Legal Authority: 15 USC 18a Clayton Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 801; 16 CFR 802; 16 CFR 803; 16 CFR 803, (Apendix)

Abstract: The Premerger Notification Rules and the Antitrust Improvements Act Notification and Report Form were adopted pursuant to Section 7A of the Clayton Act. Section 7A requires firms of a certain size contemplating mergers or acquisitions of a specified size to file notification with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) and to wait a designated period before consummating the transaction. It also requires the FTC, with the concurrence of the Assistant Attorney General for Antitrust, to promulgate rules requiring that notification be in a form and contain information necessary to enable the FTC and DOJ to determine whether the proposed acquisition may, if consummated, violate the antitrust laws. These rules are continually reviewed in order to improve the program's effectiveness and reduce the paperwork burden on the business community. In February 1987, the Commission promulgated nine amendments, most of which were designed to reduce the burden of notification. In May 1987, the Commission promulgated an amendment to require that acquisitions by partnerships be reported by persons controlling the partnerships. (cont)

3758. GAMES OF CHANCE IN THE FOOD RETAILING AND GASOLINE INDUSTRIES RULE

Legal Authority: 15 USC 45 Federal Trade Commission Act; 15 USC 57(a) Federal Trade Commission Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 419

Abstract: The Commission's trade regulation rule concerning games of chance became effective on October 17, 1969. The rule establishes requirements for food and gasoline retailers in conducting and advertising games of chance by requiring disclosure of odds-of-winning and prize information in broadcast and print advertisements, as well as in point of sale information. In January, 1983, the Commission granted a temporary partial exemption to allow supermarkets and gas stations to advertise their games on radio and television without disclosing full information on prizes and odds-of-winning. In addition, the Commission also published an advance notice of proposed rulemaking on whether to make the broadcast exemption permanent. Finally, the Commission has proposed to reduce the recordkeeping requirements of the rule from three years to one year in keeping with the goals of the Paperwork Reduction Act, and requested public comment on other possible areas where amendments to the rule may be appropriate. The rule benefits consumers by allowing contestants to enter games of chance with full knowledge of all material information to enable equal competition for (cont)

3759. REVIEW OF CONTENT DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS FOR TEXTILE, WOOL, AND FUR PRODUCTS

Legal Authority: 15 USC 68b(d); 15 USC 70j; 15 USC 69f(b)

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 300, (Wool); 16 CFR 301, (Fur); 16 CFR 303, (Textile)

Abstract: The Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939 Requires all wool products to bear a label showing the percentage of wool, recycled wool, and non-wool fibers contained in the product and the name of the manufacturer or other distributor. The Textile Fiber Products Identification Act requires each household textile product to bear a label showing the percentage of each fiber contained in the product, using the appropriate generic name for the fiber, and the name of the manufacturer or distributor. Advertisements for textile products must also show the required information if any mention of fiber content is made. Both acts require disclosure of country of origin. The Fur Products Labeling Act requires that all furs and fur products be labeled, invoiced, and advertised to show the true name of the animal that produced the fur, whether the fur is used, dyed, or imported, and the name of the manufacturer or distributor. The three acts, as well as the Commission's rules implementing them, apply to manufacturers, distributors, and retailers of textile, wool, and fur products. (cont)

3760. OPHTHALMIC PRACTICE RULES

Legal Authority: 15 USC 45 Federal Trade Commission Act; 15 USC 57(a) Federal Trade Commission Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 456, (Revision)

Abstract: In January, 1985, The Commission Published an NPRM seeking public comment on a proposed trade regulation rule that would have the effect of superseding certain state-imposed restrictions on the forms of practice and other business aspects of the delivery of eye care to consumers. The hearings have been completed and the reports required by the Commission's rules have been submitted. On February 10, 1988, the Commission voted to promulgate a trade regulation rule that would prohibit certain state restrictions on optometrists' commercial practices. The rule would remove four state restrictions, including those that ban optometrists from having offices in shopping centers. The Commission also voted to continue requiring eye doctors to give consumers their eyeglass prescriptions automatically. The recommended rule would also prohibit the following state restrictions: (1) limitations on the number of branch offices that optometrists may own or operate; (2) prohibitions on the practice of optometry in commercial locations, such as shopping malls; (3) prohibitions on employer-employee or other affiliations between optometrists and persons who are not (cont)

Legal Authority: 15 USC 45 Federal Trade Commission Act; 15 USC 57(a) Federal Trade Commission Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 438, (New)

Abstract: In 1979, the Second Circuit Court of Appeals set aside the rule as originally issued by the Commission, citing problems with some of the remedies that the rule provided to purchasers of proprietary vocational training. Late in 1987, the Staff forwarded recommendations as to how the Commission should respond to the Court's decision. Alternatives include terminating the rule or issuing a revised rule. Alternatives to rulemaking include case-by-case enforcement, and FTC intervention before other state and federal agencies having jurisdiction over vocational schools to prevent deceptive practices. The rule may benefit consumers by enabling them to avoid expenditures on inappropriate courses and increasing the effectiveness of the vocational school industry in training and placing people in productive jobs. The cooling-off, track record disclosures, and refund components of the rule variations under consideration would impose real social costs on schools covered (cont)

Price increases may result from these costs as well as the possibility of paying out increased refunds. The rule should be most costly to schools that use unfair or deceptive practices to induce students to enroll in their courses. Schools that do not use these practices may not incur significant cost increases. The rule seeks to deter deceptive sales practices by requiring schools to provide material information to prospective students, and to provide students with contractual remedies which they can use to protect themselves when necessary. Most of the 6,000 schools that would be affected by the rule are small businesses.

3762. RETAIL FOOD STORE ADVERTISING AND MARKETING PRACTICES

Legal Authority: 15 USC 41 et seq Federal Trade Commission Act

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 424

Abstract: The Commission's Rule on Retail Food Store Advertising and Marketing Practices states that it is a violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act for grocery stores to advertise products at a particular price unless such products are in stock and conspicuously and readily available for sale at the advertised price during the effective period of the advertisement. If a store runs out of advertised products, it is in violation of the rule even if the store noted the limitations on availability in its advertisement and even if the store provides rainchecks or substitute items. The rule is intended to benefit consumers by ensuring that advertised items are available, that advertising-induced purchasing trips are not fruitless, and that store prices accurately reflect the prices appearing in the ads. The rule may cause costs to be incurred in maintaining sufficient inventory to meet anticipated demand, and costs associated with the monitoring of price changes, changing marked prices, training employees to comply with the rule and keeping records to prove compliance. Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: The rule may also discourage the advertising of certain kinds of products, such as perishables or goods that are available to the store only in limited supply. The staff concluded from a careful review of the rule's effects that the costs the rule imposes on consumers in the form of higher grocery prices significantly exceeds its benefits. Consequently, staff recommended that the rule be modified so that a store could comply with the rule by clearly and adequately disclosing in its advertisements that there are limitations on availability, or by offering rainchecks or substitute items if supplies run out. The staff concluded that modifying the rule in this way will maintain any benefits it provides to consumers while substantially reducing its costs. The Commission published an NPRM in October, 1985. The hearings have been completed, and the Staff Report published. The staff has sent its recommendations to the Commission for its consideration.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6294 National Energy Conservation Policy Act; PL 94-163 Energy Policy and Conservation Act, Sec 324, 1975

CFR Citation: 16 CFR 305

Abstract: The Energy Policy and Conservation Act (EPCA) required the Commission to consider labeling rules for the disclosure of energy information, based on standard test procedures prescribed by the Department of Energy, for at least 13 categories of major household appliances. The Commission adopted a labeling rule for seven appliance categories: (1) refrigerators and refrigerator- freezers; (2) freezers; (3) dishwashers; (4) clothes washers; (5) water heaters; (6) room air conditioners; and (7) furnaces. The Commission exempted five other categories of appliances. In 1987, the Commission amended the rule to include central air conditioners and heat pumps and to include two new types of furnace under the rule's coverage. (cont)

Since the Commission's rule implements the statutory directives in EPCA, most of the costs imposed on industry members may not be attributable to the rule. The rule applies mainly to manufacturers of household appliances, but does impose some burdens on distributors and retailers. Some of these entities may be small businesses pursuant to Section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. Therefore, the Commission has reviewed the rule to determine whether it has had a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities and, if so, whether the rule should be amended. As a result of this review, several amendments will be proposed. These amendments would make the disclosure scheme more effective for consumers while reducing the paperwork burden estimate by some 5%.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

49 CFR Ch. X

[Ex Parte No. 420 (Sub-No. 14)]

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Notice of semiannual regulatory agenda to be part of a Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to OMB Bulletin No. 88-1, issued under section 6(b) of E.O. 12291 to implement the provisions of section 5 of the Executive Order concerning Regulatory Agendas, the Commission is publishing an agenda of (1) current and projected rulemakings, and (2) existing regulations being reviewed to determine whether to propose modifications through rulemaking. Listed below are the regulatory actions to be developed or reviewed during the next 12 months. Following each rule identified is a brief description of the rule including its purpose and legal basis.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: A contact person is identified for each of the rules listed below.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A list of proceedings appears below containing information about subject areas in which the Commission is currently conducting rulemaking proceedings or may institute such proceedings in the near future. It also contains information about existing regulations being reviewed to determine whether to propose modifications through rulemaking.

The agenda also identifies regulations likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities." Accordingly, this information will satisfy the requirements of section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 602.

Finally, this agenda will comprise part of a Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations compiled by the Office of Management and Budget which is to be published in a single issue of the Federal Register in April 1988. The purpose of the Unified Agenda is to provide the public with more comprehensive documentation of the Federal government's current regulatory plans, and to provide a systematic means of monitoring regulatory activity in each agency.

This notice is issued pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 10321 and 5 U.S.C. 553.

Decided: January 25, 1988.

By the Commission, Chairman Gradison, Vice Chairman Andre, Commissioners Sterrett, Lamboley, and Simmons.

Noreta R. McGee,

Secretary.

Legal Authority: 49 USC 10505

CFR Citation: 49 CFR 1039

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: 49 USC 10505 requires that the Commission exempt from regulation the movement by rail of traffic for which it finds continued regulation no longer necessary to serve the Nation's transportation policy objectives and to protect shippers from abuse of market power by the railroads. In examining the transportation characteristics and markets of various commodities moving by rail, there appear to be many products for which sufficient competition exists among transportation alternatives so that regulation may no longer be necessary. Exemption of such commodities should provide increased rate and service flexibility for railroads to meet shippers' needs and to compete more effectively for the subject traffic. Anticipated benefits include lower rates and improved service, at a possible "cost" of increased price instability and competition to alternative transport firms.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION (NCUA)

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

12 CFR Ch. VII

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: National Credit Union Administration (NCUA).

ACTION: Semiannual agenda of regulations.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to its ongoing policy of reviewing regulations, NCUA is publishing a list of current and projected rulemaking, reviews of existing regulations, and completed actions as of January 31, 1988. NCUA will also include this agenda in the "Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations."

DATE: This information is current as of January 31, 1988.

ADDRESS: National Credit Union Administration, 1776 G Street, NW., Washington, DC 20456.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: On a particular regulation, contact the person(s) named in the listing for that regulation at the above address.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of this agenda is to enable credit unions and the public to follow regulatory development and review at NCUA and to enable interested parties to more effectively participate in that process. The agenda is divided into three parts: (1) Actions completed since the last agenda; (2) actions proposed but not completed; and (3) actions planned but not yet proposed to the NCUA Board. Interpretive Rulings and Policy Statements (IRPS) and Guidelines promulgated by NCUA are also included in the agenda.

The agenda is published pursuant to NCUA Interpretive Ruling and Policy Statement IRPS 87-2 ("Developing and Reviewing Government Regulations") (52 FR 35231). The Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601, et seq.) does not require independent executive agencies such as NCUA to publish their agenda, but NCUA has voluntarily decided to do so by including this agenda in the Office of Management and Budget's next publication of its "Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations."

Approved by the NCUA Board this 10th day of February, 1988.

Becky Baker,

Secretary of the Board.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION (NRC)

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

10 CFR Ch. I

Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Semiannual publication of NRC regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is publishing its semiannual Regulatory Agenda in accordance with Pub. L. 96-354, "the Regulatory Flexibility Act," and Executive Order 12291, "Federal Regulations." The agenda is a compilation of all rules on which the NRC has recently completed action or has proposed, or is considering action. This issuance updates any action occurring on rules since publication of the last semiannual agenda on October 26, 1987.

ADDRESSES: Comments on any rule in the agenda may be sent to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Branch. Comments may also be hand delivered to Room 1131, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, DC, between 7:30 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. Comments received on rules for which the comment period has closed will be considered if it is practical to do so, but assurance of consideration cannot be given except as to comments received on or before the closure dates specified in the agenda.

The agenda and any comments received on any rule listed in the agenda are available for public inspection, and copying at a cost of six cents per page, at the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, DC 20555.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information concerning NRC rulemaking procedures or the status of any rule listed in this agenda, contact David L. Meyer, Chief, Rules and Procedures Branch, Division of Rules and Records, Office of Administration and Resources Management, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555, Telephone (301) 492-7086. Persons outside the Washington, DC metropolitan area may call toll-free: (800) 368-5642. For further information on the substantive content of any rule listed in the agenda, contact the individual listed under the heading "Agency Contact" for that rule.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Although publication of the agenda is only required semiannually in April and October, the NRC has chosen to update and publish its agenda each quarter. However, the information contained in this semiannual publication is updated to reflect any action which has occurred on rules since publication of the last NRC semiannual agenda on October 26, 1987.

Organization of the Agenda

Rules in this agenda are divided into four groups: (1) The Prerule Stage, which includes all rules which will be published in the Federal Register as advance notices of proposed rulemaking, (2) the Proposed Rule Stage, which includes all unpublished rules and published advance notices of proposed rulemaking on which the NRC expects to take action, (3) Final Rule Stage, which includes all rules which have been published in the Federal Register as proposed rules and on which the NRC plans to take final action, and (4) Completed Actions, which include all rules which have been finally promulgated or withdrawn since publication of the last semiannual agenda.

Within each group, the rules are ordered from lowest to highest 10 CFR part, and when more than one rule appears under the same part, the rules are arranged within the part according to the date of most recent publication. If a rule contains changes to more than one 10 CFR part, the rule is listed under the lowest affected part.

The information in this agenda has been updated through February 29, 1988. The date included under the heading "timetable," for next scheduled action indicates the date the rule is scheduled to be published in the Federal Register. The date is considered tentative and is not binding on the Commission or its staff. This Regulatory Agenda is intended to provide increased notice and opportunity for public participation in the NRC rulemaking process. The NRC may, however, consider or act on any rulemaking even if it is not included in the Regulatory Agenda.

The NRC agenda lists 64 rulemaking actions. Of these, no rulemaking item is considered to be priority or major as defined in section 1(b) of Executive Order 12291.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland this 22nd day of February 1988.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Donnie H. Grimsley,

Director, Division of Rules and Records, Office of Administration and Resources Management.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION (NRC) — Prerule Stage

3811. RADIOACTIVE WASTE BELOW REGULATORY CONCERN; GENERIC RULEMAKING

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 2; 10 CFR 20

Abstract: The advance notice of proposed rulemaking seeks comments on a proposal to amend NRC regulations to address disposal of radioactive wastes that contain sufficiently low quantities of radionuclides that their disposal does not need to be regulated as radioactive.

The NRC has already published a policy statement providing guidance for filing petitions for rulemaking to exempt individual waste streams (August 29, 1986; 51 FR 30839). It is believed that generic rulemaking could provide a more efficient and effective means of dealing with disposal of wastes below regulatory concern. Generic rulemaking would supplement the policy statement which was a response to Section 10 of the Low- Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendment Act of 1985 (Pub. L. 99-240). The public will be asked to comment on 14 questions. The ANPRM requests public comment on several alternative approaches the NRC could take. Public comment will help to determine whether and how NRC should proceed on the matter.

3812. COMPREHENSIVE QUALITY ASSURANCE IN MEDICAL USE AND A STANDARD OF CARE

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2111; 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 35

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is considering amendments to its regulations governing the use of byproduct material for radiation therapy. In addition to current requirements, the contemplated amendments would require licensees that offer teletherapy or brachtherapy services to implement a comprehensive quality assurance program to reduce the chance of misadministrations. The advance notice requests comment on the extent to which additional radiopharmaceutical quality assurance requirements are needed and seek recommendations on several questions being addressed in the comprehensive rulemaking effort.

3813. DEGREE REQUIREMENT FOR SENIOR OPERATORS AT NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50; 10 CFR 55

Abstract: The Commission is considering an amendment to its regulations to require that applicants for a senior operator license of a nuclear power plant hold a baccalaureate degree in engineering or a related science from an accredited institution after January 1, 1991. Other baccalaureate degrees from an accredited institution may be accepted on a case-by-case basis. This contemplated rulemaking action is due to a Commission decision to enhance the levels of engineering and accident management expertise on shift. The Commission is also considering issuing a policy statement concurrently with this rule related to utility implementation of the rule.

The staff analysis of comments on the ANPRM has been completed and options for rulemaking and/or policy statements to address degree requirements and training for accident management have been developed.

3814. + DEFINITION OF HIGH-LEVEL RADIOACTIVE WASTE (HLW) IN 10 CFR PART 60

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10101

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 60

Abstract: The proposed rulemaking seeks to revise the definition of HLW in Part 60 to reflect certain changes in the legal definition of HLW contained in the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982. A revision of the definition of HLW would affect DOE'S plans for a geologic repository, costs of waste disposal for certain waste generators, and the development of new technologies and facilities to dispose of certain type of wastes. A definition of HLW which clearly identifies these highly radioactive waste needing permanent isolation would benefit the radioactive waste management system. NRC staff time for processing this rule is estimated to be 4 staff years. Alternatives to rulemaking would be to take no action or request Congress to amend the NWPA. The rulemaking would eliminate uncertainty and reduce costs for the public, industry, and NRC.

3815. ● ENFORCEMENT OF NONDISCRIMINATION ON THE BASIS OF HANDICAP IN FEDERAL ASSISTED PROGRAMS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 4

Abstract: The proposed rule would amend regulations concerning the enforcement of section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, in Federally assisted programs or activities to include a cross reference to the Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards (UFAS). This action is necessary because some facilities subject to the new construction or alteration requirements under section 504 are also subject to the Architectural Barriers Act. Therefore, reference to UFAS by all government agencies would diminish the possibility that recipients of Federal financial assistance would face conflicting enforcement standards.

3816. ● REVISION OF DEFINITION OF MEETING

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 9

Abstract: The proposed rule would return the definition of "meeting" to its pre-1985 wording. The proposal is based on a study of comments submitted on an interim final rule published on May 21, 1985 (50 FR 20889) and the 1987 recommendations and report of the American Bar Association (ABA). Since the pre-1985 wording of the definition of meeting is fully adequate to permit the types of non-Sunshine Act discussions that the NRC believes would be useful, the proposal calls for the NRC to reinstitute its pre-1985 definition of meeting, with the intention of conducting its non-Sunshine Act discussions in accordance with the guidelines recommended by the ABA.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5841; 42 USC 5842; 42 USC 5846

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 40

Abstract: The proposed rule would provide procedures to license a custodian for the post-closure, long-term control of uranium mill tailings sites required by the Uranium Mill Tailings Radiation Control Act of 1978 (UMTRCA). This amendment would establish a general license for long-term possession and control of uranium mill tailings by the Department of Energy, other designated Federal agencies, or States when applicable. The general license would be formulated so that it would become effective for a particular site upon written NRC approval of a site-specific surveillance and maintenance plan. No impact to the public or industry is expected as a result of this proposed action.

3818. ● AMENDMENT TO CLARIFY EQUIVALENT CONTROL CAPACITY FOR STANDBY LIQUID CONTROL SYSTEMS (SLCS)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2136

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The proposed rule would clarify the Commission's regulations pertaining to boiling water reactors (BWR). The current regulations require that all boiling water reactors must have a standby liquid control system (SLCS) with a minimum flow capacity and boron content equivalent in control capacity to 86 gallons per minute (gpm) of 13 weight percent of sodium pentaborate solution. In January 1985, a generic letter was issued to all appropriate licensees that provided clarification of the phrase "equivalent in control capacity" contained in section 50.62 (c) (4). This letter provided the basis for the flow and weight percent of sodium pentaborate decahydrate requirements and described how equivalency could be achieved for smaller plants. The NRC staff considers the contents of the generic letter to be technically correct and desired that this position be established in the regulations.

3819. ● LICENSEE ANNOUNCEMENT OF INSPECTORS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is proposing to amend its regulations to ensure that the presence of NRC inspectors on power reactor sites is not announced to licensee and contractor personnel without the expressed request to do so by the inspector. This change would allow the NRC inspector, who is badged at the facility, to observe ongoing activities as they are naturally occurring without licensee or contractor personnel having advanced notice of the inspection.

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 52

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is considering adding a new part to its regulations to improve the reactor licensing process. The proposed rule would provide for the issuance of early site permits, standard design certifications, and combine construction permits and conditional operating licenses for nuclear power reactors. These procedural reforms are intended to improve the quality, effectiveness, and efficiency of nuclear power plant licensing without detracting from protection of the public health and safety or the public's ability to participate in the licensing process. They are designed to implement as much of the Commission's proposed "Nuclear Power Plant Standardization and Licensing Act of 1987" as is permissible under its existing statutory authority. The proposed legislation is based on an earlier proposal that was developed by the Commission's Regulatory Reform Task Force. If licensing reform legislation is ultimately enacted, the rules can be modified to implement that legislation fully.

3821. + ELIMINATION OF INCONSISTENCIES BETWEEN NRC REGULATIONS AND EPA STANDARDS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10101

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 60

Abstract: The Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 directs NRC to promulgate criteria for the licensing of HLW geologic repositories. Section 121 (c) of this act states that these criteria must be consistent with standards to be developed by EPA for the disposal of HLW in deep geologic repositories. The proposed rule is needed in order to eliminate several inconsistencies with the EPA standards, thus fulfilling the statutory requirements.

Because the NWPA directs NRC to eliminate inconsistencies between Part 60 and the EPA standard, the alternatives to the proposed action are limited by statute.

The public, industry, and NRC will benefit from eliminating inconsistencies in Federal HLW regulations. NRC resources needed would be several staff years but will not include contract resources.

Because the Federal Court invalidated the EPA standards, action on this rule, which is in response to the EPA standards is undetermined.

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has deferred further consideration of this proposal which would have revised the Commissions's procedural rules governing the conduct of all adjudicatory proceedings, with the exception of export licensing proceedings. The proposed rule would comprehensively restate current practice , retitle the hearing office, and revise and reorganize the Commission's procedural rules. The changes in this proposed rule would enable the Commission to render decisions in a more timely fashion and reduce the burden and expense to the parties participating in the proceedings.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

Abstract: The proposed amendment would conform the NRC's regulations pertaining to the availability of official records to existing case law and agency practice. The amendment would reaffirm that the terms of 10 CFR 2.790 (c) provide submitters of information a qualified right to have their information returned upon request. This amendment informs the public of three exceptions to the right to withdraw pursuant to 10 CFR 2.790 (c) of the NRC's regulations, i.e., information submitted in a rulemaking proceeding that subsequently forms the basis for the final rule, information which has been made available to an advisory committee or was received at an advisory committee meeting, and information that is subject to a pending Freedom of Information Act request.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10101

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 2; 10 CFR 60

Abstract: The Nuclear Waste Policy Act (NWPA) provides three years for the NRC to reach a decision on construction authorization for a high level waste repository. In order for the NRC to be able to make its decision within the allotted time, ready access to all pertinent records must be assured to all parties in the licensing proceeding. The DOE has committed to develop an electronic information management system to be used for the licensing proceeding. The NRC staff intends to use the process of negotiated rulemaking to develop a proposed rule that would revise the Commission's discovery procedure and motion practice in 10 CFR Part 2 for the high level waste licensing proceeding.

This rule would require the DOE license application and all supporting records to be provided in a standardized electronic format. All parties to the licensing proceeding would be required to submit all relevant data to this system. In turn all parties would have access to the data base.

3825. ● STORAGE OF SPENT NUCLEAR FUEL IN NRC APPROVED CASKS AT CIVILIAN NUCLEAR POWER REACTOR SITES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10153; 42 USC 10198

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 2; 10 CFR 51; 10 CFR 72

Abstract: The proposed rule is in response to the Nuclear Waste Policy Act (NWPA) section 218 (a) which states in part, that the Secretary of DOE shall establish a demonstration program, in cooperation with the private sector, for dry storage of spent nuclear fuel at civilian nuclear power reactor sites, with the objective of establishing one or more technologies that the Commission may, by rule, approve for use at sites of civilian nuclear power reactors. The NWPA also requires that the NRC establish procedures for the licensing of any technology approved by the Commission under section 218(a) for use at the site of any civilian nuclear power reactor.

The staff anticipates a significant increase in the demand for use of dry spent fuel storage casks starting in the early 1990s, thus processing of this proposed rule would be timely. NRC resources requirements are anticipated to be about two staff years.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 11

Abstract: The current regulations require licensees to renew "R" clearances every 5 years. This level of clearance corresponds to the "L" clearances used by NRC and DOE which do not require renewal. Because of this equivalence, the renewal requirement for the"R" level licensee clearance is deemed unnecessary. This rulemaking would delete that requirement from Part 11. 3827. + RESIDUAL RADIOACTIVE CONTAMINATION LIMITS FOR DECOMMISSIONING

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 20

Abstract: The proposed rule would establish residual radioactive contamination limits (including induced and other volumetric radioactivity as well as removable and fixed surface contamination) which must be met before structures and lands with residual radioactive contamination below these limits would be eligible for release without regulatory restrictions from a radioactivity standpoint.

The proposed amendments were considered necessary to provide licensees with quantitative criteria to use during decommissioning relative to cleanup and decontamination of structures and lands.

Alternatives to rulemaking would be continued reliance on the issuance of criteria as guidance. However, the current criteria are incomplete, decisions on implementation and compliance are often required on a case-by-case basis, and criteria issued by guidance may not be enforced in the manner of legally binding regulations. The proposed rule would relieve the administrative burden on NRC and licensees while providing a consistent and enforceable basis for agency action. NRC resource requirements

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5841; 42 USC 5842; 42 USC 5846

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission proposes to clarify its regulations on the use of the terms "important to safety" and "safety related" by adding definitions of these two terms and of "facility licensing documents" to 10 CFR Part 50 and by discussing how these definitions will be applied in NRC licensing reviews. Significant issues concerning the meaning of these terms as they are used in this part have arisen in Commission licensing proceedings. This proposed rule would define those terms and clarify the nature and extent of their effect on quality assurance requirements, thereby resolving these issues.

Rulemaking was chosen as the method of resolving this issue as a result of the Commission's directive to resolve the issue by rulemaking contained in the Shoreham licensing decision (CLI-84-9, 19 NRC 1323, June 5, 1984).

A position paper requesting approval of the staff proposed definitions and additional guidance from the Commission was signed by the EDO on May 29, 1986. In addition to rulemaking, the position paper discusses the alternative of the Commission(cont)

Since the proposed rule is only clarifying existing requirements, their is no impact on the public or the industry as a result of this rulemaking. It is anticipated that the NRC will expend 3.2 to 4.4 staff years in developing the final rule over a two year period. The manpower and time frame will depend upon guidance from the Commission regarding the extent to which 10 CFR usage of the terms is to be consistent, i.e., 10 CFR Part 50 only or all of 10 CFR. The timetable for this rule is on hold based on a decision by the Commission.

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 71

Abstract: The proposed rule, would in conjunction with a corresponding rule change by the U.S. Department of Transportation, make the United States Federal regulations for the safe transportation of radioactive material consistent with those of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA). The IAEA regulations can be found in IAEA Safety Series No. 6 "Regulations for the Safe Transport of Radioactive Material," 1985 Edition.

Consistency in transportation regulations throughout the world facilitates the free movement of radioactive materials between countries for medical, research, industrial, and nuclear fuel cycle purposes. Consistency of transportation regulations throughout the world also contributes to safety by concentrating the efforts of the world's experts on a single set of safety standards and guidance (those of the IAEA) from which individual countries can develop their domestic regulations. Perhaps as important, the accident experience of every country that bases it domestic regulations on those of the IAEA can be applied by every other country with consistent regulations to improve its safety program. Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is considering an amendment to its regulations to create a new part that would pertain to uranium enrichment facilities. The construction and operation of these facilities are currently licensed under the NRC regulations for other production and utilization facilities (e.g., nuclear power plants) in 10 CFR Part 50. The advance notice of proposed rulemaking seeks comments on whether a separate set of regulations for uranium licensing is desirable.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION (NRC) Final Rule Stage

3831. ISSUANCE OR AMENDMENT OF POWER REACTOR LICENSE OR PERMIT FOLLOWING INITIAL DECISION

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2231; 42 USC 2241; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 2

Abstract: The proposed rule would amend the Commission's "immediate effectiveness' regulation that specifies when an initial adjudicatory decision authorizing the issuance or amendment of a license or permit becomes effective. The proposed rule would (1) remove the existing provision governing the effectiveness of initial decisions regarding power reactor construction permits and (2) revise the Commission's existing practice regarding "effectiveness reviews" for full-power operating licenses. The proposed rule also would delete language in the existing regulation emanating from Three Mile Island-related regulatory policies, action upon which now has been completed.

The proposed rule would supersede two prior proposed rules entitled "Possible Amendments to "Immediate Effectiveness Rules," published May 22, 1980 (45 FR 43279). and "Commission Review Procedures for Power Reactor Construction Permits; Immediate Effectiveness Rule," published October 25, 1982 (47 FR 47260).

Legal Authority: 5 USC 554 (d); 5 USC 557(d)

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 0; 10 CFR 2

Abstract: The proposed rule would amend the Commission's regulations dealing with ex parte communications and separation of adjudicatory and nonadjudicatory functions in formal adjudicatory proceedings by updating the agency's rules of practice and incorporating requirements imposed by the Government in the Sunshine Act. Changes are proposed in both the form and the substance of the existing rules to clarify their meaning and to aid agency adjudicatory officials in maintaining effective communication with NRC staff personnel and persons outside the agency while at the same time ensuring that proceedings will be conducted fairly and impartially. This proposed rule supersedes a prior proposed rule entitled, "Ex Parte Communications and Separation of Adjudicatory and Non Adjudicatory Functions," (3150-AA00) published March 7, 1979 (44 FR 12428).

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2231; 42 USC 2241; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 2

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is considering amendments to its rules of practice which address the following aspects of the hearing process: admission contentions, discovery against NRC staff, use of cross examination plans, timing of motions for summary disposition and limitations on matters and issues that may be included in proposed findings of fact or conclusions of law, or in an appellate brief submitted by a person who does not have the burden of proof or who has only a limited interest in the proceedings. These proposals were initially developed by the Regulatory Reform Task Force and published for public comment, together with a number of other proposals, as suggestions for procedural changes in the licensing of nuclear power plants. (49 FR 14698; April 12, 1984). The Commission has decided not to proceed with the April 1984 proposals, except to the extent that they were included in this proposed rule. Therefore, the April 1984 proposals have been deleted from the regulatory agenda.

The NRC is also considering related amendments on the process of intervention that were developed by Commissioner

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 30; 10 CFR 40; 10 CFR 50; 10 CFR 51; 10 CFR 70; 10 CFR 72

Abstract: The proposed rule would provide assurance that licensees fulfill their responsibility to dispose of licensed material including any associated contamination when they cease licensed activity. The proposed rule would also provide the applicant or licensee with appropriate regulatory guidance to decommission a nuclear facility. The issue is addressed through rulemaking to assure that funds for decommissioning will be available and the decommissioning will be carried out in an orderly manner. The Commission has indicated a need for this rulemaking in other previous rulemakings.

The major cost impact of the proposed rule would involve proper planning at all stages of nuclear facility operation. Proper planning includes providing for (1) financial assurance that funding will be available for decommissioning, (2) maintenance of records that could affect decommissioning, and (3) careful(cont)

For the approximately 110 power reactors estimated to be affected (i.e., those with operating licenses and those under construction which are at least two-thirds complete) plus 75 research and test reactors, it is estimated that the major impact will result in an aggregate expenditure of 3.8 staff-years ($288,000) spread over 3 years. These expenditures will ensure that adequate measures have been taken to protect the health and safety of occupational workers, the public, and the environment within the confines of optimum cost benefit consideration.

3835. PROCEDURES INVOLVING THE EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT: IMPLEMENTATION

Legal Authority: 5 USC 504

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 1; 10 CFR 2

Abstract: The proposed rule would implement the Equal Access to Justice Act (EAJA) by providing for the payment of fees and expenses to certain eligible individuals and businesses that prevail in agency adjudications when the agency's position is determined not to have been substantially justified. This proposed regulation is modelled after rules issued by the Administrative Conference of the United States (ACUS) and have been modified to conform to NRC's established rules of practice. The proposed rule would further the EAJA's intent to develop government-wide, "uniform" agency regulations and would describe NRC procedures and requirements for the filing and disposition of EAJA applications. A draft final rule was sent to the Commission in June 1982, but Commission action was suspended pending a decision by the Comptroller General on the availability of funds to pay awards to intervenor parties. This issue was also the subject of litigation in Business and Professional People for the Public Interest v. NRC, 793 F. 2d 1366 (D.C. Cir. 1986). This litigation is being evaluated to determine what if any changes may be necessary in the proposed rule. (cont)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2239

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 2

Abstract: The proposed rule would expedite conduct of NRC adjudicatory proceedings by requiring intervenors in formal NRC hearings to set forth the facts on which contentions are based and the sources or documents used to establish those facts and limit the number of interrogatories that a party may file in an NRC proceeding. The proposed rule would expedite the hearing process by, among other things, requiring intervenors to set forth at the outset the facts upon which their contention is based and the supporting documentation to give other parties early notice of intervenor's case so as to afford opportunity for early dismissal of contentions where there is no factual dispute. Expediting the hearing process should ultimately provide cost savings to all participants in the process. The content of this rule is being considered as part of the regulatory reform rulemaking package.

Abstract: The proposed rule would revise existing regulations to establish specific licensing requirements for the storage of spent nuclear fuel and high-level radioactive waste in a monitored retrievable storage installation (MRS). This revision is intended to ensure that the Commission has in place the appropriate regulations to fulfill the requirements contained in the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 concerning the licensing of facilities which could be part of the MRS program.

Paragraph (d) of Section 141 of the NWPA requires that any monitored retrievable storage installation pursuant to Section 141 be licensed by the Commission. The Commission could await further development of the MRS option before proposing its MRS rules. However, this approach could result in unnecessary delay in reviewing a license application if Congress authorizes construction of an MRS.

There is no appropriate alternative to rulemaking, the vehicle used by NRC to establish its licensing procedures.

3838. RETENTION PERIODS FOR RECORDS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 4; 10 CFR 11; 10 CFR 21; 10 CFR 25; 10 CFR 30; 10 CFR 31; 10 CFR 32; 10 CFR 34; 10 CFR 35; 10 CFR 40; 10 CFR 50; 10 CFR 60; 10 CFR 61; 10 CFR 70; 10 CFR 71; ...

Abstract: This proposed rule would establish a specific retention period for certain NRC-required records. It would also provide a uniform standard acceptable to the NRC for the condition of a record throughout a specified retention period. Further, the rule would establish throughout NRC regulations, with some exceptions, uniform retention periods of three years, five years, ten years, and the life of a license. This rule would bring NRC regulations into compliance with the Office of Management and Budget's (OMB) regulation (5 CFR 1320.6) that requires a specified retention period for each required record. It also implements NRC's 1982 commitment to OMB to establish a record retention period of determinable length for each required record.

Amending twenty one parts of NRC regulations to specify clearly what records to retain, how long to retain them, and the condition of a record useful for NRC inspection, will be mutually beneficial to applicants and licensees and to the NRC.

Recordkeeping labor for NRC's approximately 6,700 licensees who would be affected by the rule can be divided into four functions: (1) preparing the report, (2) storing the report, (3)

The principal savings to the licensee, dispersed over the period licensed, would be in physical storage space and associated storage equipment and materials. The burden of recordkeeping would be reduced approximately 10 percent annually for these licensees by the proposed rule. An estimated 466,323 hours associated with recordkeeping or $28,000,000 annually would be saved. Preparing and publishing this rule would cost NRC approximately 3000 hours of staff time at $60 per hour for an estimated total of $180,000

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2073; 42 USC 2093; 42 USC 2095; 42 USC 2111; 42 USC 2133; 42 USC 2134; 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2273; 42 USC 5841; 42 USC 5842

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 20

Abstract: Radiation protection philosophy and technology have changed markedly since the present Part 20 was promulgated nearly thirty years ago. Since Part 20 contains the NRC standards for protection against radiation that are used by all licensees and affects exposures of workers and members of the public, it should be the most basic of the NRC regulations. However, because the present Part 20 has become outdated, most radiation protection actions occur through licensing actions independent of Part 20. A complete revision is necessary to provide better assurance of protection against radiation; establish a clear health protection basis for the limits; reflect current information on health risk, dosimetry, and radiation protection practices and experience; provide NRC with a health protection base from which it may consider other regulatory actions taken to protect public health; be consistent with recommendations of world authorities (ICRP); and apply these standards to all licensees in a consistent manner.

Alternatives to the complete revision considered were no action

Additional Information: ABSTRACT CONT: delay for further guidance, and partial revision of the standards. These were rejected as ignoring scientific advancements being unresponsive to international and national guidance correcting only some of the recognized problems with the present Part 20.

Benefits would include updating the regulations which reflect contemporary scientific knowledge and radiation protection philosophy, implementing regulations which reflect the ICRP risk-based rationale, reducing lifetime doses to individuals receiving the highest exposures; implementing provisions for summation of doses from internal and external exposures; providing clearly identified dose limits for the public; providing an understandable health-risk base for protection, and placing constraints on collective dose evaluations at levels where risks are trifles.

3840. + EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS FOR FUEL CYCLE AND OTHER RADIOACTIVE MATERIALS LICENSEES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 30; 10 CFR 40; 10 CFR 70

Abstract: The proposed rule would require about 30 fuel cycle and other radioactive materials licensees to submit an emergency plan that would, among other actions, require the notification of local authorities in case of an accident and that the licensee recommend protective actions for the public. The proposed rule is intended to further protect the public from accidental exposure to radiation. The affected licensees are those whose possession limits indicate the potential for an accident that could deliver a radiation dose offsite exceeding one rem effective dose equivalent or 5 rems to the thyroid or could cause a soluble uranium inhalation of 2 milligrams (a chemical toxicity hazard).

Currently, the proposed requirements are, for the most part, required by order. However, the Commission decided that a regulation was needed for the long term. The cost of the rule to licensees was estimated to be between $26,000 and $73,000 per year per licensee. The cost to NRC is estimated to be $4,000 per year per licensee. The NRC will expend about 2 staff-years of effort to promulgate the rule.

Abstract: This proposed rule, being prepared at Commission direction, would provide comprehensive treatment of hearing procedures to be implemented by the Commission for materials licensing proceedings. In addition, the proposed rule would encompass the objective of the proposed rule, "Jurisdiction of Adjudicatory Boards," identified as 3150-AA53, which has been deleted from OMB's Unified Agenda. There are no reasonable alternatives to rulemaking for implementing these informal hearing procedures. The procedures are expected to reduce the economic burden imposed on a participant in a proceeding.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 35

Abstract: The proposed rule is in response to PRM-35-6 which requests that the Commission remove the requirements in Part 35 that radioactive aerosols be administered in rooms that are at negative pressure relative to surrounding rooms. The petitioner states that the imposition of the negative room pressure requirement could have an adverse impact on the delivery of health care to certain patients with pulmonary disease and that this requirement is unnecessary to protect workers and public health and safety. The staff agrees and has developed a proposed rule change to remove the negative room pressure requirement for aerosols.

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is proposing to amend its regulations concerning the medical use of byproduct material. The proposed amendments would require its medical licensees to implement certain quality assurance steps that would reduce the chance of therapy misadministrations. The proposed action is necessary to provide for improved patient safety and serve as a basis for enforcement action in case of a therapy misadministration. The proposed amendment, which is intended to reduce the potential for and severity of therapy misadministrations would primarily affect hospitals, clinics, and individual physicians.

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The proposed rule would amend regulations concerning acceptance criteria for emergency core cooling systems (ECCS) by allowing the use of realistic methods to demonstrate that an ECCS would protect the nuclear reactor core during a loss-of-coolant accident. This action is proposed because research has shown that calculations performed under current requirements greatly underestimate the ability of the ECCS to protect the core. This restricts the operation of some nuclear reactors unnecessarily and increases the costs of generating electricity. The proposed rule would allow use of the best information currently available to demonstrate that the ECCS would protect the reactor core during a loss-of-coolant accident.

Use of the proposed acceptance criteria could result in a 5 percent power upgrade for affected plants. The present value of energy replacement cost savings resulting from a potential upgrade would range from 13 to $147 million dollars depending on the location and age of a specific plant.

The proposed rule would apply to all applicants for and (cont)

Because the proposed rule represents a significant change in a regulatory requirement, the staff prepared and issued on May 15, 1987, a summary of ECCS research performed over the last 10 years which identifies the technical basis for the proposed rule. A regulatory guide was also prepared and issued on April 2, 1987. This guide provides a definition of what constitutes an acceptable best estimate model and acceptable methods of performing the uncertainty evaluation. The estimated cost to the NRC of this rulemaking is 2-3 staff years and $200,000.

The only option to rulemaking considered by the staff was the continued use of the current licensing approach. At best, this is viewed as an interim solution because two separate calculations are required to meet the requirements of the current regulation and staff conditions for use of the licensing approach and continued use of the approach risks case-by-case litigation.

3845. + PRIMARY REACTOR CONTAINMENT LEAKAGE TESTING FOR WATER-COOLED POWER REACTORS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2133; 42 USC 2134; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The proposed rule would update and revise the 1973 criteria for preoperational and periodic pressure testing for leakage of primary containment boundaries of water-cooled power reactors. Problems have developed in application and interpretation of the existing rule. These result from changes in testing technology, test criteria, and a relevant national standard that needs to be recognized.

The revision is urgently needed to resolve continuing conflicts between licensees and NRC inspectors over interpretations, current regulatory practice is no longer being reflected accurately by the existing rule, and endorsement in the existing regulation of an obsolete national standard that was replaced in 1981.

The benefits anticipated include elimination of inconsistencies and obsolete requirements, and the addition of greater usefulness and a higher confidence in the leak-tight integrity of containment system boundaries under post-loss of coolant accident conditions. The majority of the effort needed by NRC to issue the rule has already been expended. (cont)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2133; 42 USC 2134; 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: This proposed rule would require licensees of light water nuclear power plants to ensure that these plants are capable of withstanding a total loss of alternating current (AC) electrical power (called station blackout) to the essential and nonessential switchgear buses for a specified duration. A draft regulatory guide was issued at the same time as the proposed rule to provide guidance on how to determine the duration.

The proposed requirements were developed in response to information generated by the Commission's study of Unresolved Safety Issue A-44, Station Blackout. The proposed rule is intended to provide further assurance that a loss of both off-site and emergency on-site electric AC power systems will not adversely affect the public health and safety.

A regulatory analysis has been prepared for the proposed rule. The estimated public risk reduction is 145,000 person-rem over 25 years, and the estimated total cost for industry to comply with the proposed rule is $60 million. This results in an overall cost benefit ratio of about 2,400 person-rem per million dollars.

The alternatives to this proposed rule are to take no action or to provide only guidance for plants to be able to cope with a station blackout period for a specified period. To take no action would not yield any reduction in public risk from station blackout events. To provide guidance only, since there is presently no requirement for nuclear power plants to be able to cope with a total loss of AC power, would not result in any basis for enforcement. The proposed rule is the recommended alternative based on its enforceability and, in part, on the favorable cost/benefit ratio.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5841; 42 USC 5842; 42 USC 5846

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The Commission proposes to amend its regulations to incorporate by reference the Winter 1984 Addenda, Summer 1985 Addenda, Winter 1985 Addenda, and 1986 Edition of Section III, Division 1, of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Boiler and Pressure Vessel Code (ASME Code), and the Winter 1983 Addenda, Summer 1984 Addenda, Winter 1984 Addenda, Summer 1985 Addenda, Winter 1985 Addenda, and 1986 Edition of Section XI, Division 1 of the ASME Code. A limitation is placed on the use of paragraph IWB-3640 as contained in the Winter 1983 Addenda and Winter 1984 Addenda of Section XI, Division 1. This limitation requires that for certain types of welds, IWB-3640 be used as modified by the Winter 1985 Addenda. The sections of the ASME Code being incorporated provide rules for the construction of light-water-cooled nuclear power plant components and specify requirements for inservice inspection of those components. Adoption of these amendments would permit the use of improved methods for construction and inservice inspection of nuclear power plants.

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is considering an amendment to its rule concerning the backfitting of nuclear power plants. This rulemaking action is necessary to bring the existing backfitting rule into unambiguous conformance with the decision of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia in the Union of Concerned Scientist, et al. v. Legal Authority: 42 USC 2011; 42 USC 4321

Abstract: The proposed rule provides a narrative explanation of the numerical values established in Table S-3, "Table of Uranium Fuel Cycle Environmental Data," that appears in the Commission's environmental protection regulations. The proposed rule describes the basis for the values contained in Table S-3, the significance of the uranium fuel cycle data in the table, and the conditions governing the use of the table. The proposed rule would also modify or eliminate reference to the enrichment value of U-235 and the average level of fuel irradiation. The narrative explanation also addresses important fuel cycle impacts and the cumulative impacts of the nuclear fuel cycle for the whole nuclear power industry so that it may be possible to consider these impact generically rather than repeatedly in individual licensing proceedings, thus reducing litigation time and costs for both NRC and applicants.

The proposed rule regarding revision of Section 51.51 and the addition of Appendix B was published for public review and comment on March 4, 1981 (46 FR 15154). The final rulemaking

The U.S. Court of Appeals (D.C. Circuit decision of April 27, 1982, invalidated the entire Table S-3 rule. The Supreme Court reversed this decision on June 6, 1983.

The proposed rule to provide a narrative explanation for Table S-3 has been revised to reflect new developments and the passage of time while the rulemaking was deferred. Final action on the Table S-3 rule was held in abeyance until new values for radon- 222 and technetium-99 could be added to the table and covered in the narrative explanation. The rule is being reissued as a proposed rule because the scope has been extended to include radiation values for radon-222 and technetium-99 and the narrative explanation has been extensively revised from that published on March 4, 1981 (46 FR 15154)

The Staff's estimate is that the completion of a final Table S-3 rule covering the new values for radon-222 and technetium-99, and the revised narrative explanation will be completed in 1989.

3850. + PART 51; CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10101

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 51; 10 CFR 60

Abstract: The proposed rule would provide procedures for performing an environmental review of High Level Waste geologic repositories. Part 51 contains no provisions for the environmental review of a license application for a HLW repository. The Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 established requirements for environmental reviews which are at variance with the environmental review which NRC performs in licensing other types of nuclear facilities. The issue must be addressed in order to avoid delay in the U.S. HLW Program. The proposed rule would benefit the public, industry, and NRC by clarifying licensing procedures, thus avoiding case determinations and possible litigation during HLW geologic repository licensing. Minor revisions to Part 60 will be necessary to conform to the environmental requirements of the NWPA. Alternatives are to take no action, issue an ANPRM, or ask Congress for additional legislation.

Abstract: The proposed rule would establish procedures and criteria for fulfilling NRC's responsibilities associated with action on requests by low-level radioactive waste generators, or State officials on behalf of those generators, for emergency access to operating, non-Federal or regional, low level radioactive waste disposal facilities under Section 6 of the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act of 1985 (LLRWPAA). Section 6 of the LLRWPAA authorizes the NRC to grant emergency access to any non-Federal low-level waste disposal facility, if necessary, to eliminate the immediate and serious threat to the public health and safety of the common defense and security, provided the threat cannot be mitigated by any alternative.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2210; 42 USC 5841; 42 USC 5842

Abstract: The final rule will revise the ENO criteria to eliminate the problems that were encountered in the Three Mile Island ENO determination. It is desirable to get revised criteria in place in the event they are needed.

There are no alternatives to this rulemaking, as the current ENO criteria are already embodied in Subpart E of 10 CFR Part 140. The only way to modify these criteria, as this rule seeks to do through rulemaking.

There is no impact on public health or safety. The ENO criteria provide legal waivers of defenses. Industry (insurers and utilities) claims that a reduction in the ENO criteria could cause increases in insurance premiums. The final rule would also be responsive to PRM-140-1.

It is estimated that approximately 1.0 staff year of NRC time will be required to process the final rule. No contract funding is anticipated.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2167; 42 USC 2073

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 20

Abstract: The proposed rule, which is being initiated in partial response to a petition filed by Edison Electric Institute and Utility Nuclear Waste Management Group (PRM-20-15, dated July 31, 1984), would amend NRC regulations to allow onsite incineration of waste oil at nuclear power plants subject to specified conditions. Currently, the only approved disposal method for low-level, radioactively contaminated waste oil from nuclear power plants involves absorption or solidification, transportation to, and burial at a licensed disposal site. There is a clear need to allow, for very low activity level wastes, the use of alternative disposal methods which are most cost effective from a radiological health and safety standpoint and which conserve the limited disposal capacity of low-level waste burial sites.

Increased savings to both the public and the industry could thereby be achieved without imposing additional risk to the public health and safety. There would be, in a mature reactor economy, an estimated industry-wide economic savings of approximately $5 million to $18 million per year if such a rule

Alternatives to this rulemaking action are to maintain the status quo or to wait until the Environmental Protection Agency develops standards on acceptable levels of radioactivity which may be released to the environment on an unrestricted basis. It is estimated that approximately 1-2 staff-years will be required to process this rule.

3855. + PROPOSED REVISIONS TO THE CRITERIA AND PROCEDURES FOR THE REPORTING OF DEFECTS AND NONCOMPLIANCE

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2282; 42 USC 5841; 42 USC 5846

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 21; 10 CFR 50

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend Part 21 and sec. 50.55(e), both of which require the reporting of safety defects by licensees. In addition, Part 21 requires reporting by non-licensees. This proposed amendment was prompted by TMI Action Plan Task II, J.4, and NRC staff experience with Part 21 and section 50.55 (e) reporting. The main objectives of the rulemaking effort are: (1) elimination of duplicate evaluation and reporting of safety defects; (2) consistent threshold for safety defect reporting in Part 21 and section 50.55(e); (3) establishment of consistent and uniform content of reporting under Part 21 and section 50.55 (e) and (4) establishment of time limits within which a defect must be evaluated and reported.

Approximately 500 reports are submitted to the Commission annually under Part 21. Approximately 1500 reports are submitted to the Commission annually under section 50.55 (e). These reports identify both plant-specific and generic safety for further NRC regulatory action. Under current rules, these reports have formed the basis for NRC issuance of numerous NRC information notices and bulletins. (cont)

Alternatives to this rulemaking approach which were considered, varied from establishment of a single rule for all reporting of safety defects and operating reactors events to maintaining status quo for defect reporting. All alternatives were rejected since they would not substantially improve the current safety defect reporting situation.

Current costs of reporting under Part 21 and section 50.55 (e) are estimated at $10.08 million annually for industry and 1.74 million annually for NRC evaluations. It is anticipated that the industry reporting burden should be reduced by $1.93 million; while NRC burden should remain the same. Additional industry burden, though minimal, is anticipated in the area of reissuing procedures for reporting and record keeping.

The Commission disapproved this proposed rule on 10/20/86 and provided direction to the staff to revise the proposed rulemaking.

3856. + SAFETY REQUIREMENTS FOR INDUSTRIAL RADIOGRAPHIC EXPOSURE DEVICES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2111; 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2232; 42 USC 2233

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 34

Abstract: The proposed rule would amend the present regulations to establish performance standards for industrial radiography exposure devices. Overexposures of radiographers (and occasionally the general public) are more than double that of other radiation workers and have been a concern to the NRC for some time. Approximately 25-35% of the radiography overexposures are associated with equipment malfunction. The issue of safety requirements for these devices is a primary concern since the devices use relatively high intensity, high energy gamma-ray emitting sources with the potential for serious overexposures. Although a consensus standard for radiographic exposure devices was published in 1981, (American National Standard. N432) it is not clear that all manufacturers are adopting the standard.

The alternatives considered were to (1) take no action at this time, (2) amend the regulations to require performance standards for radiographic devices plus a requirement for radiographers to wear alarm dosimeters and simultaneously issue a regulatory guide endorsing the consensus standard, supplemented by such other performance standards deemed necessary, plus a requirement (cont)

Small Entity: Yes

The proposed rule would require licensees to modify radiographic devices to meet the performance standards through design changes and quality control procedures. Cost of incorporating the proposed changes are estimated to be a one-time cost $1,600 per licensee to purchase alarm dosimeters and $250.00 per year per licensee to replace existing devices with devices that meet the requirements of the consensus standard. Determination of the benefits to be derived from the proposed rule are difficult to determine on a monetary basis but the potential hazards that might be averted include radiation sickness, injury, and even death. NRC resources required for processing this rule to final publication are estimated to be 0.4 person-years.

3857. ● DIAGNOSTIC MISADMINISTRATION REPORT FORM

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 35

Abstract: The final rule amends the regulations governing the medical use of byproduct material to specify the form that is to be used by NRC medical licensees to report diagnostic misadministrations. The rule is intended to inform licensees that the form contemplated in the revision to these regulations (see the Federal Register of October 16, 1986; 51 FR 36932) has been developed and is now available for use.

3858. ALTERNATIVE METHODS FOR LEAKAGE RATE TESTING

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission proposes a limited amendment to its regulations to clarify a question of interpretation in regard to leakage testing of containments of light-water cooled nuclear power plants. This proposed amendment would explicitly permit the continued use of a statistical data analysis technique that the NRC has considered to be an acceptable method of calculating containment leakage rates. Rulemaking is the only acceptable alternative for resolving this issue because the regulations specify the methods the NRC finds acceptable for calculation leakage rates. Because the proposed rule would simply make another method of calculating leakage rates available to the industry, there is no economic impact likely to result from this action.

3859. AMENDMENT TO ASSIGN NRC SOLE AUTHORITY FOR APPROVING ONSITE LOW-LEVEL WASTE DISPOSAL

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2021; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 150

Abstract: This rulemaking would establish NRC's sole authority for approving onsite disposal of low-level waste at all NRC licensed reactors and at Part 70 fuel cycle facilities. There is a need to amend section 150.15 to authorize one agency (NRC) to regulate all onsite disposal of low-level waste in order to provide a more comprehensive regulatory review procedure of all onsite waste management activities and to avoid unnecessary duplication of effort. Uniform review procedures by the NRC will provide for greater health hazard at a later date after the site is decommissioned.

Abstract: The final rule amends the NRC's regulations to indicate that its Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation has relocated at the agency's new office building located at One White Flint

North, 11555 Rockville Pike, Rockville, Maryland. The final rule also indicates this relocation by revising the address for the personal delivery of communications and reports to the NRC's Document Control Desk. These amendments are being made to inform NRC licensees and members of the public of the relocation.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 2273; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 11; 10 CFR 25

Abstract: The final rule increases the fees for NRC "U" and "Q" access authorizations charged to NRC licensees and others applying for access authorizations which require full field background investigations. The final amendments also require that the title of the NRC point of contact, in the event a request for an individual's access authorization is withdrawn or cancelled, be changed to read Chief, Personnel Security Branch, NRC Division of Security. The final amendments are in response to the Office of Personnel Management's Notification of an increase in cost to conduct background investigations.

3868. + BROAD SCOPE MODIFICATION OF GENERAL DESIGN CRITERION 4 REQUIREMENTS FOR PROTECTION AGAINST DYNAMIC EFFECTS OF POSTULATED PIPE RUPTURES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5846

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The final broad scope modification of General Design Criterion 4 (GDC 4) allows demonstration of piping integrity by analyses to serve as a basis for excluding consideration of dynamic effects associated with pipe ruptures. A final rule published April 11, 1986 (51 FR 12502) was limited to the primary loops of pressurized water reactors (PWRs), whereas this final rule covers all high energy piping in all light water reactors (LWRs). The modification permits the general but selective removal of pipe whip restraints and jet impingement shields from operating plants, plants under construction, and future plant designs, but will not impact other design requirements for containment design or ECCS performance. Alternative equipment qualification requirements developed by industry based on leak-before-break may be submitted to the NRC for review and approval in a limited number of applications.

3869. CONSIDERATION OF EMERGENCY PLANNING RULE CHANGES TO DEAL WITH LACK OF GOVERNMENTAL COOPERATION IN OFFSITE EMERGENCY PLANNING

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 50

Abstract: The final rule in limited circumstances, allows a full power nuclear plant operation to begin when there is a lack of State or local government cooperation in offsite emergency planning. In earlier regulations, the Commission published revised emergency planning regulations which required that emergency plans be developed by licensees in cooperation with State and local governments. Although the Commission acknowledged the possibility that some governments might not cooperate, the Commission premised the new rules on a coordinated effort among all parties. Because this coordination has proved impossible to achieve in a few isolated cases, this final rulemaking is intended to cover those cases not contemplated by the 1980 amendments.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2073; 42 USC 2167; 42 USC 2201; 42 USC 5841; 42 USC 5844

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 73

Abstract: The final rule is in response to the outstanding request made in PRM-73-6 submitted by Wisconsin Electric Power Company, et al, which requested several changes in the qualifications for armed security personnel set out in 10 CFR Part 73, Appendix B. The petition was partially denied on September 3, 1987 (52 FR 33428). The final rule will grant that part of the petition which requested deletion of a scheduling link between the timing of the medical examination and the physical fitness test given at least annually to all armed security personnel. The amendment results in no impact on NRC resources and a cost savings to those licensees adversely impacted by the current requirement that all armed security personnel be subjected to an annual physical fitness test which must be preceded within 30 days by a medical examination.

Regulatory Flexibility Agenda and Rules Scheduled for Review

AGENCY: Securities and Exchange Commission.

ACTION: Publication of regulatory flexibility agenda and rules scheduled for review.

SUMMARY: The Securities and Exchange Commission is today publishing an agenda of its open and anticipated rulemaking actions, pursuant to Chapter Six of the Administrative Procedure Act and Office of Management and Budget Bulletin 88-1. The agenda is a general announcement to the public intended to provide advance notice of rulemaking actions which may have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The Commission invites questions and public comment on individual agenda entries.

DATE: Public Comments are due by June 30, 1988.

ADDRESSES: Persons wishing to submit written views should file three copies with Jonathan G. Katz, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 5th Street, NW., Room 6184, Stop 6-9, Washington, DC 20549. All submissions should refer to File No. S7-3-88, and will be available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Reference Room, Room 1026, at the same address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William J. Atkinson, Office of Economic Analysis, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 5th Street, NW., Room 10215, Stop 10-5, Washington, DC 20549 (202-272-7100). Additional names of persons to contact are identified with each entry.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Regulatory Flexibility Act ("RFA") (Pub. L. No. 96-354, 94 Stat. 1164 [September 19, 1980]) requires each federal agency during April and October of each year to publish in the Federal Register a regulatory flexibility agenda identifying rules which the agency expects to propose or adopt which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (the "significant impact criterion").[1]

The RFA also requires the Commission to publish a plan for the periodic review of all rules issued by the agency which have or will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.[2] The Commission published such a plan in 1981.[3] The plan provides for the review of all rules in effect on January 1, 1981 within ten years of that date and for the review of all rules adopted thereafter within ten years of their adoption as final rules. The RFA further requires publication each year of a list of those rules which are to be reviewed during the succeeding twelve months.[4]

The Commission's continuing review of its rules, begun before the effective date of the statute (January 1, 1981), extends beyond the requirements of the RFA. Consequently, some rules listed in this part of the agenda may not be subject to RFA review requirements. The Commission is identifying them here in order to inform the public of its intention to review them. The agenda also identifies the rulemaking actions which have been completed (or withdrawn) since the last RFA release was approved by the Commission on August 28, 1987.[5]

The statute specifically provides that the agenda does not preclude the Commission from considering or acting on any matter not included, nor is the Commission required to consider or act on any matter which is included.[6] Furthermore, the inclusion of a rule in the Commission's agenda reflects only the staff's preliminary judgment that the rule, if adopted or as it exists, may have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.[7] This preliminary judgment may be changed upon further analysis.

The Commission's entries to the April 1988 Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations are listed below. The Commission's agenda includes new entries as well as items carried over from the October 1987 publication. New entries are marked with an asterisk. Copies of this preamble and a list of the entries (which includes next action dates and identifies a staff contact) are available from the Commission's Office of Public Affairs (Room 1015). The agenda also is available for inspection and copying in the Public Reference Room (Room 1026) (File S7-3-88), as noted above.

The Commission invites public comment on the individual entries in its agenda of rulemaking actions and rules scheduled for review in the next twelve months.

Dated: March 1, 1988.

By the Commission.

Jonathan G. Katz,

Secretary.

3877. EXEMPTION OF SALES OF CERTAIN INTERESTS AND PARTICIPATIONS ISSUED IN CONNECTION WITH H.R. 10 PLANS FROM SECTION 15(A)

Legal Authority: 15 USC 78c(a)(12); 15 USC 78o; 15 USC 78w; 15 USC 77c(a)(12); 15 USC 77s(a)

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 240.3a12-10; 17 CFR 230.180

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The proposed rule would specify certain conditions under which persons engaged in the sale of interests and participation issued in connection with certain tax-qualified retirement plans ("H.R.10" or "Keogh" plans) would not be required to register as broker-dealers under Section 15(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. In 1981, the Commission adopted Rule 180 under the Securities Act of 1933 exempting from the registration requirements of that Act interests and participations issued in connection with H.R. 10 plans. The proposed rule provides a parallel exemption from broker-dealer registration for sales of such interests and participations in H.R. 10 plans. As an alternative the staff could consider granting no-action or exemptive requests on a case-by-case basis. However, such procedure would be inefficient and needlessly expensive for both the public and the Commission staff. In addition, the Commission is proposing to amend Rule 180 to clarify that, under paragraph (a)(3)(ii) of that Rule, the employer only needs to obtain investment advice prior to the investment of plan assets. This proposal codifies a previous staff position.

Abstract: In 1986, the Commission published a release seeking public comment on three concepts relating to corporate takeovers. On October 1, 1987, the Commission issued a release proposing the first issue discussed in the concept release. Rules 13e-2 and 14d-11 would require that, subject to certain exceptions, purchases, offers to purchase, arrangements or understandings to purchase and solicitations of offers to sell securities undertaken during and shortly after a tender offer that would increase any person's ownership of the class of securities subject to the tender offer by 10% or more of the class be made in compliance with the statutory provisions and rules applicable to tender offers. The proposed rules would apply to all persons from the formal commencement of a tender offer until 10 business days after the scheduled expiration date. A proposed rule, also, would subject a bidder to the same requirements from the time it commenced a tender offer by public announcement until it either formally commenced a tender offer by some other means or 30 business days after it made a subsequent public announcement (cont)

Abstract: The Commission will review the existing rules and reporting forms intended to implement the provisions of Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act. Section 16 seeks to deter misuse of inside information by imposing certain periodic and transactional reporting requirements on the officers, directors and principal beneficial shareholders of companies registered under that Act as well as certain limitations on equity transactions by those persons. Over the years the Commission has adopted a number of rules to clarify the applicability of Section 16's requirements to particular circumstances. The Commission will examine their current suitability in light of the purposes of the statute.

Abstract: The Commission will consider whether to revise the disclosure requirements under the federal securities laws relating to registration under the securities Act of 1933 of securities to be offered to employees of an issuer pursuant to certain plans. Such registration currently is made on Form S-8 (17 CFR 239.16b). The Commission staff is developing proposals in this area and considering alternative approaches to the problem of reducing burdens while ensuring the availability of sufficient information to employees, particularly where they already have access to much of the required information under ERISA. In the context of this rulemaking, Form S-8 will be fully reviewed for purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Abstract: In order to facilitate simultaneous multinational securities offerings among, initially, the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom, appropriate criteria are being sought to reconcile differences in disclosure standards, financial statement requirements and distribution systems. The Commission issued a concept release in February 1985 addressing numerous regulatory issues raised by multinational offerings. At that time, the Commission published for comment two conceptual approaches to facilitating such offerings--a "common prospectus" approach and a "reciprocal" approach. The Commission's staff is currently in the process of developing the reciprocal prospectus approach, which involves reciprocal recognition and use of home country disclosure documents. It is likely that initially the proposal will focus on debt offerings of certain issuers, limited rights offerings and exchange offers.

Abstract: The staff is considering whether to recommend that the Commission publish for comment two alternative versions of a new rule that would provide a safe harbor exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 for resales of securities to institutional investors if certain conditions are met. The first version would require that the issuer of such securities be a reporting company or that the securities be investment grade, non-convertible debt or preferred securities, while the second version would be available for resales of any securities, debt or equity, of reporting or non-reporting companies.

Abstract: The regulation will be designed to codify numerous exemptions from the provisions of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act") granted to two-tier real estate limited partnerships. Exemptions from the Act pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Act have generally been granted where: 1) the two-tier partnership invests in limited partnerships engaged in the development and building of housing for low and moderate income persons; 2) the limited partnership interests are sold only to suitable investors; and 3) requirements for fair dealing by the general partner of the issuer with the limited partners of the issuer are included in the basic organizational documents of the partnership. The regulation will reduce the number of exemptive relief applications received by the Office of Investment Company Regulation requesting exemptions for two-tier real estate limited partnerships.

Abstract: The extraterritorial reach of Section 5 of the Securities Act of 1933 has become of critical importance with the development of major markets abroad and the growth of transnational investment. As a result of these developments, the Commission staff is re-evaluating the question of the proper scope of the registration requirements. The staff is currently developing a proposal for a safe harbor rule which would set forth specified non-exclusive conditions under which the Commission would not seek to apply the registration provisions. Legal Authority: 15 USC 77c(a)(2); 15 USC 77s(a)

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 230.180

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Rule 180 provides an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act for interests and participations issued in connection with certain qualified H.R. 10 plans. In order for interests in funding media issued to plans established by financially inexperienced employers to qualify for the rule's exemption, the rule, as adopted, requires those employers to obtain financial advice from an independent expert prior to adopting the H.R. 10 plan. Among other things, the Commission is considering proposing an amendment to Rule 180 that would codify a present "no-action" position regarding the situation where a financially unsophisticated employer has already established a plan for its employees without obtaining advice from an independent expert, and intends either to change the funding medium or add another funding medium to the choices already available to employees. The issuer of the funding medium in such a case would be in compliance with the rule if the issuer has reasonable grounds to believe and, after having made reasonable inquiry, does believe, that an independent financial expert reviewed the funding medium prior to the investment of the (cont)

Abstract: The proposed rules would exempt certain persons from the requirements of Section 11(a) of the Investment Company Act. That section prohibits any registered open-end investment company and its principal underwriter from making an offer to a shareholder to exchange his security for another security on any basis other than the relative net asset values of the respective securities to be exchanged, unless the terms have been submitted to and approved by the Commission or comply with rules the Commission may prescribe. Section 11(c) states in part that the terms of any offer of exchange involving the securities of registered unit investment trusts must also be submitted to and approved by the Commission or comply with rules the Commission may prescribe. Proposed rule 11a-3 would permit a mutual fund or its principal underwriter to make certain exchange offers to its own shareholders or to shareholders of another fund in the same family of funds. Proposed rule 11c-1 would permit a unit investment trust or its sponsor to make certain exchange offers to unitholders of the same series or another series of the same trust or to unit holders of another unit investment trust

Legal Authority: 15 USC 80a-6(c); 15 USC 80a-37

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: On December 10, 1982, the Commission issued an advance concept release (Investment Company Act Release No. 12888, (47 FR 56509)) soliciting public comment on whether the Commission should propose rules or recommend legislation which would provide for an alternative form of mutual fund governance. Specifically, this release requests comment on whether mutual funds should be exempted from shareholder voting and/or director requirements under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act") and, if so, whether conditions could be fashioned which would adequately insure against loss of investor protection. Although such changes might be effected through rulemaking, the Commission has indicated that, in its preliminary judgment, changes of this magnitude should be effected through legislative rather than administrative action. Since the costs and benefits of providing for an alternative scheme of mutual fund governance cannot be estimated at the present time, the release solicits specific comment on the costs and benefits which would result from such changes. Extension of comment period until April 18, 1983 was announced in Investment Company Act Release No. 13012 (cont)

Legal Authority: 15 USC 80a-17(j); 15 USC 80a-37(a)

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 270.17j-1

Abstract: Rule 17j-1 requires every access person of a registered investment company, or of an investment adviser of or principal underwriter for the investment company to report to the investment company certain of his securities transactions. The Commission is considering whether to propose an amendment to this rule which would reduce the reporting requirement for investment company directors who are interested persons with respect to the investment company by reason of their affiliation with a registered broker-dealer. Members of the industry have characterized these reporting requirements as unnecessarily burdensome in some instances. Any such rule amendment would have the effect of lessening the reporting requirements currently imposed by the rule. As a result, the staff believes that the costs, which should be insignificant, of complying with any amendment would be significantly less than the benefits it would provide. The Commission is also considering whether to amend Rule 12 j-1 to define specified acts as fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative or to require certain minimum standards to be set forth on a company's code of ethics. Abstract: Absent an exception, every solicitation of a proxy, authorization or consent in respect of any security with respect to which a registered investment company is the issuer, is subject to rules adopted pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the Investment Company Act of 1940 concerning solicitations of proxies. Solicitations to which the rules apply may not commence unless each person solicited is furnished or has previously been furnished with a proxy statement containing specified information prepared in accordance with certain rules and the material has been filed with the Commission. The existing proxy rules were adopted in piecemeal fashion and have been the subject of frequent changes. This has led to certain duplicative and, in certain cases, complex requirements. To the extent that a proxy statement contains repetitive material or is overly complicated and difficult to read, it may not effectively perform its intended function of communicating meaningful information to security holders in order that they may make informed voting decisions. In order to update the proxy regulations and, in doing so, improve the (cont)

There does not currently exist a basis upon which to quantify the reduced costs and burdens of such action on those registrants affected. Since the action will apply to all registered investment companies soliciting proxies, unless the solicitation is excepted, the Action is expected to have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. However, the contemplated revisions are still in the developmental stage and have not yet been formally proposed by the Commission. Thus, the extent of the revision actually proposed and the attendant reductions in costs and burdens are as yet largely unknown, but are anticipated to be significant.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 80a-8 Investment Company; 15 USC 77g Securities Act; 15 USC 77j Securities Act

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 239.14; 17 CFR 274.11a-1

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Form N-2 is the registration statement form under the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the Securities Act of 1933 for closed-end management investment companies other than small business investment companies and companies which issue periodic payment plan certificates or which are sponsors or depositors of companies issuing such certificates. Included within the registration statement are the companies' prospectuses used in offering their securities to the public. The Commission believes a simplified prospectus is necessary because current prospectuses have become too cumbersome for the average investor to understand and because current requirements result in the disclosure of much information that is not necessarily material to an investment decision. Simplification will, therefore, make disclosure easier for investors to understand and reduce the costs and burdens of of preparing and distributing prospectuses. Accordingly, the Commission is proposing a new form N-2A that most likely would be structured as a three-part form, one part of which would be a new simplified prospectus. The contemplated amendments are still in the developmental stage and have not yet been formally proposed by the Commission. Thus, the extent of the simplification of investment companies' prospectuses actually proposed and the attendant reductions in costs and burdens are as yet largely unknown, but are expected to reduce the cost of registration for both the industry and government.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 80b-11(a)

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 275.206(3)-3

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Section 206(3) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 makes it unlawful for any investment adviser, by use of the mail or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce, directly or indirectly, knowingly to effect a securities transaction (a) with a client while acting as principal or (b) for a client while acting as broker for a person other than such client, without disclosing in writing to such client before the completion of the transaction the capacity on which he is acting and obtaining the consent of the client to the transaction. The Commission is considering whether to propose a rule that would provide a nonexclusive method for compliance with the provisions of Section 206(3) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 in connection with purchases of securities from an underwriting syndicate for an advisory client under specified conditions. Because the proposed rule is still in the developmental stages, its potential effect on small entities and its potential costs and benefits as a whole are unknown at this time.

Abstract: Rule 206(4)-1 contains a wide range of restrictions on advertising by investment advisers including prohibitions on the use of testimonials. The rule was adopted in 1962 and has not been revised since. The Commission is considering whether to amend the rule in a manner which would permit greater flexibility to investment advisers in their advertising and protect the investing public from potential abuse. Because the proposed amendments to the rule are still in the developmental stages, the potential effect on small entities and its potential costs and benefits as a whole are uncertain at this time.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 80a-6(c); 15 USC 80a-37(a)

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 270.3a-4

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: In Investment Company Act Release No. 11391 (October 10, 1980) (45 FR 69479) the Commission proposed for public comment Rule 3a-4, which would deem investment management services providing their clients with individualized treatment not to be investment companies for purposes of the Act. The rule provides a "safe harbor" for any investment manager providing its clients with treatment based on the needs and goals of each client. Under such circumstances, regulation of investment management services under the Act appears unnecessary. The proposed rule was intended to clarify the Commission's position on the question of "mini-accounts" by providing a safe harbor for certain investment management services and thereby provide some certainty to the public. The Commission does not expect any final action taken on the proposal to significantly affect the cost of providing investment management services. The public comment letters on the proposal have been reviewed and alternatives for final action are being considered.

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 270.17g-1

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Commission is considering whether to adopt an amendment to Rule 17g-1 under the Investment Company Act. The amendment was proposed for public comment in Investment Company Act Release No. 11193 (June 2, 1980) (45 FR 38407). Rule 17g-1 requires every registered investment company to provide and maintain a bond against larceny and embezzlement covering officers and employees of the company. In some circumstances, the officers and employees of a company's depositor, trustee, investment adviser or other manager and various affiliates of such persons, because they have access to the company's assets, function as officers and employees of the investment company. The proposed amendment to the rule would clarify the scope of the rule by explicitly requiring the bonding of such persons. The principal cost associated with this rule would be the cost of a bond. That cost would vary according to the persons required to be bonded by the rule. In this regard, before adopting any amendment to the rule, the Commission will carefully consider what persons should be bonded to protect investors adequately, weighing the benefits of the protection against the cost of a bond.

Abstract: On May 14, 1985, the Commission issued a release (Investment Company Act Release NO.14513 (50 FR 21282) soliciting public comment on proposed Form N-7, a form for registration of unit Investment Trusts and their securities under the Investment Act of 1940 and the Securities Act of 1933, and certain related rules and rule amendments. The Commission also published staff guidelines for the preparation of Form N-7. The proposed form would establish a two-part format for disclosure to prospective investors consisting of a simplified prospectus that can be use to satisfy the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 and a statement of additional information that would be available to prospective investors upon request and without charge. The Commission is proposing Form N-7 in order to (I) integrate the reporting and disclosure requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 and the investment trusts in one document; (II) codify in the form and guidelines the disclosure standards that have been developed for unit investment trusts; and (III) shorten and simplify the prospectus while making available on request more extensive information not of routine(cont)

3931. RULE 174 AMENDMENT - PROSPECTUS DELIVERY DURING QUIET PERIOD

Legal Authority: 15 USC 77s; 15 USC 77d

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 230.174

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: The Commission intends to adopt amendments to Rule 174 under the Securities Act of 1933 that would reduce or eliminate under certain circumstances the 40 or 90 day delivery period during which dealers must deliver a prospectus in after market transactions in registered securities following a public offering.

Final Rule Stage

CFR Citation: 17 CFR 275.204-2(a); 17 CFR 275.204-2(e)

Legal Deadline: None.

Abstract: Under the books and records rules of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, investment advisers are permitted to advertise but are not required to maintain their advertisements nor the worksheets used to calculate the performance information in advertisements. We are proposing a rule that would require these documents to be kept. If the rule is proposed and adopted, Commission inspectors would be able to examine these advertisements and the worksheets used to calculate performance information in advertisements which would aid the Commission's efforts to eliminate fraudulent and misleading advertisements by investment advisers.

The United States Government Manual 1987/88

As the official handbook of the Federal Government, the Manual is the best source of information on the activities, functions, organization, and principal officials of the agencies of the legislative, judicial, and executive branches. It also includes information on quasi-official agencies and international organizations in which the United States participates.

Particularly helpful for those interested in where to go and who to see about a subject of particular concern is each agency's "Sources of Information" section, which provides addresses and telephone numbers for use in obtaining specifics on consumer activities, contracts and grants, employment, publications and films, and many other areas of citizen interest. The Manual also includes comprehensive name and subject/agency indexes.

Of significant historical interest is Appendix C, which lists the agencies and functions of the Federal Government abolished, transferred, or changed in name subsequent to March 4, 1933.

The Manual is published by the Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Administration.
